Mueller nets winner for Raiders

But goals by Scott Emerson and Steve Hladin evened the score and Georgetown's 16-year-old netminder, Michael McNiven, was again spectacular, making 33 stops.

The Raiders don't play again until Family Day in Orangeville against the last-place Flyers and then finish out the schedule with a visit to South Division-leading Toronto Lakeshore and a home date with Cobourg Feb. 22.

The win also vaulted Georgetown into fourth place in the South/West Conference standings, one point up on St. Michael's and two points ahead of Milton, with three games remaining.

The Raiders are also just three points behind West Division-leading Buffalo, although the Jr. Sabres hold three games in hand, and two points back of third-place North York.

LEARNING NEW STRATEGIES

A diminished social life is one of the most difficult aspects of age related hearing loss. Many people avoid drawing attention to their hearing loss by having fewer social contacts when it becomes difficult understanding what is being said. The result is an altered and lonely existence that family and friends may mistake for dementia.

Learning new strategies to cope with hearing loss could go a long way to restoring confidence and improving communication. The Hearing Clinic recommends the following: Inform people of the hearing loss so they may modify their speech; eliminate background noise; watch the speaker carefully and sharpen natural lip-reading abilities; ask the speaker to repeat what was said if necessary, and above all else; have your hearing thoroughly tested and properly fit with one of today's modern hearing instruments. Contact The Hearing Clinic if you or someone you know needs assistance.
