Intend To Purchase Steel Wagon For Water Tank

The Village Council intends to purchase a new steel wagon to draw the water tank used in fire fighting, the frame to be mounted on rubber. The old wooden wagon is not now suitable for the purpose for which it was intended. The new equipment will be hitched to the rear of the fire truck and taken to the fire, thereby having plenty of water on hand at once. A special meeting of the Council will be held next Monday evening to receive tenders and deal with the matter.

Pioneer Life In Miniature

An exhibition of objects connected with Pioneer Life in Ontario, represented in exact models on the scale of one inch to the foot, has been opened at the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology. These models are the work of J. McNeeley McCrea of Toronto, who has been making them since 1935. Mr. McCrea was born and brought up in Ontario, and his family with the old buildings of the Province and the types of furniture and farm equipment used by the early settlers. He intends to put his knowledge of the subject into a book to be called: "THE WOODEN AGE IN OLD ONTARIO," but he feels that the models can be used to give an understanding and appreciation of pioneer problems and the courage and ingenuity used in overcoming them. The range of models is very comprehensive and shows log and frame dwellings. a shoemaker's shop a carpenter's shop, a school house. a sugar camp complete with equipment, innumerable objects used in farming and various trades, and even typical bridges and fences. Stump-pullers an stone-lifters are shown, a tiny spinning wheel that can spin wool, a horse-drawn circular saw as used by the pioneer carpenter, and everything necessary to manufacture hand-made shingles.

Although it was not possible to include every variety of implement and equipment, representative types have been chosen, and it can be said that the exhibition contains an exact representation in miniature of almost everything needed in the way of tools and equipment by the early settlers, and may be considered as being a cross-section of Ontario pioneer life.

Model-making is a labor of love with Mr. McCrea, who has never yet sold a model, and wishes them to be used for educational purposes only, as a permanent memorial to the early days in Ontario.

The Danger Of Inflation

It is easy to find observers and politically minded people of all occupations to tell you something of the cause of the present ecomic "crisis" in Britian which is sausing so much concern and disloration in other countries. Most agree that a measure of world wide inflation has greatly increased Britain's expenditures and limited her purchase of badly needed machinery and other "capital goods".

It is obvious that the greatest impediment to the control of inflation comes from the action of varions kinds of "pressure groups" each intent on the solution of their own special problem. The most powerful and dangerous pressure groups are, of course, "socialistic" planners who attempt to plan on a national basis. Many claim that, while half of Britain's troubles are due to world difficulties beyond her control, the other half are due to the failure of the British government to plan her own affairs wisely.

Worry does a swell job of getting you nothing—and more of the same.

Dundalk Take Game At Home By 10 - 8 Score

Dundalk defeated Eugenia Trout Kings 10-8 in the first of fithe final play-off games at Dundalk Friday evening last, before a very good crowd. The game was marred by too many errors, Eugenia having five and Dundalk four. Each team had eight hits, but Bemrose gave four walks, both scoring, and McKenzie for Dundalk did not give any away. Bemrose had a shade the better of the argument in the strike-outs, having five to his credit, and McKenzie four. It was a good game to watch.

Dundalk started out strongly and shoved over two runs in the first and one in the second. two in the fourth and one in the fifth, Springgay hit a homer into centre field for the only run, but in the sixth they added four more on two hits and an error, to end the scoring.

Les Seeley started the scoring for Eugenia when he hit a three-bagger in the second and Russ Johnson hit and reached first on an error, Seeley scoring. In the fifth inning they tied up the score when Russell hit with one down, Bemrose bunted and Russell went to second. Boyce struck out Art Porctor hit to centre field and Russell scored and Doug Cairns got to first on an error by Dundalk first-baseman, scoring Bemrose and again Seeley came through with another three base hit, scoring Proctor and Cairns, Johnson was out second to first. Then in the seventh inning they made another rally, scoring three runs by Proctor, Seeley and Johnson on two hits, one a three-base affair by Johnson, and a dropped ball by the right fielder, and Breadner was an easy out on a grounder to first.

This looks as though it would be good series, as there is not much to choose between the two teams. They were tied for the league leadership and Dundalk won the pay-off game.

An unfortunate occurrence marred the game in the second inning when Oscar Stafford received a fractured cheek bone when he overran second base and when he dived back to the base his face hit on the knee of one of the Eugenia players. He continued in the game despite considerable pain and on Saturday morning went to Orangeville hospital, where the injury was discovered. He hope that Oscar will be able to play the remaining games, as he is a splendid player and Dundalk would miss him.

Score by innings:

Eugenia	—	0	1	0	0	4	0	3	— 8
Dundalk	—	2	1	0	2	1	4	x	— 10

Dundalk—Haw, Stafford, McKenzie, Springgay, Aitcheson, Bradley, Grummett, Scilley, Arnil.

Eugenia—F. Boyce, A. Proctor, D. Cairns, L. Seeley, R. Johnson, G. Breadner, D. Campbell, L. Russell, T. Bemrose.

TORONTO SALVATION ARMY BAND HERE SATURDAY

North Toronto Salvation Army 33-piec Silver Band will be in Flesherton this Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to present a musical festival for one hour. This visit is under the auspices of the Owen Sound Salvation Army citadel. No doubt there will be a large crowd on hand Saturday afternoon to hear this splendid silver hand under the direction of Band maser Arnold Brown.

Unnecessary Advice

Perhaps it is because Canada is a small country that so many visitors abroad feel that they should advise us to copy some other country. In any case we Canadians continually find it necessary to subdue our resentment and speak kindly to our visitors. Last week James Crawford, a labour (socialist) M. P. from Britain said in Toronto that Britain's troubles which include a reduced standard of living for her people, came from the failure of her former allies to help her carry her burdens.

Another socialist, Morgan Phillips, asked Canadians to accept socialist (C. C. F.) rule so that all Empire countries would be under socialist domination. As Canadians enjoy the highest per capita income and greatest prosperity of all empire countries one is inclined to wonder at the arrogance of those from other countries who would ask us to give up the advantages we have.

Dundalk Took Advantage Eugenia Errors, Won 10-9

Eugenia outhit Dundalk in the second game of the series Monday evening ot Eugenia, but errors paved the way for their downfall, when Dundalk eked out a one run advantage by the score of 10-9. Eugenia had 12 hits to Dundalk's 9, but they had 7 errors and Dundalk 3. Tom Bemrose, Eugenia pitcher, did not give a walk and struck out 3, while Jack McKenzie, Dundalk pitcher, gave one walk and struck out three. Eugenia scored four runs in the first. one in the second, two in the fourth and with Dundalk leading 10-7 in the seventh inning, Eugenia scored two runs and had the tieing run on third and one out, when Russell flied out to the short stop and Bemrose was out on called strikes, after he had the count 3 and 2 in his favor.

Dundalk came right back in the second inning and tied the score with four runs, added another in the third, three in the fifth and two in the sixth and in the seventh had runners on first and second with two down. when Haw hit a high fly to Bob Clark in right field and the threat was stopped. Bob had a perfect day in the field handling six chances easily. Bus Springgay's big bat was in the forefront with a three-base hit and a home run. Russ Johnson was Eugenia's best batter, having three hits at four times up, in fact he was the best on either team. We might say here that Russ made the best catch we have seen for some time, when he leaned his six foot height over the fence and speared Grummett's high foul fly for the first out in the seventh and overbalanced to land on his back on the other side with the ball still clutched in his hand.

Score by innings:

Dundalk	—	0	4	1	0	3	2	0	— 10
Eugenia	—	4	1	0	2	0	0	2	— 9

Dundalk — Haw, McKenzie, Heard, Springgay, Aitcheson, Grummett, Bradley, Scilley, Arnil.

Eugenia—A. Proctor. D. Campbell, D. Cairn, R. Johnson, F. Boyce, R. Clark, L. Seeley, L. Russell, T. Bemrose. Breadner batted for Proctor in the sixth.

Wild Carrot Is Named The "Worst Offender"

Of all the weeds growing along the roadsides, fencelines and in pasture fields of Onario, wild carrot is one of the worst offenders. It is a biennial with a tap root and produces only a small plant and no bloom the first year. The second year it grows two to four feet high and produces several clusters or umbels of small white flowers. These flowers are often referred to as Queen Ann's Lace. It begins flowering about the middle of July and continues until September.

Wild carrot produces a copious supply of seed, which is spread by wind, water and animals, as well as an impurity in clover and grass seed. After the flower cluster or umbel has begun to mature, it forms a cup-shaped cavity which is full of green seed. However, even if the plant is cut down at this stage, many seeds will continue to mature.

Wild carrot will not become a serious problem in land where a short rotation of crops is practised. Do not leave a field down to sod for more than two or three years.

Where only an occasional plant is present. hand pull them to prevent seeding. However, where this weed has taken possession of many miles of roadside it becomes a serious problem. Mowing and scything this weed results in it shooting up numerous short stalks and in a few weeks all this work is undone. To effectively control and eventually eradicate wild carrot from roadsides and fence-lines spraying with a chemical weed killer killer is recommended.

Success is what you have when you make a fortune. Luck is what the other fellow has.

If some of us practiced all we preached, we'd work ourselves to death.
