25 YEARS AGO

Speedy Voyage—Mr. Wilson Benson of this village left per C.P.R. on Monday the 23rd July for Ireland and returned safe and sound on Monday last, being only eight days absent. It's astonishing how fast one can travel now-a-day.

On Friday last while Michael Sweeny, of Glenelg, a young man of about 32 years of age, was driving on a load of hay under a leaning tree a branch caught him, throwing him off the load, and he received injuries of the spine from which he expired the following day.

Bear Scare.—About ten o'clock on Sunday morning last a bear was seen in Wm. Douglas' field, opposite the village, and the alarm given, when a number of our nimrods shouldered their shooting irons and hastened for a chase. After an exciting run for a mile northeast they are said to have quenched their thirst by a draught of whey at Elliott's cheese factory, and renewed the hunt. Two of the boys got within fifty yards of his bearship and opened fire, but, to their great chagrin, their gun was without a cap, neither had they brought any along. They longed for an anarchist's bomb from Chicago, which they could easily have thrown above distance and thus slain the enemy, but bruin escaped unhurt. The party returned with sad hearts and shame faces, some taking a back street to evade detection.

A Mrs. Quensel, a Swedish woman, will tour United States to promote anti-kissing leagues. This form business is fast becoming a fad. If Mrs. Quesnel does not choose to kiss her husband for sanitary reasons we have no fault to find, but it strikes us that if he is a clean, healthy man Mrs. Quesnel would be better at home getting an occasional kiss than by gadding the country trying to stop people from kissing when they feel like it. Judging by the numerous divorce court proceedings there should be more kisses and makeups in U.S. and there would be fewer separations for grievances, largely imaginary, between husband and wife. We have no apology to offer as a defender of the osculatory art—Chesley Enterprise.
