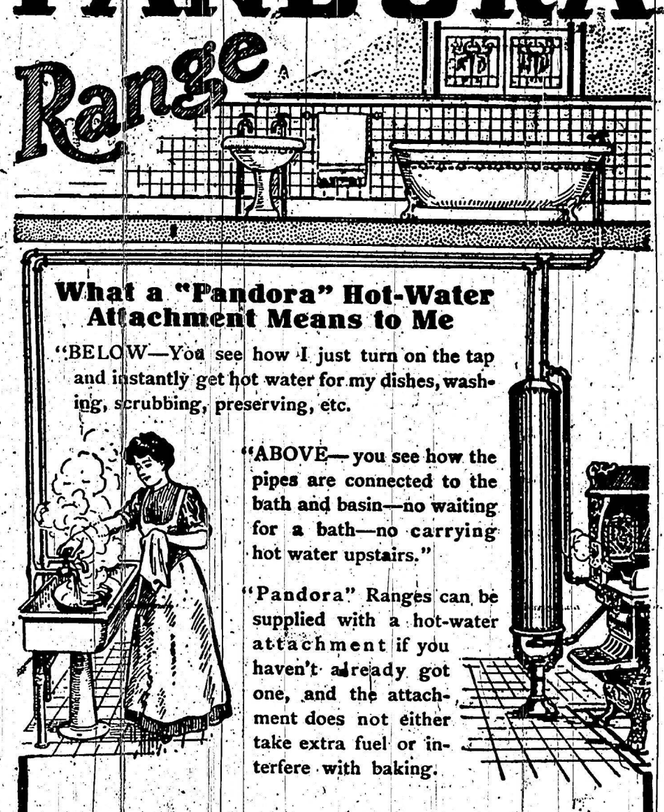
PANDORA Range



What a "Pandora" Hot-Water Attachment Means to Me

"BELOW—You see how I just turn on the tap and instantly get hot water for my dishes, washing, scrubbing, preserving, etc.

"ABOVE—you see how the pipes are connected to the bath and basin—no waiting for a bath—no carrying hot water upstairs."

"Pandora" Ranges can be supplied with a hot-water attachment if you haven't already got one, and the attachment does not either take extra fuel or interfere with baking.

GERMANY vs. PALESTINE.

A Jew named Max Joseph, was brought before P. M. Ryan here on Monday morning charged by an itinerant dispenser of dry goods with theft. The dry-goodsman is a recent arrival from Germany, and has no knowledge of the language of this country just yet, so an interpreter had to be procured in the person of Mr. Henry Koenig. It appears that the dry goods chap had given the Jew five suits of clothes to hawk through the country till purchasers were found when he was to return the proceeds to the owner of the goods, less a commission for his trouble. But the Israelite, characteristic of his kind, likes lots of commission, turned the whole deal into profit and fled to Toronto, whence he was pursued by provincial detective Umbach, arrested and brought back. After weighing the pros and cons of the case the Magistrate decided that a higher tribunal should sit in judgment on it, and therefore sent the prisoner to the county seat for trial, whence he was taken by his capturer the same evening. —Ayton Advance.

It's queer how some people imagine they are having a good time when they do things you dislike.

School Days.

The happiest days of every girl's and boy's life are their school days. Precious days they are too. "Dear old Golden Rule Days" says the song. Golden they are in another sense. Every moment of life to the young is golden, for it is the period for preparation for the important duties of womanhood and manhood—a period to which every child looks forward with interest and often impatience. Did you, kind sister, ever wear your big sister's or mother's long skirts to make you look like a woman? Did you, brother, ever feel proud when you put on top boots with red calfskin around the top, or wore braces or long trousers or carried a real watch with a nice chain for the first time? If so, why? Because it made you look manly. That is natural and withal commendable ambition.

But we desire here to inspire our girls and boys to ambition along another line. We would have every child attend school regularly till its scholastic education is finished or nearly so, and while going to school to make the very best of the golden days of youth. We always admire the girl or boy who strives, yes STRIVES to reach the head of the class and then strive yet harder to hold the place. That is the kind of ambition to encourage, parents. The boy who likes to head a procession or be captain of a squad will not need much encouragement—he will "get there" without it. But all boys are not naturally leaders, and such ones will require the helpful word, the inspiring example, the prize held in sight, the promise of reward for diligence, regularity, good conduct etc.

Parents should meet the teacher, and by themselves talk over matters pertaining to their children. Every school girl and boy requires the special personal consideration and direction of parents and teacher, and they should act in unison. School-teaching is a very much more serious and important occupation than school-keeping. The teacher who does not make a constant and individual study of every pupil sent to his or her school is unworthy of the tremendous responsibility that should be felt by every teacher.

But we want to say a few words to the boys and girls who are attending school now. As we have stated, this is your golden days because they are so very, very valuable. You should make them tell to your greatest possible personal advantage. It is a very old saying that there is no royal road to learning. Study is the only key that will unlock the treasury of knowledge. Study gave every student who won honors this year his or her distinction. Honors were awarded for work done and work done well. Those who did fairly well only passed, but those who worked faithfully all the school or college term and did real well won honors. Now let an old teacher give you a pointer—you younger girls and boys. You in the second, third and fourth classes are the ones to heed this advice. Don't ask teacher to help you over a hard lesson—study it and work at your problems till you master them yourself. The victory will be yours—that's the smallest benefit. The effort perseverance, mind action and brain development will be indefinitely more profit. One conquest helps to win others. We learn to do by doing. Don't slight your studies. Don't miss studying a single lesson. Conquer every difficulty. Get teacher to help you a little after every effort of your own has failed—not too much. Some teachers talk too much, help too much and cram too much. It is not cram but development that counts. Encourage individual effort, and that develops the brain and increases its power to see through, to solve, to master difficult problems. Again to the pupil we say, be regular in attendance. It is almost a wicked act to needlessly detain a scholar from school. It injures the progress of the child and tends to put a clog on the class' advancement. Be punctual. Never late is a condition of which to be truly proud. Respect your teacher and show that respect by prompt and implicit obedience, by striving to get a "perfect" for every lesson. Speak well of your teacher always. Don't tell tales out of school, any more than out of your own home. Don't tell family secrets at school or school secrets at home. Act fair, play fair, do right, tell the truth, be cheerful, and study regularly and faithfully and you will succeed.

BEST COMMERCIAL APPLES.

In his annual report Mr. G. C. Caston, of Craighurst, who conducts the Simcoe Fruit Experiment Station, calls attention to the fact that the experience of the past few winters has shown that many varieties hitherto considered hardy were not proof against the severe cold of this district, and can no longer be recommended for planting here. Among these are the Ben Davis and the Gano. Mr. Caston's selection for a commercial apple orchard would be, to cover the season: For extra early, a few trees of Yellow Transparent for basket shipments. Then, Duchess; and for all shipment, Alexander, Blenheim, Pippin, and Wolf River; for late fall or early winter, Baxter; for Christmas dessert apples, Famense or Princess Louise and a few trees of McIntosh. For winter apples, first and foremost, the Northern Spy. Fully half the orchard should be Spy; the Baldwin, King and Greening, these four to be all in cases top grafted on Tolman Sweet or other hardy stock. These might be supplemented by a few other winter sorts that are hardy enough without top grafting. These would be Stark, Fallawater, Westfield, Seek No Further, and Pewaukee. This would cover the season and would be enough varieties. It is a common error to plant too many varieties.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasing, delightful, really, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's a painful period with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and don't it get red and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You feel it where pain is—always. It's simply Congestion. Nature

We sell at 25 cents, and strongly recommend
