Osprey To Hire Operator For Township Maintainer

Saturday, Feb. 8th, was a very busy day for the members of Osprey Municipal Council, as owing to it being of somewhat typical weather, it proved difficult for all to be on hand at the the appointed hour of 2 o'clock. Mr. Moore and Mr. Thompson appeared and after a wait of some time Reeve Hale and Mr. McCutcheon made their appearance. As Mr. Buie had sent word that he would be delayed, it was decide that the business would proceed as usual until his arrival, so the minutes and proceedings of the former meeting were read and disposed of, and matters of only general routine were dealt with.

In the interval from the former meeting the salesman of the Adar road maintainer informed the Reeve that the machine would definitely be delivered on or about March 1st. This information called for considerable discussion and it was decided to authorize the Clerk to advertise for applications for an operator.

The Good Roads Association annual gathering will be held in Toronto, so it was decided that the Reeve and Mr. Thompson should attend, especially in view of the fact that the before mentioned maintainer will be on display at that gathering.

Owing to the Assessor not having completed his assessing for the year 1947, it was decided to adopt the 1946 Assessment Roll as the Roll for 1947, an the Clerk was authorized to make and mail by ordinary post all such notices.

The necessary By-law, to provide for the expenditure of money on Township roads was passed for the amount of $20,000.00 and will be sent to the Department of Highways for approval.

The Road Superintendant presented his voucher, amounting to $1598, which was passed and ordered paid.

General accounts to the amount of $254.63 were ordered paid. Council adjourned to again meet Saturday, March 8th, at 2 o'clock p.m.

Risen From The Dead

A "rising from the dead," bordering on the miraculous, has been successfully brought about by a London, England, doctor. According to all the rules of science, one of his patients had died; his heart had ceased to beat and all signs of life were extinct. After 12 minutes had elapsed, the doctor, Dr. Hamilton Bailey, began to massage the patient's heart with his hand. The heart began to function again, its beats became regular once more. The "dead" man is now back at work again without knowing anything about it! The details were not revealed to him, but the facts have been given in the well-known medical journal "The Lancet."

Public Library To Seek Extension To Quarters

Flesherton Public Library Board has appointed a committee to approach the Village Council with a proposal to enlarge the library's quarters in the Town Hall. Increasing demands for new books and fuller use of current periodicals provided by the library will necessitate more shelves and reading room facilities. In co-operation with the Council, the Board hopes to be able to meet these requirements, and to improve greatly the library services offered to the community.

The Board for the current year is composed of Mrs. Geo. Boyd, convener of book committee; Mrs. J. A. Richards, Miss E. Oliver, Rev. A. G. Macpherson; R. B. Heard, treasurer; K. G. Goheen, secretary, and Reeve K. G. Betts.

The book committee is now engaged in making selections for early purchase. Reading patrons can assist the committee in making popular choices by leaving with the librarian the titles and publishers' names of books desired.

Conditions In Germany Described by John W. Cook In A Friendly Hour Address

Speaking before a large gathering at The Friendly Hour in St. John's United Church basement Sunday evening, Mr. John W. Cook of town, gave his audience a word picture of the conditions in Germany as he foundt hem during his ten months in Germany with the Canadian Army Auxiliary Services. Mr. Cook's address occupied an hour's time, but all greatly enjoyed his talk. We give a short review of his remarks.

Mr. Cook remarked that there was no outward manifestation of Nazi rule and the great majority of the common people were untouched by it all, the plots were all hatched in Berlin and Berchtesgarten by the top Nazis. When the stories of the horrors of concentration camps were first given out, the Germans refused to believe it, but later by press reports and special movies of conditions at Belsen, and other camps, were completely dumfounded and amazed. The people learned only what Goebells wished them to know.

Possibly the most demoralizing effect of all was in the educational field, when all old German masters and professors, genuinely talented artists, were driven from schools and replaced by young men, ignorant and egotistical, but enthused with the Nazi doctrine. The old classics were burned, and so a new generation of boys and girls were fast growing up in profound ignorance of the true facts of history, geography and literature. This situation is now being changed before irreparable harm could be done to young minds.

The most outstanding of all things which impressed him was the philosophical, stoical attitude of the people in accepting the conditons of defeat which must have been extremely galling and humiliating, for it was a conquering army and no mistake. Many of the chaps took matters in their own hands and organized small raiding parties of their own in which they held up the people at the point of a gun and literally robbed them of every treasure they possessed. This was, of course, the exception and not the rule and in a very short time such lawlessness was brought under control. He was also impressed with the clean, neat, tidy appearance of houses and dwellings throughout the whole country. The children are quite well disciplened and mannerly, more so than Canadian or American and of the courteous manner in which business is conducted. There was a marked similarity of the emotional attitudes of the people of the better educated classes with that of the American way of life and, except for for the language, very little difference to ourselves.

If any one has had any doubts as to whether the German people have not paid in blood and tears a thousand times for their dangerous experiment in Nazi doctrine of domination and aggression, Mr. Cook assured his audience for all time on that score. He stated we can safely assume that the German people are back about where they were before Hitler came to power, and this time there must be no mistake. It is the joint responsibility of the Great Powers to see that this people are led through the present dark vale of tears upon the right road that will lead in time to a new era of economic prosperity, a new enlightenment in the democratic way of living.

In closing Mr. Cook stated that the occupation was a success. The greatest experiment and task in teaching the democratic ideology was being made, that of tearing down an old order of deeply ingrained ideas, hardened and tempered by centuries of harsh, stern discipline under autocratic and despotic rulers and emperors, to say nothing of the twelve years of Nazi dictatorship, was a tremendous task. The planting of the seeds of a new order is like grafting a piece of the new world, as symbolized by America and Canada, on the trunk of the old.

Vandeleur Farm Forum

(By Vandeleur Reporter)

The Farm Forum met on Monday evening at the home of Jack Hill, with 20 adults and 10 children in attendance and discussed "Future Farm Prices." The Forum felt that farmers should know the price of farm products from 2 to 4 years in advance, and believed that prices could be worked out at conferences between producers and government officials, on the basis of production requirements to meet consumers' needs. They felt, too, that the farmer should, by efficiency in production and co-operative marketing, make his products available at the lowest price economically possible. There was a good discussion on Hydro, and it was unanimously decided to send a petition to the Hydro Commission, demanding that farmers have priority over other services contemplated, except homes for returned men, and also that the power be brought to the farmer's door, the same as in towns and cities.

The committee reported the purchase of a piano for the Community Hall, and also that the resolution re reforestation and wind-breaks was being considered by the Artemesia Township Council.

Some very interesting statistics on "Health" were read by the secretary and literature was distributed for the study of "Credit Unions." The recreation period was followed by lunch by the members, with ice cream and cake by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. Carl Wilson.

BANKS ARE CONSIDERING SATURDAY CLOSING

Canadian banks are considering closing all day Saturday and the government has the matter under advisement. Robert Rae vice-president and general manager of the Dominion Bank said recently.

C. M. Short, chief statistician of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said, however, that it would be difficult for Canadian banks to close on Saturday unless there was widespread closing of business on that day. Moreover, 75 percent of Bank branches were in rural districts, where the busiest day of the week was Saturday, skeleton staffs would have to be kept on.
