Melville Rutledge

(From the Lethbridge Herald)

Funeral services for the late Melville "Mel" Rutledge, railwayman, who died unexpectedly in hospital at Cranbrook July 21st, were held on Thursday from Trinity United Church, Macleod. Rev. Wm. J. Huston conducted the services. A full choir was in attendance and Mrs. A. K. McLean presided at the organ. Beautiful flowers graced the casket and church, received from the family, various organizations and friends. In addition to the relatives present, Mrs. Rutledge; Miss Shirley Rutledge of Macleod and Miss Georgia of Claresholm, daughters; Roy Lethbridge and Robert of Ceylon, Ont., brothers of deceased, and two brothers of Mrs. Rutledge, E. and H. Walker of Spring Point. Supt. Lamb of Lethbridge and Assistant Supt. A. L. Lowe of Macleod, with railwaymen from Cranbrook, the Pass towns, towns on the north line and area northeast were present in large numbers. The MacLeod yards of the C.P.R. were well represented and included Agent L. C. McBride and others, one at least, James Ironfield, having started railroading with deceased 35 years ago at Macleod. The B.P.O.E. Lodge 29, the Macleod branch of the Canadian Legion and Orange Lodge of Lethbridge, of which the deceased was a member were all represented.

Burial followed the service in the Union cemetery. Pallbearers were: Joseph Grier and Peter Parker of the Legion, H. Hamilton and Edward Thompson of the Elks Lodge and Conductor Jack McGregor of Macleod and T. H. Dixon of Cranbrook of the C.P.R.

Deceased, who was a veteran of the first world war, was born 53 years ago at Flesherton, Ont., and 35 years ago commenced as a checker in the Macleod railway yards and worked his way up to conductor. In 1924 he married Miss Irma Walker Spring Point, and their two daughters, Shirley and Georgie, were raised in Macleod, from which the family moved to Nelson, B.C., in November, 1945, after Conductor Rutledge was transferred to that point.

Deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Lethbridge. He was a very popular and well known among railwaymen over a large area and also with the general public, and his untimely passing came as a shock to his family and numerous friends.

Probably the largest funeral held at this point, some fifty cars accompanied the remains to their last resting place and the church was filled to overflowing with sympathetic friends and associates, paying their last respects to one they held in high esteem.
