LOST.—In the Methodist church basement, on the evening of the social, Thursday, Nov. 23, a memorandum book. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

SHORT OF FUNDS.—The Agricultural societies are not all rolling up a surplus. Stayner and Creemore had to settle their prizes with fifty cents on the dollar and Collingwood with seventy per cent.

STOCK SALE.—Adam Holley will sell by public auction at the Revere House, Markdale, on Saturday, December 2, at 1 o'clock: one 3-year-old bull, one 2-year old heifer and 55 young ewes and lambs. Geo. Noble, auctioneer.

AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Alex. Mercer is giving up farming and will sell by public auction at his premises, one and a half miles from Markdale on Friday, December 8, at one o'clock, a large quantity of stock, hay and potatoes. Geo. Noble, auctioneer.

SIX YEARS OLD.—Toronto Saturday Night is six years old and is unmistakably a vigorous and agressive journal. It is the most independent, ably edited, terse concise, well-printed, finely illustrated and attractively written paper which comes to our sanctum.

CHURCH OPENING.—The new R. C. Church, Markdale will be opened on Sunday December 10, at 11 o'clock by Rt. Rev. F. McEavy, Rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton. Admission free. In the evening there will be a lecture and musical vespers. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

PANCAKE SOCIAL.—The social given by the Epworth League of the Methodist church was a most enjoyable affair. The pancakes and syrup were first class and much relished, in fact a most palatable tea was served in good style. A short but interesting program followed consisting of music, addresses and a recitation. Proceeds $17.45.

A MISTAKE.—Some would have us believe that money is the root of all evil. What nonsense. Money is a great convenience. With it we are enabled to discharge many an obligation and thus not only lighten our own burdens but bring joy to the hearts of others. It's the inordinate love of money which is the root of evil.

ABOUT COMPLETE.—Father Maloney has been in town frequently of late looking after the putting in of the pews and stained glass windows of the new R. C. church. It is a substantial edifice and shows good workmanship throughout. The interior is handsome and spacious. It's about all ready for the opening, which is to take place on Sunday, December 3rd.

RE-OPENING.—The English church at Chatsworth was re-opened on Sunday last, after being bricked outside and replastered and painted within. The services were conducted by Ven. Archdeacon Mulholland, who was the first pastor of the Chatsworth congregation and ministered to them for many years in the building which has now been so handsomely renovated.—O. S. Advertiser.

SHE WAS A MAN.—About twelve months ago, the trustees of a certain section in Grey advertised for a teacher for 1893, a female prefered. Among the applications was one which seemed to fill the bill. It was from Carey ——— and the secretary took it for Carry. She was engaged by letter and the trustees were surprised to find some weeks later that she was a man. Carey has given good satisfaction during the year.

ORANGE SOIREE.—A successful soiree was held last Friday night at McKee's Lodge, five miles east of Flesherton. A sumptuous repast was furnished by the ladies, after which a rattling jolly good program was rendered, over which Mr. Joseph Pedler presided in his genial and humorous style. Rev. Woodger of Maxwell was the principle speaker. Numerous local celebrities distinguished themselves in recitation and song.

THE NEW WAY.—The anniversary services of Acton Methodist church were held on Sunday the 19th November. The trustees had requested the pastor to ask for a collection of $500, to meet requirements, and $562,92 was put on the plate that day in cash. This is the third year in succession which that congregation has substituted the direct free-will offering system for the old time anniversary dinner and it has no inclination to return to or revive the obsolete custom.

"FREE-WILL OFFERING.—The committee of management of Markdale Methodist Sunday School has decided to forego their usual anniversary tea-splash, and ask the parents for a collection of $25 instead, to be taken up next Sunday. The church services will be on the line of S. S. work and interests. This is a very important department of church work, and it remains to be seen how much it is valued. The above request is certainly a moderate and reasonable one, and should meet with a cheerful and liberal response.

GET SQUARE.—It's only one month to the end of 1893. This last month of the year is a fitting time to square accounts. What a relief it would be in business if even all the accounts amounting to $10 and under, were promptly paid. These small accounts are generally allowed to remain unpaid from sheer carlessness. It's only a small sum and is therefore neglected. $50 started in amounts varying from one to ten and not changing from one to another could easily be made to pay ten thousand dollars of debts in one month.

A SOCIABLE SOCIAL.—On Wednesday evening of last week a social was given in the basement of the new Methodist church at Berkeley, to utilize the abundance of fragments which remained from the thanksgiving dinner on the Monday previous. A goodly number attended, and after the viands were disposed of, an interesting and humorous program was rendered over which Mr. Joseph Land ably presided. Messrs T. Sargent, Thos. Stafford and Wm. Sargent gave addresses and Mr. Wm. Crawford might have assisted but reserved his for a smaller audience, of which reference may be made later. Proceeds $10. This made the total proceeds of opening $152.

A COVETOUS SPIRIT.—There is not a vice which more effectually contracts and deadens the feelings, which more completely makes a man's affections center in himself and excludes all others from partaking in them, than the desire of accumulating possessions. When the desire has once gotten hold of the heart it shuts out all other considerations but such as may promote its views. In its zeal for the attainment of its end it is not delicate in the choice of means. As it closes the heart, so also it clouds the understanding. It cannot discern between right and wrong; it takes evil for good and good for evil; it calls darkness light and light darkness. Beware, then, of the beginning of covetousness, for you know not where it will end.

THE Delineator for January commences a new volume, and is called the "Winter Holiday Number." It is an unusually attractive issue, the fashions being appropriate to the season, and the reading matter varied and interesting. The distinct holiday flavor is contributed by a helpful article, entitled What the Shows Show, and another reviewing the books issued for the holiday season. Household Renovation deals with the cleaning of various articles, and gives valuable information about cleaning fluids, Child Life treats of Training a Boy for Business, and Physical Culture continues the instruction given last month on the Physical Expression of the Emotions. Small Economics is a particularly seasonable and valuable article at this time, and one that will be of service to every housekeeper; and much may be gained from the second paper on Things that should be left Unsaid. An illustrated article House and Street Gowns is of general interest to ladies, and another appropriate to the time is Fur Sets and Trimmings. The Tea-Table Talk for the month is full of information, and an unusually attractive assortment of designs is given in Tatting, Knitting, Crocheting, Lace-Making, etc., etc. The subscription to The Delineator is only One Dollar a year; Single Copies, 15 cents. Address orders to The Delineator Publishing Co. of Toronto (Ltd.), 33 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ont.

NOT WITH THEM.—This is the season of the year for newspaper coupons and fakes. Many endeavor to boom their circulation by offering premiums of various kinds. The STANDARD is issued every week in the year for ONE DOLLAR and the constantly increasing circulation is to our mind conclusive evidence that our efforts to give the news of the district fresh, full and unprejudiced is appreciated by an intelligent public and that the catchpenny premium system is only necessary for publications of inferior value. The STANDARD's circulation reached one thousand the first week in November and is now 42 quire, or 1008.

New Stock.

Mr. Arthur Johnston, of Vandeleur, has recently paid a friendly visit to his cousin of short horn fame, Mr. Arthur Johnston, of Greenwood, Ont., who is so well know in short horn circles as one of the largest and most successful importers and breeders of that famous old breed of cattle. While at Greenwood Mr. Johnston was so favorably impressed with the excellence of the stock, not only for their beeing qualities, but also from their appearance of milking capacity, which has also became a feature of the Greenwood herd, that he invested a considerable sum of money in one of the most famous milking cows in the herd together with a young bull from an equally famous milking cow. They are both out of cows imported directly from Scotland, of the very highest class breeding, as well as of the highest individual class merit. The dam of the cow purchased was landed at her Canadian home at a cost of $555, and the dam of the young bull cost her importer at least an equal sum to land her in Ontario, tho' only a two year old heifer when purchased in Scotland. The young bull purchased by Mr. Johnston is a very superior animal, in just good moderate keeping condition. He should do good service from a milkman's point of view, as his dam is not only a famous milker, but she is descended from a line of most excellent milkers, and his sire is from a scarcely less famous milking family. This young bull, "Lord Baleo," he is called, has a half brother on the dam's side that has won first prize and a sweepstakes three years in succession at the Provincial exhibition of Manitoba, at Winnipeg, and is probably one of the best bulls on the continent.

Arrested and Jailed.

A company of curious congregated in the council chamber here on Saturday night when one Thomas Cook was tried for stealing a livery rig from Alex Hannah, of Flesherton Station. The prisoner was long lean and lank, about Thirty years old and hailed from Lambton county. He hired a livery rig on Wednesday of last week from Alex Hannah of Flesherton Station to go to Eugenia and was to return the following day, but instead of doing so he drove on to Berkeley where he remained over night. On Friday he proceeded to Chatsworth and returned to Berkeley for night and on Saturday morning returned to Eugenia and was arrested for horse stealing, hustled off to Markdale, a formal trial held and forwarded by night train to Owen Sound where he lies to await trial. The mysteries of law are truly mysterious.
