A Communist orator was holding forth in Hyde Park, London, and was promising great things to his listeners "when the Day of Freedom comes." Having finished his speech he noticed an old derelict on the fringe of the crowd leaning on his bicycle and smoking a cigaret. He pointed his finger at him and commenced as follows:

Commie. — And you, my friend, when the day of freedom comes, will be riding around in a Rolls-Royce, wearing a tall silk hat and a fat cigar in your mouth.

Victim—Ah, I don't know as I care for cigars I'd rawther have me fag.

Commie. — Alright, when the day of freedom comes, you will be riding around in a Rolls-Royce with a tall silk hat and your fag.

Victim—Ah, I dunno as I want a silk hat. I'd sooner have me cap.

Commie. Slightly nettled — Alright, when the day of freedom comes, you will be riding around in a Rolls-Royce with your cap and bag.

Victim—Ah, I cawnt' say as I care about a automobile; I'd sooner have me bike.

Commie.—Look here, you, when the day of freedom come you'll darn well do as you please.

Markdale Standard Sold

Last week's Markdale Standard announced the sale of the newspaper to Mr. R. Gordon Craig of Ingersoll, who took possession on Monday of this week. We welcome Mr. Craig to journalism in Grey County and wish him the best of success. Ie was with regret that we learned the editor of The Standard since 1945, Jack Colgan, had to retire on account of ill health. Jack had not had the best of health for the past couple of years and while he was away Mrs. Colgan carried on in an able manner. The former owner took over on the death of his father, the late A. E. Colgan, in January, 1945, and had previously been associated with him at Markdale for over 20 years. The editor of The Advance had enjoyed the associations with the Colgan family during that time and our best wishes go with Jack on a complete return to good health.

Insurance Agent: "What did your grandparents die of?"

Ezra: "I don't recolect; but twar not nothin' serious."

Toronto Men Fight At Maxwell; Court Friday

Three hoddlums from Toronto created a disturbance at Maxwell on Saturday evening, about seven p.m., that was a disgrace to any young person to commit. As Warren Morrison was entering the Grummett store he was set upon by three men and hit several times. They were all taller than he, but Warren waded in when the crisis came and was assistidson and Mel Sled, and when odds went against them the men left and went east in their car. While the fracas was under way, Constable H. A. Black of Flesherton was called and dispite a hurried trip to Maxwell, his quarry had disappeared but the license number of the car was secured. Warren had never seen the men before and had no idea why they should make such an attack.

Constable Black's car radio broadcast the information and the police in North York were waiting and the culprits will appear in court at Markdale this Friday on a charge of assault occasioning bodily harm.

EUGENIA BOY WINS BY A HEAD

(Oakville Star)

Mr. W. A. Martin of the Halton Beauty Salon, played hookey from his shop to attend the annual hairdresser convention and trade exhibition held recently at the Royal York in Toronto. It was pretty good hookey, evidently, because Mr. Martin snared first prize in the hair shaping competition; won the proficiency award in permanent waving, also a trophy for hair styling. Nice headwork, we call it!

[Editor's Note: Mr. Martin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Martin of Eugenia.]

Vandeleur Community Windbreak Extended

The second community reforestation plot and windbreak to be planted in this neighborhood, was started on Friday morning, April 22nd. Mr. J. C. Jackson of Owen Sound, zone forester for Grey and Bruce, and Mr. Bailey of the Forestry Dept. in Toronto, were present to see the the project started, and both addressed the planters, consisting of a dozen men and several children. Mr. Jackson told many things about reforestationn regard to reforestation and gave instructions about planting, answering many questions. He then dug a hole and Ruth Graham, the only girl present, had the honor of planting the first tree. Mr. Bailey stated that the Department now had mechanical planters that would plant over forty thousand trees a day. The plot is about 40 rods long and 4 rods wide, and is situated along the Meaford Road, south of the planting made last year. Both plots were purchased from Mrs. Ethel Hutchinson.

In Memoriam

PARTRIDGE — In memory of our father and mother, Alfred and Mary Partridge, who passed away Jan. 24, 1945, and May 7, 1942, respectively.

Not dead but passed beyond
The mist that finds us here,
Into the newer, larger life,
Of that unclouded sphere.

—Sadly missed by the Family, Elwood, Leta, Kenneth and Lloyd.

BIG FISH AGAIN CAUGHT AT EUGENIA

Eugenia Hydro Lake again came into its own by supplying the first prize fish in the senior and junior competition for speckled trout in Grey and Bruce Counties, conducted by Mr. Frank Slater of Owen Sound. Fishermen flocked in from all centres in Ontario and had a lovely week end for a holiday, but the catches of fish were not large, although quality was good. Only one prize winner came from this district, with Donald Sinclair of Ceylon taking first prize in the junior class with a 2 lb., 15 oz. trout, winning the fine balloon-tire bicycle.

Jas. Law of Bartonville won first prize in the senior competition with a 19-inch beauty that weighed three pounds ten ounces, caught at Eugenia. Second was Lorne Gordon of Galt, caught at Eugenia; third went to "Ric" McFaul of Owen Sound, his being caught in Williams Lake, as was the fourth prize by Zoli Petrany of Guelph and fifth was caught by Robt. Wilcox of Toronto, with a two pound, 11 ounce fish captured at Best's pond in Flesherton.

The first prize winner was given the following as trophies of his luck or ability: 16-gauge shotgun, a .22 calibre rifle bolt action repeater, a hunting coat, hunting pants and boots, hunting cap, plaid shirt, wool socks, sheath knife, two boxes of ammunition, duck decoys, a gun-cleaning kit and a compass.

In the junior class, Donald Sinclair was first, as we mentioned before. Dick Swannell of Heathcote, second, his being caught in the Beaver River; third to Carlye Robertson of Inglis Falls; fourth to Bob McFaul, son of the winner in the senior class; fifth to Darryl Blair of Owen Sound.

Many splendid fish were on display at the Slater store, but there were many others that were not taken to Owen Sound. There were eight fish over 1½ pounds caught that were not entered in the competition, some of them going over the two pound size. This was the 18th season that the Slater Speckled Fish Derby has been operating and each year grows in popularity.
