Flesherton Pastoral Charge Is Unchanged

Contrary to expectations, Grey Presbytery of the United Church has decided to leave the church boundaries in Flesherton district unchanged, for the time being at least. This means that the Flesherton charge will continue to include Eugenia, Inistioge, and Proton Station, with 300 families under pastoral care. Mr. Geo. H. Cairns told Presbytery at its meeting that the decision was disappointing and that the question would have to be re-opened later.

A woman's final decision seldom tallies with the one immediately following it.

EUGENIA AGAIN LEADS WITH LARGE TROUT

Eugenia Hydro pond again led the field in the number of fish winning in the Slater Fishing Contest which each year marks the opening of the speckled trout fiishing in Grey and Bruce Counties. Mr. Ernie Proctor of Eugenia was winner of first prize and the complete camping outfit. W. Pinkerton of the 8th line, Artemesia took second prize and a fly rod with a fish three pounds one ounce, three ounces smaller than the winner, D. Bovell of Meaford took third, Mr. Garhartt of Clarkson, fourth, (all the above fish were caught at Eugenia), and Norman Hartley, Markdale fifth caught in Williams Lake. In the junior competition, three of the four prize winners were taken at Eugenia, the fourth prize going to Earl McIntosh of Eugenia. Earl's father won first prize and the fly rod a few years ago and his sister, Alberta, took a prize last year.

The fiishing derby was a great success, judged by the number of fisherman who came in from distant points for the two days of fishing. It was estimated that 1,500 fishermen were in Grey County for the week end, as all hotels, cabins, etc., were filled to capacity, some having to go to Thornbury to receive accommodation. The bridge at the 8th line and parts of the fill and the top of the dam at Eugenia were lined with ardent fisherman who braved the cold and discomfort in an effort to bring the largest finny members from the depths of the pond. During daylight hours fishermen spread out all through the area and tried all the streams in an effort to take home some evidence of their fishing trip. Thus a large number of small fish would be taken from the streams. The weather was not ideal for fishing, with a raw north wind blowing the entire week end and frost was in evidence Saturday morning.

Many fishermen, however did not take in the derby, as they like quiet when they fish, and the week ends from now on will be fisherman enjoying their summer sport and communing with nature (especially with the mosquitoes present).

Prevention The Best Of Fire-Fighters

Because of the many difficulties of providing adequate fire protection to rural districts, fire prevention on farms is important. Most farm fires occur in the more expensive buildings, the dwelling or barns which often represent 50 per cent of the total investment. Defective chimneys, flues and heating, defective roofs and defective electrical installations, and gas and kerosene stoves, cause many of the fires involving farm homes. Most of the fires arising from these causes are preventable by periodic inspection, and replacement of faulty equipment.

Spontaneous combustion lightning, defective electrical installations, and faulty storm lamps are among the greatest hazards in barns. Barns can be male relatively safe with efficient lightning protection, and spontaneous combustion can be reduced to a minimum by not mowing hay or storing grain which is too damp.

PHILLIPS — CROFT

A quiet but pretty weddding took place in the vestry of St. James Baptist Church, Hamilton, on April 24th, at 2:30 p.m., when Edna May, youngest daughter of Mrs. Harry Patton and the late Robt. J. Croft, Flesherton, became the bride of Gordon Douglas, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Phillips, of Douglastown, N.B. Rev. P. P. W. Zieman officiated at the ceremony.

The bride looked charming in a brown gabardine suit with sheer blouse, brown hat, with matching accessories. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Miss Edna Bennett, friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a grey suit, grey hat with touches of pink, and her corsage was pink carnations. Mr. Wes Henderson of Hamilton was best man. A wedding dinner was served at the "Grange" for the bride and groom and their attendants.

After a short honeymoon to London, the happy couple will make their home in Hamilton.

The Forgotten Voters

With a provincial election scheduled in June, Hanover citizens will now probably get glimpses of their member of the legislature and any opposing candidates. Hanover is certainly the forgotten municipality as far as Dominion or Provincial politicians are concerned. We read about the fine grants for hospital, highway, bridge, community centre and what have you, other municipalities have received from the province but to date, we haven't noticed much drifting into Hanover, on the wings of any project, although we have paid our share of the taxes for others' benefits.

However, people get pretty much what they go after, so it's our own fault — or is it?

The greatest threat to democracy today in Hanover and in Ontario is public apathy. Half of our population seems politically uninformed, immature, irresponsible and indifferen.

Let us all take this coming election seriously, as thinking individuals concerned in the government of the finest province, in the finest country in the world.

If every one would do so, we could provide ourselves with the best government in the world. — Hanover ferent.

To The Electors of South Grey

At a recent convention held in Durham, I was endorsed as the Progressive Conservative Candidate to contest the Riding of South Grey in the forthcoming Provincial election in June of this year.

During the intervening weeks, I hope to have the opportunity of discussing with you, the many issues of current interest, not only as they apply to the Province as a whole, but to this Riding of South Grey in particular.

In this campaign we have in common, a healthy respect for the efficient and business-like administration of the Drew Government, and it is My firm conviction that our mutual interests will be best served by giving this Government our whole-hearted support.
