THE list of Dominion voters' qualifications may be summarilized as follows: Every male, being a British subject and 21 years of age, who is owner or occupant of real property of actual value of $300 in cities, $200 in towns, $150 in other places; who is a tenant paying at least $2 rent per month, or $20 per year; whose income is $800 a year; the sons of farmers and property owners are qualified by their parents' property when sufficient. In fact, the franchise is broad enough to include almost every man in the community. It will be found that nearly every citizen comes under one or the other of these classes.

THE excursion on Wednesday to Owen Sound was well patronized. Ten well-filled coaches went out about 8 minutes after the time booked. Markdale brass band and also the Oddfellows presented a creditable appearance, and the music furnished by the band was liberal and well rendered.

A STEER TRAPPED—A week or so ago a steer belonging to Mr. Beecroft was missing from his usual haunts and all search failed to discover his whereabouts. A few days ago the animal was found in the cellar of a vacant house owned by Mr. J. W. Armstrong, on property adjoining that of Mr. Beecroft. The brute had strayed through an open door in the kitchen and fallen through a trap into the cellar. When taken out, after a week's confinement, Mr. steer was a fit subject for the bone-dust factory, and could not have been sold even for boarding-house beef, but his appetite was not impaired and his close confinement will not permanently injure his constitution. — Flesherton Advance.

A MATERNAL GANDER.—Mr. G. J. Graham, of Kimberley, owns a goose and gander. There is nothing particularly remarkable about that. The goose decided to sot and was given eggs to operate on. The gander became lonesome and concluded that he too would like to set, and accordingly went into a corner of the stable, planked himself down and slayed there. Here is where the unnatural condition of affairs cropped up. His gandership was given a lot of hens' eggs to experiment on, and he actually succeeded in developing a healthy brood of chickens, which he now struts around with as proudly as his wife with her goslings. We have not learned whether he scratches for them. If not it will keep the chickens scratching to live with the old fool.—Flesherton Advance.

Yours very truly,

THE USUAL WAY

THE usual way is to neglect the first symptoms of disease, until boils, blotches and scrofulous humors of every description, make their presence forcibly known. Every one should be careful to purify their blood, and none should fail to do so. The best way is to take Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood purifier in use, and which is unrivalled.
