Credit Valley Conservation*GRASSLAND BIRD RECOVERY PROGRAM
volunteers needed for a breeding bird survey of meadow habitat

CVC is looking for volunteers who can identify grassland birds by sight and by ear. CVC is organizing a monitoring 'blitz' of meadow habitat in the middle and upper portions of the Credit River watershed to gather more information about at-risk grassland bird species.

This is a one-day event in June that will include an earlier two-hour training session. Volunteers will be put into teams and surveys will be conducted from the roadside using a 'point-count' method.

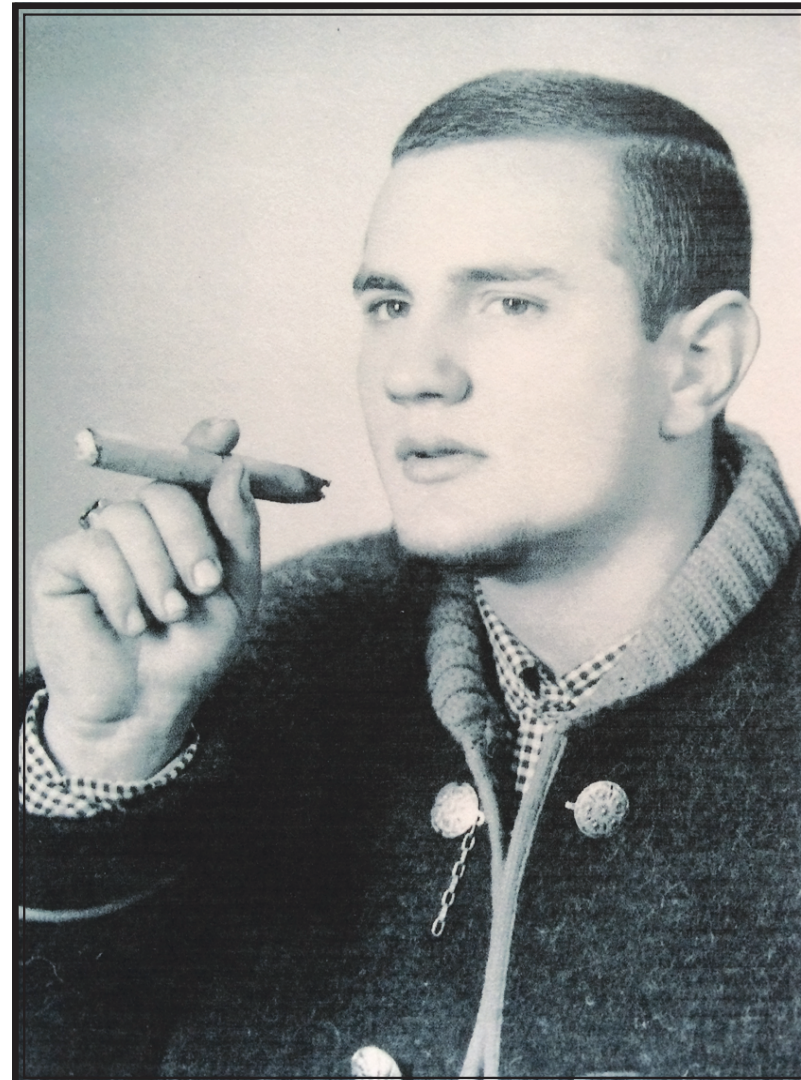

Interested volunteers are asked to visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/cvc-bird-survey> for a brief questionnaire that will help us determine the best date for the 'blitz'. After filling out the questionnaire, interested volunteers will receive updates as more event details become available.

Further questions can be directed to CVC's
Annabel Krupp at 1-800-668-5557 ext. 446.
