BOOK OF POEMS BY FORMER PRICEVILLE MINISTER

We were in receipt this week of a book of poems entitled "The Surge of the Tide" written by Rev. C. D. Cox of Bervie, former minister of Priceville United Church. The poems are varied and well composed, making very interesting reading. We are indebted to Rev. Cox for an autographed copy. A copy may be secured at E. J. Fisher's store in Flesherton and no doubt many of his friends at Priceville and Ceylon would like to possess a book of the poems.

HOCKEY NEWS

Flesherton played two games during the past week in the Central Ontario Hockey League and lost both of them, the first on Friday night with Markdale 9-6, and the second Monday night with Shelburne 11-5. Monday night Fred Boyce and Ken Chard each scored two goals and Dan McTavish counted one. Geo. Boyd played this game and was outlucked three times when he hit the goal posts, once drawing Reburn out of the Shelburne nets and then he missed. At times he made the Shelburne players look slow with his plays. If he had been playing all season he would have made a big difference on the offensive play of Flesherton, but he is not in condition yet. Flesherton has lost the five games they have played. A number of the players range in age from 14 to 16 and up, and most of the others have not had a great deal of experience in faster hockey as played in this league, but they will come.

Flesherton plays in Markdale this Friday night with Markdale, and the boys are out to avenge the defeat handed to them Friday night. This is Flesherton's home game. Be on hand to cheer the boys along.

DO "HIGHGATERS" EVER SMILE

Life in the Village of Highgate must have been rather strenuous these past few years. From now on, however, things are going to be different. Village authorities have amended a by-law to the effect that no person shall take part in or encourage the holding of charivaries, false alarms, ring bells, blow horns, or make or cause any unusual noises that will disturb the peace and quiet of the communuity or annoy the inhabitants.

The village council has also taken note of juke boxes and legislated against them. They must not be played after 11 p.m. and not at all on Sundays. Fines for offenses run up to $50 and costs. Do any of the citizens of Highgate smile at all?—London, Ont., Echo.

War changes civilians into soldiers but peace never really changes them back again. — the "army" mind lingers on.

Isolation — something which, if you insist too much upon, you are dragged into a free-for-all in which nobody gets any sort of isolation.

Local and Personal

Rev. A. G. Macpherson was in Toronto on Friday.

Mrs. R. Alexander is spending a week visiting at Collingwood.

Miss Elsie Caswell of Toronto was a week end guest of Mrs. F. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McTavish of Toronto visited his father, Mr. D. McTavish on Sunday.

Miss E. Strutt of Shawville spent a few days last week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. McKillop.

Mr. Clarence Alexander underwent an operation in Collingwood hospital on Thursday last and is making satisfactory improvement.

Mrs. E. C. Brown left Monday for her home at Brighton, after spending the past four months with her mother, Mrs. M. Thistlethwaite.

Mrs. Fred Tyler of Feversham has returned home, after spending the past three weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Torrence Williams, and family.

Mrs. Al. Duxter underwent an operation in Markdale hospital last week. We trust that she may have a complete recovery.

Messrs. John and Will Lawler of London, Ont., visited recently with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lawler.

Congratulations are extended to Messrs. Thos. Taylor and John MacMillan who observed their 84th and 83rd birthdays respectively on Friday January 10th.

Sunday morning in the zero weather several villagers informed us that they had observed the robin which has been making its home in town this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poole and daughter, Grace, of Collingwood visited on Sunday with Mrs. Poole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lawler, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Chard.

The January thaw reached town on Tuesday, after a preview given on Saturday last. (Sunday the temp. was zero.) Tuesday afternoon and evening rain fell and the streets are overflowing with slush and water. The thaw will be a good thing for the farmers, as many farms are suffering with a shortage of drinking water for the stock.

THRIFT DOES NOT PAY

(The Printed Word)

The opinion expressed by Mr. C. Gordon Brodie that thrift is rapidly disappearing as a human motivating force because of the current lack of profiit incentive, will find many people in agreement. One of them, a slide-rule virtuoso, produced the following figures to substantiate Mr. Brodie's contention.

In the twenties, the man who accumulated $20,000 could be sure of an annual of return of $1,200 on his money. It is true that baby bonuses had not yet been invented, that price controls and subsidies were undreamed of, and that the ordinary man had to provide for his own old age. But it is also true that relatively low taxes and a current investment yield of six per cent made the idea of thrift attractive.

It is different in 1946. The man who wants an investment income of $1,200 now requires $48,000 to do the job. This amount must be accumulated at ruinously low interest rates under a heavy burden of taxation.

Today's money rate is from two and a half to three per cent, a long way from the comfortable six per cent of the twenties, and today's taxes make the actual yield even lower. Suppose, for example, that a thrifty citizen earns $4,000 and is fortunate enough to possess investments returning three per cent. After income taxes, the actual yield on these investment will be only 2.16 per cent. If his income is $10,000, his actual investment yield will be only 1.86 per cent, and should he aspire to an income of $20,000, his investment yield will drop to 1.35 per cent after taxes.

These figures speak for themselves. Under the present system of taxation thrift does not pay and the personal initiative that brought prosperity to this country is a useless expenditure of effort.

It was pouring. Two men who had quarreled went out in the rain to settle their differences. They fought until one got the other on his back and held him there.

"Will you give up?" he asked, and the reply was: "No."

After a time the question was repeated, but again the reply was "No."

"Then," said the other, "will you get on top for a while and let me get under? I'm getting soaked."

Recent sleet and wind storms in Niagara and Western Ontario areas, brought down whole sections of both steel-tower and wooden-pole Hydro lines. This picture shows how ice-laden trees and limbs broke, fell across Hydro lines and forced them to the ground.

WINTER RAMPAGE!

When King Winter makes an all-out attack, man can do little but repair the damage as fast as possible. Recent power breaks in Niagara and Western Ontario areas were the direct result of unusual and severe storm conditions.

Because of the flexibility provided by its unified, province-wide organization, Hydro was able to rush emergency repair crews from other parts of Ontario to restore power. Every effort was directed to this end.

To all consumers who suffered in these storm areas, Hydro expresses its thanks and appreciation for their patience and understanding in a difficult and trying situation.

At all times Hydro safeguards service by endeavouring to locate lines free from trees and by tree trimming. Present storm damages illustrate the advisability of these methods.

During this winter period, storms and power shortage present great operating problems for Hydro. Your co-operation in the conserving of power will be of material assistance and much appreciated.
