SEPTEMBER

ISSUE MISSING

VOL. 68; NO. 15

Freedom Has Its Own Price

Sometimes, as we remember vast measures of social security that we have undertaken with so much enthusiasm and so little apparent consideration, we are led to question the all-wisdom of government. One treads on dangerous ground in so much as questioning anything that can be designated by the impressive word "security." But men have questioned it; have questioned whether we can pay too much for it. Robinson Jeffers' warning should not be overlooked: "Man should love freedom more than security; he cannot have both. He must accept pain as the price of freedom."

A New York magician complains of the absence of new tricks. How about trying to pull lower prices out of a hat, boys.

Future Events

HARVEST HOME SERVICES ANGLICAN CHURCH

Annual Harvest Home Services at the Church of England, on Sunday, Sept. 12th — St. Mary's Maxwell, at 3 p.m.; at St. Paul's, Melancthon, at 11 a.m.; at St. James' Dundalk, at 7 p.m. Preacher: Mr. H. F. Southcott, B.A. Special music. All are welcome.

W.I. FOWL SUPPER

The Flesherton Women's Institute plans to hold a fowl supper on Tues., October 26th. Keep this date in mind and watch for further announcement.

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT DUNDALK FAIR

Thursday, Sept. 16th. Harness Races: open and 2:27 classes. Running and Pony Races; Calf Club (20 entries); free admission to school children in parade. Pipe Band in attendance. Concert and Dance at night. A. D. McAlister, President; Herb Corbttt, Secretary.

The Home of . .
Tasty Baki

PIES
CHERRY
DATE
RAISIN
FRESH APPLE

Specials This CAKES — Golden Cocoanut a also
Apple Sauce Turnovers
Date Squares Coc

Scarrow's B
Phone 60

Our Cha
is at the osal of our clientele
ns well-appointed fami
g organ and organist.
Bates and Ma
FUNERAL CH
124 Avenue Rd