PARENTS DISCUSS PROBLEMS

An interesting time was spent at St. John's Friendyl Hour last Sunday evening. Questions of timely interest to parents and teachers were discussed under the leadership of Messrs. K. G. Betts, Bert Sparks and John Cook.

The most lively discussion took place around the subject of recreation for youth. It was recognized that Flesherton was fortunate in being able to provide its young people with good facilities for swimming, baseball, tennis, skating and dancing, all under favorable auspices. Some concern was expressed over the long hours kept by some restaurants, leaving young people exposed to rowdyism and immorality. Some hope was held that this might be remedied by earlier closing. It was recognized, however, that the primary responsibility rested upon the parents, who could cooperate in giving their young people a good time without unnecessary risks.

Rev. A. G. Malpherson conducted the meeting and announced that the subject of his sermon on January 22nd would be "The Conquest of Our Social Life," dealing with recreation and amusement.

Harold now has the foot in a cast after x-rays were taken in the Owen Sound hospital Monday. Fred Bannon, also a defenceman, was injured in the game a week ago and has been taking treatment for a pulled muscle. X-rays on Monday showed a broken bone in his chest. (By Stephens Corners Reporter-

Master Rae Winters, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Winters, will be confined to his home for some time with a severely scalded hand A dish of hot candy was the cause of the burns.

Rae and his brother, Delbert, were at the home of a neighbor on Wednesday night of last week when the neighbor boys decided to make some candy. Just as the boys were taking the hot candy from the stove, Rae tripped and in an attempt to save himself from falling, flung his hand out and as he did it plunged into the dish of hot mixture. Seeking relief from the pain, Rae plunged his hand into a dish of cold wtaer and the candy immediately hardened. He was taken to Dr. Lindsay's office where the hand was dressed. At time of writing Rae is nursing a very sore hand, but we are pleased to know it is doing as well as can be expected and it will be some time before it is completely healed.

Transients Fare Well At Dundalk Hotel

Transients are again tramping around the country, similar to the days of the early thirties when every village and town in Canada had soup kitchens for the unfortunate. Some of their demands were not very great, but others wanted better accommodation. We wonder if this was the case recently in Dundalk when The Herald reports that a hotel keeper in that place was paid $265 for expenses of a transient. The Dundalk hotel keeper must give wonderful service to warrant this expenditure. We wonder if it was just a mechanical slip on behalf of The Herald in not making the amount dollars and cents or was that the correct charge? We don't think for a moment that somebody was receiving a rake-off on transient accommodation.

Plan Is Devised For Uniform Assessments

A plan to standardize assessment procedure throughout Ontario municipalities is in the final stages of revision at Queen's Park and will handed to the Cabinet for approval within the next few days.

Queen's Park officials hope that the plan will go before every municipality in the next two weeks to give each an opportunity to put it into operation for 1951 taxation.

General practice in the municipalities is to commence work on assessments early in February for taxation in that year.

There has been a widespread demand from municipalities and county officials for a uniform system of assessment which would place each on an equal basis in determining its taxation methods.

The majority of municipalities maintian that any provincial goverument subsidy based on the mill rate, such as educational grants, is bound to be inequitable under the present rule of thumb assessment practices in vogue in most municipalities.

It is pointed out that today assessments vary from 40 per cent to as much as 80 per cent of the actual value of properties.

Attended Dundalk Fire

The Flesherton fire equipment and fireman were called to a dangerous fire at Dundalk early Thursday afternoon of last week, when the Bell Telephone office was threatened with destruction. When the fire truck and equipment arrived at the scene, the fire had been extinguished with their own efficient equipment. The call had to be made by way of C.P.R. telegraph when the long distance lines went out. The basement of the building was a complete wreck and a room at the rear was badly damaged. Dundalk recently constructed a large tank in the basement of the town hall and secured a pumper and hose to protect the business district and the expenditure paid-off in this one fire. They intend to build large reservoirs in different sections of the village for further protection.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Eleanor Irene Shier, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shier, Portlaw, to Robert Thomas Blakey, youngest son of Mrs. Wm. Blakey and the late Wm. Blakey, the wedding to take place late in January.
