VANDELEUR

The Farm Forum met Monday evening at the home of Mr. Andrew Fawcett and considered the five questions assigned for discussion. It was felt that the present crime wave was caused largely by war time conditions. Children in many cases were left without proper supervision while parents were absent. Training for good citizenship should begin in the cradle and continue to the grave. Every effort should be made to provide full time employment, with supervised recreation, and education designed to develop latent talent, with practical lessons in decent and constructive living. It was felt that a few lashes might be better for some offenders than a term in the reformatory.

The Forum agreed that the press and radio should be used to educate people to the necessity of fire prevention and that a law should be passed forbidding parents to leave children in the home unattended. The Forum was also in favor of the closed shop and felt that an 18% increase in wages would not hurt the farmer. Will Ratcliffe presided, Billie Johnston acted as secretary and Myrtle Fawcett was recreation convener. Howard Graham gave a report of the recent co-operative short course in Flesherton. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. Alex Gilray.

Mrs. W. G. Bowles has returned to her home, after spending several weeks in Markdale hospital, where she underwent a critical operation.

Miss Maxine Connell spent the week end with her sister near Ceylon

A number from here attended the co-operative short course last week in Flesherton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMullen, who are moving in the near future to their new home at Portlaw, were presented with a purse of money from their friends and neighbors, at a social evening a dance, held in their honor in the Community Hall Tuesday evening of last week. The Harbottle farm, on wihch the McMullen family have resided, has been sold to Mr. Reid of Meaford, who gets possession this spring.

Miss Hazel Wyville, Reg.N., of Markdale is in attendance at the home of her brother, Gordon, where the family is all sick with the 'flu. Many others in the community have been laid up.

Mrs. Summers Sr., now well over 90, is under the doctor's care.

"Say, what is the matter with that dog of yours? Every time I come near the water cooler he growls?"

"Oh, he won't bother you."

"Then what is he growling about?"

"He is probably a little sore because you drink out of his cup."

Produce More Cream

Do you know that the people of Canada are the greatest butter consumers? With the return of thousands of our servicemen and a low seasonal production of cream, further rationing of butter has been found necessary by our government. We urge our cream patrons to produce more cream to help relieve this national shortage so that substitutes for butter will not find their way on to the market which might endanger the future of cream producers. Therefore, we would urge increased cream production, and where possible increase of dairy herds to help produce more cream. There is good money in producing cream at present prices and steady production will assure you a future market. You are always assured of highest market price for your cream and we will test your cream and pay you with very little waiting.

EGGS

The egg market is very firm. Due to recent storms, we have found it almost impossible to give you quick service as we like to in grading your eggs, as the volume of eggs received on certain days is too great for us to handle, but we are always caught up with our work the following day.

POULTRY

Our prices are very attractive for fatted chickens or fowl. If you have fowl or chickens ready for market, bring them to the creamery. You will be well satisfied.
