THE MIXING BOWL

by Ann Allen
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! We promised ourselves that we would have a few games ready for the teenagers' party on Valentin's Day. Having decided on several games to use, we hope to give you an idea or two. A party is off to a good start when guests are asked to find their own partners: From a hat, each picks a slip of paper on which is written the name of an animal — goat, goose, duck, cow, hen, doe, ewe, cat, dog, horse and turkey. Then, from another hat duplicate names are drawn by the boys. The noise will be deafening, but satisfactory, as each guest moves around the room imitating his animal in search of a partner making a similar noise.

Simple games are best. For example the Clothespin game. Provide two milk bottles and twenty clothes pins to the two contestants. Place the milk bottles behind chairs. Each boy in turn, kneels on a chair, rests his wrists on the back of the chair and drops the clothespins in the bottle from his mouth. The boy's partner feeds the clothespins to him.

"Name the Movie" is a guessing game. Clip the advertisements of current movies from newspapers and cut off the titles and number them. Ask the partners to write down the the name of each, allowing 1 minute per look per picture.

A make-belief sleigh race may be fun. Fasten strips of paper tape on the floor with Scotch tape. Mark off irregular spaces on the tape and use one set of dice for the game. Ask each couple to select a winning number. Set six empty spools (with a number marked on each) at the starting line. When everyone is ready, let someone throw the dice. A mate from one set of dice will indicate the number of the spool to move and another of a different color, the number of spaces it will be moved. The winner will score ten, second place seven, and third place, four.

Have someone lead the singing while the hostesses prepare the refreshments.

VALENTINE FRUIT BALLS

1 tsp. butter
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
few grains salt
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped nuts
½ tsp. vanilla
Colored cocoanut

Beat butter, sugar and egg together. Stir in salt, dates, nuts and vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls into a bowl containing red colored cocoanut. Mould into balls using fingers. Place on baking sheet. Bake in oven at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Makes about 18.

IN MEMORIAM

MOORE — In loving memory of our sister and aunt, Mrs. Wm. Moore, who passed away February 7th, 1949.

—Sadly missed by sister, Mrs. J. J. Brown, and nieces, Mrs. Arnold Bowler and Mrs. Harol Bates.

Priceville Women's Institute

(By Priceville Reporter)

Mrs. J. C. Harrison was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Women's Institute, when 30 ladies were present, with Mrs. M. McLean presiding. It was decided to send $25 to the March of Dimes Fund. A parcel of used clothing is to be sent overseas and donations are to be brought to the March meeting. The roll call was answered by an exchange of Valentines. Letters were read from Glen Meads, O.D.R. school, Ruth Whittaker, Stone's Line school, Mr. Bondi, Priceville school, Mrs. Whyte on behalf of Mrs. D. K. McKinnon of Topcliffe school, expressing thanks for the first aid kits donated by the W. I. A bedspread has been donated to the Institute and tickets will be sold. the draw to be made at a social early in March on the 15th anniversary of the Priceville W.I. Mrs. M. McLean gave a fine paper on health. Miss Beatrice Watters read an article on Institutes, and Mrs. Wm. Meads read an interesting paper on public relations. Mrs. Currie gave the topic on activities in the community and also conducted a contest, the prize being won by Mrs. Bill McKechnie and Mrs. Joe McKee. The president also gave a humorous reading "Hanging the Family Picture." Lunch was served and a social time spent.

GOD SAVE THE KING

WORLD WHEAT KING Uses "NA-CHURS" LIQUID FERTILIZER

S. J. ALLSOP, of Red Deer, Alberta, World Wheat King 1947-1948, says: "It is my opinion that 'Na-Churs' increased the yield of my wheat crop from 5 - 8 bushels over the district average, in spite of having no rain until July. I also feel that 'Na-Churs' made the grain mature from a week to ten days earlier. I plan to use 'Na-Churs' in 1950. I realize the advantages of easier application and no fertilized attachment required."

ACCLAIMED BY GROWERS

For many years "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer has been acclaimed by tobacco growers, tomato growers, market gardeners — both in Canada and the United States. Tests now show the advantages of "Na-Churs" Liquir Fertilizer in areas of low rainfall — important news for Canadian grain growers.

GROWERS REPORT INCREASED YIELD UP TO 50%

Letters in our files from 1948 and 1949 Wheat Champions, as well as from other well known grain growers and general farmers, indicate increases in yield up to 50% when seed grain has been treated with "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer before seeding.

EASY TO USE, NO EXPENSIVE EQUIPMENT

One gallon of "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer Concentrate is being used undiluted to wet down eight to ten bushels of seed grain. No new equipment or additional expense needed. Just wet grain — mix thoroughly — dry well — use in ordinary seeding drills without expensive attachments.

"NA-CHURS" WON'T PERFORM MIRACLES

Soaking is a very economical method for supplying an initial part of the plants' needs; the remainder can be supplied by nomal fertilizing at a corresponding reduced rate. There is no reason to suppose that a sufficient amount of any particular nutrient element can be introduced into the seeding by soaking, but the nutrient so introduced is immediately available and of maximum efficiency.

COST ONLY 75c ACRE — MAKE THE 10-GALLON TEST

Seed grain treated with "Na-Churs" Liquid Ferilizer, apparently germinates more quickly; gains healthier, earlier growth; develops more vigorous root and top structure so that it is better able to withstand diseases and drought. The cost is little and if it will increase your yield it is too good to pass up.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF

As little as 10 gallons of "Na-Churs" will tell the story. Try it — YOU be the judge.
