Mr. Ellis, a commercial traveller who uses an automobile in his work, was coming at good speed into the village one day last week when something went wrong with his machine and it plunged to one side of the road, demolishing a couple of panels of fence. Fortunately not much damage was done to the machine, and Mr. Ellis escaped injury, but a lad picked up on the road, who was enjoying his first auto thrill, got a shaking up by a severe toss over the windshield. After picking himself up his language was more expressive than chaste respecting the pesky thing that would handle a fellow thus.

The Anniversary services in the Methodist Church on Sunday were very successful. Rev. T.L. Brown, of Owen Sound, Chairman of the District, was the preacher, and his deeply spiritual edifying and uplifting sermons were much enjoyed. Pretty Wedding.

"Riverside Kimberley," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wickens, on Wednesday evening last was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their third daughter, Mae, was united in wedlock to Charles, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Camack.

At six o'clock to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Mrs. Edgar Gourlay, sister of the groom, the bridal party entered the drawing room and stood under an arch of autumn leaves, while the nuptial knot was tied by the bride's pastor, Rev. Mr. Trotter, in the presence of some fifty guests, immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride looked charming in a handsome gown of Manva Falls silk trimmed with silver beaded overlace and silver fringe, and wore a bridal veil caught up with maiden hair fern.

Little Miss Almeda Weber, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and little Master Merle Weber, nephew of the bride, was page, each carrying white and pink carnations. After the usual congratulations the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful cabinet of silver and to the flower girl and page, a ring each. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

The young couple are popular and highly respected and their many friends wish them a long and prosperous voyage through life.

Cook's Harvest Home.

The good people of Cook's church, Berkeley, enjoyed excellent weather for Harvest Home services. Crowded congregations attended Sunday, and Mr. Stevenson, of Dornoch, delivered two exceptionally fine sermons. The offering was good, and the Choir and assistants did well.

Monday evening an old-fashioned tea-meeting was held. Again the church was filled. The ladies served a toothsome supper in the Orange Hall and fully sustained their reputation for superior cooking. Then a lengthy program consisting of addresses, music and recitations, was given. Rev.'s Beveridge, Dymond and Stevenson were the speakers, and they were very acceptable. Misses Titus, Black and Ransom and Wm. Black and Joe Gawley gave recitations and all were happy in their selections. Miss Titus is apparently no novice on the platform. Mrs. Brown, Miss Burnett, Mr. Wal and Miss Shier and Miss M. McKenzie gave musical numbers and all did well. Mrs. Brown was in fine voice. Miss Ina Smith and Mrs. Wm. Walker accompanied the singers most acceptably. Little Misses Bradley and Mitchell gave great pleasure in their song.

A member whose identity must at present remain unknown presented the congregation with a full set of good dishes.

Miss Ewing and Mr. Hainer gave a good instrumental number, and God Save the King closed a happy evening.
