Vacation School Students Gave Enjoyable Program

Cedarside Church was filled to capacity on Friday evening last for the closing program of the Daily Vacation Bible School. The program opened with the singing of choruses by the school, followed by special choruses and songs by the beginners. A rythm band of the beginners was well received in several numbers. Two Bible adventure stories were told by means of recordings. Miss Helgia Proose, recently arrived in Canada from her native land of Estonia, played the mandolin and then sang in her native tongue. The numbers were well received.

Gifts were presented to the staff of workers by Rev. A. J. Fletcher, the leader of the vacation school, who was also presented with a gift of money from the pupils, by May Whyte, the address being made by Robert Goheen.

The display of hand-worn done by the pupils was on display, and showed the result of careful coaching by the teachers. Each piece was neatly done and was claimed by the children at the close of the program. A generous offering more than covered the expenses of the school. The thnaks of the parents are extended to Rev. Fletcher and staff on their splendid efforts with the children.

Game Was Rained Out

You were wondering what has happened to your local junior baseball team. They are still much in the game, a little team playing big league ball.

They finished the schedule and were in third place, and will play off with Durham. The first game was to have been played in Flesherton Monday night, but the weather man "rained out" the contest. They travel to Durham this Thursday night, and if it can be arranged, the second game will be in Flesherton the first part of next week. Don't drop the enthusiasm that you have workel up for the game on Monday night. We were looking for a good crowd and from all reports there was going to be one.

Get behind this team, they are a good bunch of boys, and remember we have no gang warfare in our community, and this is one way to keep it down. Your quarter of a dollar goes to buying balls and equipment, to give them clean organized sport. Watch for bills and your local paper. We'll be seeing you at our next home game.

High School Has 6 Teachers

Last week the editor made a serioous mistake in announcing that an extra teacher had been secured for the high scohol and that there would now be five teachers on the staff. We went on and listed the names. Our mistake was that it should have read six teachers, and we left out the name of Mrs. Mercer, who has been a valued member of the staff for the past several years.
