HAIR-RAISING HOPES

Advertising wasn't always as aggressive and unabashed as it is today. Some fifty years ago the following ad appeared in an American newspaper: "The public is kindly requested to buy this tooth brush the 'Universal Whitener.' It is neither better nor cheaper than most of the others in my store . . . but I think it is just as good as any of them and I particularly recommend it because it is made by my nephew, who is a very deserving young man and hopes to be married soon on the strength of it."

The captain of the ship once wrote in his log, "Mate was drunk to-day."

When the Mate became normal, he was terribly chagrined and angry; he pleaded with the Captain to strike out the record; he declared that he would never been drunk before, and that he would never drink again. But the Captain said, "In this log we write the exact truth."

The next week the Mate kept the log, and in it he wrote, "The Captain was sober to-day."

Editor And Wife Were 25 Years Married Sunday

The editor and his good wife observed the 25th anniversary of their wedding quietly at their home on Sunday. In looking back to that far-off day, we are reminded that time is fleeting for us, and that it was not so long ago, either. We were pleasontly surprised by a purs of silver dollars presented to us by were pleasantly surprised and greatly appreciative of a purse of silver dollars presnted by our sons. We are reminded of a joke we read recently when a married couple were reminiscing and the husband said "Do you know, honey, who I would marry if I had it to do over again?" "No who?" "You," was the reply. "Oh, no you wouldn't," was the answer. However, we don't know how our little woman has put up with us for the past quarter century, but maybe it has been good training for us in order for us to reach the end of the next 25 years.

McWilliam - Wettig

(By Ceylon Reporter)

Macpherson officiated at the marriage of Esther Julia, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Wittig and the late Mr. Wittig of Calgary, Alta., and Joseph John McWilliam, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John McWilliam of Ceylon.

The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of ivory pink satin with finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart rose buds and 'mums. Miss Nancy McWillam, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of turquoise blue sheer, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and 'mums. Mr. Chas. Wise Men Will Buy Their Seed Early

A good crop of seed was produced in 1947, but the demands upon it will be exceptional. Farmers have learned the value of good seed and its importance in crop production. That in itself has increased the demand tremendously. Moreover, because of price incentive and the extreme need the production program in 1948 will be an all-out one and it will send farmers hither and yon in search of seed stocks. Finally, poor crops in many areas, both east and west, have created an unusual condition, forcing many growers to purchase seed for next spring, when ordinarily they would have enough and to spare.

There is, likewise, a big demand for seed across the border, especially for northern grown seed stocks, and the movement is a bit more free this year. The grower is held, must be permitted to market his goods. If they are not wanted by Canadian farmers they will be exported and that movement will take place during the winter months so the producers of good seed will not be left with product on their hands when seeding is done.

It is not only wise but essential that farmers needing seed this spring should act soon and make their purchases at an early date.
