Katie M. Scott B.A. RMT

June 9, 1951 – January 20, 2014

Katie passed away in her sleep at home after 4 ½ years of living a full life in spite of the effects of melanoma and aggressive treatments. Katie often said that as a Registered Massage Therapist she had the greatest job: she really enjoyed meeting and chatting with the wonderful people who came for treatment in her clinic.

She requested that in lieu of flowers, friends consider the merit of arranging to become an organ donor.

To my Family and Friends

If you are reading this then my mortal time has come to an end. Thank you for the wonderful talks and experiences we have shared over the decades. During these most stressful and hectic times, please find time to do something that gives you pleasure.

To my grandchildren Kayla, Jamie and Gordon Pollock, to my children Michael and Erika and their wonderful spouses Jackie and Derek, and to my Mom, Dad and Sister Maeve, I love you so much and you have given me such great pleasures, thank you. To my love Wayne, you know what I am thinking.

Living with melanoma has not been fun, particularly the past year when I no longer enjoyed a glass of wine during conversations with friends! I knew a lot about this disease before I found the suspicious mole on my heel in 2009. Surgery in Thunder Bay (1997) successfully treated a spot on my thigh and in earlier in 2009 my brother Jim died because of this disease. This time I was not on the favourable side of the 95% who are cured by the initial simple surgery. While the prognosis was terrible and the various treatments were not fun I met many wonderful, caring professionals all of whom were fully committed to my treatment. They never failed to surround me with love and positive energy. Thanks to them all.

One comfort for me in these last days was knowing that my remains would assist melanoma researchers to further understand and make advances towards a cure. A cure is coming, but for now protect yourself from over exposure to the sun – sunscreen, a hat and cover. Do it for me please.

Wayne will open our home for you to gather for my version of an Irish Wake Friday January 31st through to Sunday February 2nd. Please contact him for times:

MOGG, Lea (nee Pohuda)

Of Georgetown and Windsor Ontario. Mother, grandmother, wife and friend. Died Saturday, January 25th, 2014 at 12:30 in Toronto. She was preceded in death by her husband Larry who died in December 2000. A beautiful and conscientious woman, daughter of Eli and Uliana, Russian immigrants to Canada, she was a younger sister to Rose, she grew up and blossomed in Windsor. Education was very important to her: she graduated from Walkerville High School in 1956, graduated from Windsor Grace Hospital as a Laboratory Technologist in 1957 and then from Assumption University (University of Windsor) in 1960 with a B.A. She married Larry Mogg in 1962 and had two children, Jason and Kirsten. She moved with Larry to Ottawa in 1962, to Etobicoke in 1966 and to Georgetown in 1968, where she lived the rest of her life. She became a teacher's assistant and worked for over ten years helping students at the Georgetown & District High School. She loved to spend peaceful and fun time at the chalet with her family and friends in Kimberley in the Beaver Valley. She was intelligent, thoughtful, immensely kind and always very giving of herself. She had real wisdom, she connected well with children and with most anyone she met. She was always available to listen and to talk (especially to brag about her children and grandchildren). Her counsel always made sense and always felt right. She had a moral compass that was extraordinary and, underneath it a quiet, often surprising and underestimated determination and strength. Above all she was utterly devoted to her family. She deeply loved and was loved by her family. She leaves her son, Jason, her daughter Kirsten, her grandchildren Hayley McKay, Matyas Mogg and David Mogg and daughter-in-law Hana Mogg Jilkova and an extended family as well as an array of good friends, old and new. She will be very greatly missed. Friends will be received at the J.S. Jones & Son Funeral Home, 11582 Trafalgar Road, north of Maple Avenue, Georgetown, 905-877-3631 on Wednesday from 7-9 pm. Funeral service will be held in the chapel on Thursday January 30th, 2014 at 11:00 am. Cremation. In lieu of flowers please make donations in her honour to the education charity of your choice.
