A Message of Importance

to Cream Producers

Since Ceram is an exceptionally good price, it is worth-while to maintain the maximum production of your dairy herd. Nothing will cut produrtion more sharply than the producing cows being left out during the unexpected cold nights. It is, therefore, advisable to stable the milch cows at night from now on.

Poultry

We are in the market for large quantities of poultry. We buy them alive or dressed, or do custom killing.

HAMIL—LARGE

Lighted tapers in wrought iron candelabra cast a lovely glow forming the setting with standards of chrysanthemums and graceful ferns for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Harriet Jean Large and Mr. William Alexander Hamill at Lundy's Lane United Church. The three o'clock cermony was preformed by the minister, Rev. S. B. Stokes. White heather, tied with tulle bows marked the guest pews.

Lillian White Koch was the soloist and was accompanied by Miss Marion Fischer who played the wedding music. Mrs. Koch sang "Calm as the Night" and "I Love Thee."

The charming bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty portrait gown of ivory slipper satin. The net yoke with guipure lace, formed an off-the-shoulder neckline. The gown, fashioned on princess lines was made with a fitted bodice falling into a softly-draped skirt, forming a slight train. Buttons extended down the back of the gown and the long sleeves formed points over her hands. Her veil of embroidered net was caught to her head with a halo of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of Killarney roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelery was a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Kenneth Large attended the bride as matron of honour wearing a gown of gold corded taffeta, made on princess lines, with a net yoke forming a round neckline. The skirt, made with a bustle back fell into a slight train. She carried a bouquet of gold and white chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Paddy Lou Woodley, wore emerald green silk jersey and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Large, was dressed in lime green silk jersey. Their gowns were styled alike on princess lines with round Peter Pan collars buttoned down the back, cap sleeves and full skirts. They carried Colonial bouquets of baby chrysanthemums in pink, gold and white.

All wore halo headdresses of lace petals with ostrich plume trim to match their gowns with lace mittens in the same shade.

The flower girl, little Miss Karen Large, was prettily gowned in pale pink taffeta and carried a Colonial bouquet of white and sweetheart roses. Her headdress was a Juliet cap of rosebuds.

Mr. Thomas Hamill was the best man and Messrs. Frank Large, Philip Lowery and Edwin Beaupit were the ushers.

A reception for one hundred and seventy-five guests was held in the church parlors after the ceremony Before a lovely background of Autumn flowers decorating the rooms, Mrs. Large received with the bridal party, wearing a turquoise blue gabardine frock made with a tunic trimmed with silver embroidery. The groom's mother assisted in receiving and wore a pearl mist grey crepe two-piece dress. Both wore black accessories and rosebud corsages.

The lace-covered bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with tiny pink rosebuds. White tapers in silver candelabra were arranged on either side.

A navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of Talisman rosebuds was worn by the bride for travelling. After a wedding trip to Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Boston, Mass., Rhode Island and New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Hamill will reside in Niagara Falls.

Out-of-town guests were present from Toronto, Leamington, Windsor, Woodstock, Flesherton, St. Catherines, Thorold, Buffalo, Tonawanda, N.Y., and Nashville, Tenn.

TROUSSEAU TEA

The lovely floral arrangements were carried out in pink, yellow and lime green when Mrs. J. E. Large entertained at a trousseau tea from seven until ten-thirty o'clock at her Corwin Avenue home for her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Harriett Jean Large. Mrs. Large received her guests wearing a smart two-piece dress of taupe silk jersey, with a pink gladioli floret corsage. Assisting her mother in receiving, the bride-elect chose a lovely frock in lime green embroidered silk jersey with a single American Beauty rosebud corsage. Little Miss Jeannette Large opened the door for the guests and Mrs. Lawrence Little was in charge of the guest book. The tea table, covered with an exquisite lace cloth, was centred with pink gladioli and fern in a silver basket arranged on a silver tray, flanked by ivory tapers in silver candelabra. The candle-lighted dining room was the gracious setting where Mrs. William Hamill, Mrs. Benjamin Whistler Mrs. Isaac Trask and Mrs. Donald Bracken poured tea. Mrs. Frederick Timms and Mrs. Kenneth Large assisted in serving. Lillian White Koch of Niagara Falls, N.Y., invited the guests into the tea room. Directing the guests to the upstairs rooms, where the gifts and trousseau were shown. was Miss Barbara Large. Mrs. W. Herrrington and Miss Paddy Lou Woodley were in charge of the trousseau and Misses Marion Fischer and Betty Barr of the gifts. Out-of-town guests were present from Buffalo, Tonawanda, Niagara Falls, N. Y., St. Catherines, Welland and Thorold.

With graceful feet. a maiden sweet was tripping the light fantastic;
Then she suddenly tore for the dressing room door.
You can't trust this war-time elastic.

Mrs. Mary McPhail Passes

(By Priceville Reporter)

This community was saddened on Thursday when it was learned of the death of Mrs. Mary McPhail, which occurred that morning in Durham Hospital, where she had spent the past eight weeks, at the age of 76 years.

The late Mrs. McPhail was formerly Mary McCormick, daughter of the late Archie and Christena McCormick and was born in Bentinck Township. In 1908 she was married to Hugh McPhail, who predeceased her by 13 years. Deceased was of a kind and cheerful disposition and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She was a member of St. Andrew's Church and always attended when health permitted. She will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended by friends and neighbors, who came to pay their last tribute of respect to one who was known so well. A short service was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elwood Kinsman, in Priceville, followed by a public service in St. Andrew's Church. Mr. Kenneth Matthews of Toronto, student minister here, had charge of the service and gave a comforting message. Interment was made in McNeil's Cemetery.

The late Mrs. McPhail leaves to mourn her passing three daughters Mamie, Mrs. E. Kinsman; Margaret, Mrs. Roy McDermid; Florence, Toronto and one son, Archie of Priceville; also four sisters: Isabelle and Sarah McCormick, Durham; Mrs. A. McEachern, Toronto, and Mrs. Hector McEachern, Priceville; and three brothers, Hugh and Donald, Durham, and Angus of Port Arthur.

The pallbearers were old neighbors, Norman McIntyre, Lachie McKinnon, Wm. Mather, John McEachern, Hector and Archie McDonald.

Friends attended the funeral from Toronto, Dornoch, Walkerton, Durham and other outside towns.
