Mild Weather Brings Maple Syrup Season

Several warm days last week took down the high snow banks several feet, but the plows have not been able to widen the travelled part of the highways to any great extent. Saturday evening another storm hit this section and the No. 10 Highway was again blocked (which wasn't hard to do) and the hockey games between Shelburne and Markdale had to be postponed. Sunday evening the plows finally had the road open for motor traffic.

Maple syrup makers are now making final preparations for their annual task. Several farmers tapped last week and reported a fair flow. It is expected that syrup making will be in full flow next week.

Two Local Men Decide To Race On Skates

A matched skating race has been decided by Messrs. Mark Wilson and Alex. Henderson prove their claims of invincibility on skates. Each has put up $10.00 in cash to support their own cause. Howard Milligan holds the stakes (a risky thing, that), and Barney Welton is the promoter of the show, when and if it comes off, and he is to secure the ice for the race. Neither contestant has done very much on skates during the past twenty years, but no doubt they know how. While it might just be barber shop talk, the men appeared to be very serious in their claims.

Local Man Loses Articles Taken From Hotel Room

Provincial Police are on the lookout for a man who stayed at the Park Hotel Monday night and before leaving Tuesday morning allegedly decked himself out in raiment owned by Mr. Harry Fellow, who is the chef at the hotel. Among the loot taken were socks, new shoes, rubbers and a new shirt. Harry grieved over the loss of his new shirt more than anything else. Description of the man, who gave his name as Roy Brown of Owen Sound, have been sent out by the police. The cast-off clothing was left in place of the nefly-acquired raiment.

REMOVE CAR STICKERS

Provincial Constable Harold Black wishes us to inform the public that all gasoline ration and other stickers on windshields are to be removed at once. These stickers have a tendancy to obscure the vision of car drivers and removal is thought wise by Ontario Provincial Pdlice.

Salvation Army Looking After Norman Tackaberry

Norman Tackaberry, well known throughout this entire district as a solicitor for farm papers, has been the centre of controversy between Grey County and Dufferin County officials during the past few weeks. Norman spent 19 months in the Orangeville hospital and came back last fall to the home of Mr. Luther Duckett, west backline, Artemesia, where he had made his home off and on for the past few years. He went back on subscription work and before Christmas took ill with heart trouble. The middle of January he went back to the hospital, but it was full and he was taken to the jail at Orangeville, where he remained for some weeks. He was brought to the Grey County Home at Markdale by Grey officials, but when they found there was a $1,000.00 tag on him for hospital treatment, they refused him admittance and he was taken back to the Orangeville jail.

Those who know Norman and his happy disposition will realize that he is making the best of the situation and does not blame any person for the situation he is in. When able to work Norman always paid his way and was no panhandler, giving value for everything he received. Jail was no place for him in his present condition. The Salvation Army from Toronto became interested in the case and took him to their hostel in Toronto last week, where he will be given attention. Norman was a member of the Orangeville lacrosse team when they were at the height of their glory a few years ago.

It is just in such cases where we think that a change should be made in the Ontario regulations regarding the care of indigents. Why they should be kicked around from pillar to post without care is beyond us. When these things occur to those whom we know well, we realize the inequality of the regulations as cover cases of this kind, where a person has resided in this province all his life, with no definite place of habitation, becomes ill and there is no place where he can call home. He originally came from the Thornbury district.

Mathewson, and commenced farming on the South Line of Artemesia, where they lived for twenty-eight years At that time they moved to a smaller farm on the O.D.R., where they lived until they retired two years ago and moved to Flesherton. The Late George Lawler

The funeral of the late George Lawler, who passed away at his home in Flesherton on Tuesday evening, March 11th, was held on Friday afternoon, with service in St. Mary's Church, Maxwell, at 3 o'clock p.m. Rev. W. Bradbury, Rector of St. Mary's Church, taking the service. Interment was made in Flesherton Cemetery Chapel.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. D Genoe, Wm. Seeley, F. J. Seeley, T Genoe, Garnet Magee and Jas. A Davidson.

Among the beautiful floral tributes were tokens of sympathy from Flesherton neighbors, 8th Line neighbors and St. Mary's Anglican church, and were carried by the grandchildren, Bill, Ken and Wallace Thomson, Stan and Wes Lawler, Mabel Chard, and Grace Poole.

Among those attending from a distance, besides the family, were John and Wm. Lawler of London.

The late Mr. Lawler was born at Kildare, Que., on September 20, 1869, the son of John Lawler and Margaret Goodfellow and when he was 19 years of age he came with his parents in 1888 and settled on the 8th Line, Artemesia, on the farm now occupied by Mr. Gerald Magee. He was married on February 18th, 1894, to Miss Alice Maud Carr, third child of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Carr. They resided on the farm which he took over from his parents for 25 years, spent five years in Maxwell and for five years resided on the Inkster farm on the 8th Line, Osprey. He retired from farming in 1939 and came to reside in Flesherton last October. The late Mr. Lawler was of a quiet disposition and highly regarded as a man and neighbor. For the past four years Mr. Lawler had not been enjoying good health, but was able to be downstairs each day. He went to his room to rest early in the afternoon and did not desire any supper. About 6:45 p.m., his grandson, Wes. Lawler, went to his room to see how he was feeling and found him laboring for breath. He went for the doctor and when Mrs. Lawler went up immediately to see him, found that he had passed away.

Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves four daughters and two sons: Zaida (Mrs. M. Irwin), Windsor; Lillian (Mrs. Walter Poole), Collingwood; Mable (Mrs. Leslie Chard), Flesherton; Allie (Mrs. Neil Thomson), Singhampton; Walter, of Maxwell and Arthur of Durham.

Your RED CROSS help is needed !

In frontier districts of Canada the nearest hospital or doctor may be a hundred miles or more away. Over twenty years ago the Red Cross began establishing outpost hospitals and nursing stations in these remote regions. Today a whole chain of Outpost Hospitals can be found in the frontier districts of the Dominion. They bring medical science within reach of these isolated communities. Hundreds of thousands of patients have been treated in these tiny hospitals, including thousands of confinement cases. These hospitals also serve as health centres for their communities, carrying on medical inspection in the schools and organizing clinics for the children. Your help is needed to maintain and expand this vital work. Stand behind the Red Cross, and help bring medical aid to your fellow-Canadians pioneering on Canada's frontiers. Give NOW . . . give generously.

WHO OWNS the Bell?

The typical owner is a woman. She lives in Canada and she owns slightly more than ten shares in the business.

At the end of 1946 there were 28,840 owners—a record total. Ninety-five out of every hundred live in Canada. They come from all walks of life, from every Province, and own more than three-quarters of all the shares of stock.

Today, after sixty-seven years of service, more of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada is owned by Canadians than at any time in its history.
