Debts and Debtors

If we give a merchant our custom, we have a right to expect him to advertise—to tell us weekly in the columns of the STANDARD what he has for us. Advertising is shop news, designed to inform us, save our time, and bring to our attention desirable merchandise.

Every retailer who is alive to the interests of his customers has a message—often many messages—for his customers concerning new goods, special offerings, and things that we ought to know about. Customers and non-customers will be attentive and responsive to these messages, if theytare delivered every week in the form of advertisements in the STANDARD. The way to get more business is to ask for it.

A NOTE TO MERCHANTS.

Would you buy much or regularly from firms that never solicit your trade? Do you not say—"The firm that wants my business must come after it?" Yet some of you say, in effect, to your customers—"We're here. If you want our goods, come and get them, but don't expect us to go after you." It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

Walking Around the World

(Beeton World.)

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, the Montreal couple who are walking around the world for a prize of $10,000, came into Beeton at noon on Tuesday, the man drawing a small cart which contained, among other things, pictures of themselves, which they sell chiefly in the villages and towns they pass through. With this money they provide for necessities, and expect to have enough saved when they reach the Pacific coast to pay their passage to Australia. The other countries to be visited on their trip are New Zealand, South Africa, Ceylon, India, Japan, Manchuria, France and the British Isles, from which they will embark for Canada. The distance to be covered is 36,187 miles and must be completed by March 31, 1919, in order to win the prize. They left Montreal seven weeks ago last Monday and had walked 771 miles when they got to Beeton, an average of about 18 miles a day, as they do not travel on Sundays. After half an hour's rest they started on their trudge across the continent, Cookstown being the next village at which they would call. Mr. Hartley was a British soldier and served under Generals Buller, Methuen, Killy-Kenny and Ian Hamilton. He came to Canada three years ago, living in Montreal up to the time he set out on the world-over journey.

HON. I. B. LUCAS AT WOODSTOCK

Report of Hon. Mr. Lucas' Speech Last Saturday at Woodstock in Reply to Mr. Rowell's Address the Previous Evening, as Reported by Monday's Mail.

"DO AS I SAY, BUT NOT AS I DO"

Hon. I. B. Lucas Scores Insincerity of Mr. Rowell's Professions.

Leader Still Dodges.

Minister Challenges Mr. Rowell to State Position on Bi-Lingual Schools.

(Special to the Mail and Empire.)

Woodstock, June 14.—"Mr. Rowell has appealed to you temperance Conservatives to turn out the Whitney Government because the temperance Liberals turned out the old Government for not giving temperance legislation. I admire the nerve of the man who can make that appeal in the circumstances, because everyone knows that this moral reformer, this leader who says that the temperance issue transcends all else, was not one of the temperance Liberals he speaks of who helped to turn out the old Government. He was one who did his level best to keep the old Government in, notwithstanding its broken temperance pledges. The situation and the facts are not the same, but even if they were Mr. Rowell should be the last man in Ontario to make that appeal."

With biting sarcasm Hon. I. B. Lucas, addressing a big meeting in the City Hall here Saturday night in the interest of Mr. Butler, the Conservative opponent of N. W. Rowell and Co. in North Oxford, turned the searchlight upon the insincerity of the Liberal leader, and his championship of the temperance policy. The Provincial Treasurer was following on the heels of Mr. Rowell, and while he dealt largely with the general issues and the record of the Whitney Government he took some time to pillory Mr. Rowell upon his stand with regard to temperance and bilingualism. He charged that Mr. Rowell's temperance professions bore the mark of politics written all over them. The Opposition leader was trying to ride into power by turning the temperance sentiment of the people to his own advantage without regard to whether what he proposed was practical or sound. On the other hand the Whitney Government had practised and not preached. It had made no loud professions. It had gone forward, realizing that men held different opinions and endeavoring to meet these varying views and put forward reforms that would have behind them the full force of public opinion.

Backed by Public Opinion.

"Notwithstanding what Mr. Rowell says, I believe, as a temperance man, that the Whitney Government in their legislative programme are in full agreement with the most progressive body of public opinion in the province," declared the Minister. "It is a Government responsive to public opinion, determined that there shall be full opportunity for public opinion to make itself effective. In the Local Option Act and the Canada Temperance Act the people have in their own hands the power to wipe out not only the bars, but the shops as well."

Since the present campaign opened, Mr. Rowell has been handling the bilingual situation with gloves, but he will find it difficult to leave it alone after the challenge Hon. Mr. Lucas threw at him here last night.

"I ask you to-night, Mr. Rowell," said the Minister, "to be just as honest and frank on this question as your friends say you are on others. The Ontario Government has been attacked for its English-French regulations, particularly regulation 17. Are you for or against it? Will you repeal if you are returned to power? Will you answer the question, or will you dodge it, as you have in the past? Are you for or against the position taken by your candidates in West York and West Simcoe, both of whom are against the Government because they have not abolished English-French schools?"

Hon. Mr. Lucas quoted from Le Temps, of Ottawa, in which it was stated that the French should vote unanimously for Rowell because of his reported statement at a meeting he had addressed there that the French-Canadian demands "were only just."

"Will you be frank and honest, Mr. Rowell, and confirm it or repudiate it," asked Mr. Lucas, "or stand condemned in this riding and this province as a public man who refused to make his position clear upon a great public question, who desires support from both sides, and wants his candidates to play both ends against the middle?"

Mr. Rowell is Canny.

The Provincial Treasurer pictured Mr. Rowell as picking out for himself what he thought was a nice safe seat, and encouraging others to go in and battle with the Tory dragon in Toronto. He dealt at some length with workmen's compensation, Hydro-Electric and Hydro-Radial progress, and prison reform as pledges of the Government's progressive, even radical, record.

He declared that Mr. Rowell had condemned expenditure in generalities without being frank and coming down to details except with regard to Government House and the revision of the statutes. His microscopic criticism might have something on which to feed. No Government could move along without mistakes, but Mr. Rowell has failed to find fault with the general administrative record, with the big things, and, although the Whitney Government had spent over $100,000,000, there had not been even an insinuation that a dollar had gone in "graft."

W.C.T.U. Convention.

(Owen Sound Times.)

This week the county W.C.T.U. met at the W.C.T.U. hall here for the consideration of the work of the union, the counties of Grey and Dufferin being represented. The convention opened on Tuesday and continued for two days. Among those present was Mrs. Wright, the dominion president, a sister of Mr. N. W. Rowell. The convention was presided over by Mrs. Cook, of Markdale, the county president. After the business of the meeting had been transacted Mrs. Wright formed a Y among the colored people of the town, to be known as the Straith Y, in honor of Mrs. Straith who has taken such an interest in the W.C.T.U. work in this town. Among the reports was that of the flower mission by Mrs. S. Stephens; prison reform, Mrs. Cunningham; sailors, Mrs. McLeod and others. A very interesting paper was read by Miss Danard on the subject of dress. The following were the delegates present from outside points:—Mrs. St. Albans, Orangeville; Mrs. Green, Orangeville; Mrs. Schaaf, Hanover; Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Stephen, Mrs. Armstrong all of Markdale. Mrs. I. B. Lucas was Judge at the Gold Medal Oratory Contest. The following were the officers elected:—President, Mrs. Shaaf, Hanover; Vice President, Mrs. Koszel, Hanover; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Holdaway, Owen Sound; secretary, Mrs. Percy Brown, Owen Sound; treasurer, Mrs. Cook, Markdale. It was agreed on motion that the members of the several unions in the two counties spend at least one half hour in prayer on nomination and election days for Hon. N. W. Rowell and his supporters who have the courage of their convictions to come out for the abolition of the bar in the coming provincial election.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS, 1914

Polling, Monday, 29th June.

To the Electors of South Grey:

Gentlemen,—I have been honored with the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Party in South Grey and am before you as a candidate in the election now pending.

It will be impossible for me in the few days at my disposal to visit every section, but a residence of many years in the Riding, and as publisher of the Durham Review, has made me fairly well known and I hope to become better known in this brief campaign. I ask a forbearance of all in unvisited parts, come to the nomination on 22nd June, or to my meetings as announced when it will be my privilege to present to you the principles that will guide me as your representative, if elected, and discuss the issues of the day.

I am heartily in sympathy with the progressive policy presented by Opposition Leader Rowell especially with the measures he has striven to pass in Parliament dealing with the Liquor Traffic, Assessment Reform, votes for married women with property, and other measures designed to protect the young, raise the fallen and advance the moral interests of society. Church meetings and Christians of all denominations are practically a unit in supporting these measures and I ask you to crystallize this sentiment into votes on 29th June.

I shall endeavor to give true service to the best of my ability and respectfully ask your influence in the campaign and your vote on June 29th.

Yours for Service,
C. RAMAGE.

THORNBURY

In the early hours of Wednesday, June 3rd, there passed away in Thornbury, one of the few remaining landmarks of pioneer days in the person of Mr. Hugh Wallace. He was in his 86th year.

A peculiar thing came to the notice of this paper the other day regarding four citizens who were born and brought up in Clarksburg: William Lyne when last heard of, was in the Black Hills, Rocky Mountains, was born Oct. 10, 1862; Wint. H. Sparling, who died a couple of years ago at Elmvale, Ont., was born Oct. 11th, 1862; W. T. Moore now of Meaford, born Oct. 12th, 1862 and William Muller, now of Collingwood, born Oct. 13, 1862, thus it will be seen that these four men were born a day after each other. They started school upon the same day and occupied the same double seats, one behind the other, for practically their common school days.—Review.

DUNDALK

Mr. T. R. Bailie, of this place, showed The Herald an ancient Anglican prayer book which he found in a heap of rubbish which he was removing to make some repairs at his premises. The book, which contains an essay on "Faith" prepared by Rev. John Rothervan, M.A., was printed in 1804 (110 years ago) in Dublin, Ireland, by P. Wogan.

The C.P.R. ballasting train started operations on this line at Corbetton last week. A steam shovel is at work in a gravel pit on the Walkerton branch and the gang of Bulgarians, who have been here for a couple of weeks, are now busy, under foreman Lackie, in improving the condition of the track as each train load of gravel is dumped. When completed the road bed will be in good shape.

Mr. Geo. Coutts, near Riverview, has lost sixteen head of cattle from what is supposed to be anthrax. One day last week the herd was quarantined by a Government representative and on Sunday they were vaccinated since which time no new cases have developed and none died. Anthrax is very rarely known in Canada and the origin of the present outbreak is unknown.—Herald.

MEAFORD

After the service in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening the choir presented Mrs. E. F. Carre with a club bag as a slight token of appreciation of her services as organist which position she has held for the past three or four years.

The whole community was shocked on Monday last and a gloom cast over a wide circle of sorrowing friends and relatives when it became known that death had claimed Billie, the second son of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Clarke, who had been ailing for the past week with septic peritonitis.

Mr. Samuel Piper, an old and highly respected resident of the town, passed away at the residence of Mr. John Mathewson on Wednesday, June 3rd. Mr. Piper, who was in his 86th year, was born in Ireland and came to this country when a young man. He settled at Epping where he resided some twenty years afterwards coming to Meaford where he resided up to the time of his death.—Mirror.

OWEN SOUND

Rev. T. A. Rollger, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, is the Liberal candidate in opposition to Mr. C. S. Cameron, for the north riding of Grey. He was the choice of the convention of the supporters of the Rowell platform held on Tuesday afternoon at the town hall.

In the recent festival of music held in Saskatoon and in which vocalists from all parts of Saskatchewan competed Mr. Howard Large was successful in winning the Medal offered for the best amateur singer.

Another lake merger, which it is expected will be consummated in a few days, is under way, in which the Farrer Transportation Company, Limited, grain and general forwarders, Collingwood, are involved. The new company is to be known as the Gulf and Lake Navigation Company, which is being organized to operate about sixteen steamers.

Bitten by Dog—Stanley King, 1392 Fourth Avenue east, was severely bitten by a mongrel while attending the football match on Tuesday night up at the pleasure ground. The boy was playing about and the dog, a black and white cur of the mongrel variety, took a hand in the game, and jumping up at King bit him in the right cheek, the teeth sinking right through. First aid men Franklin and Turner were nearby and cauterized the wound and sent the lad to the doctor at once. In the meantime the police are looking for an owner for that useless kiyoodle.

Crows Guided Searchers.—On Friday afternoon the two years' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens, of Toronto, who have come to Leith for the summer months, wandered away and was lost for five hours. The parents were busy getting their cottage in shape following their arrival from the city. They suddenly noticed that the little girl was nowhere about and search in the immediate vicinity did not avail. Then for some hours they searched frantically and called in those resident in Leith to help them. It was feared that the little one had gone down to the lake shore and had fallen into the water and been drowned. It was five hours after the little girl had been missed that Mr. A. Rutherford noticed some crows hovering over a spot in the field. He went to investigate and found the babe peacefully asleep.

SHELBURNE

Work on Shelburne's new post office building is going forward rapidly, work being now in progress on the roof and the interior. The clock for the tower has been ordered and will be put in place in due time.

Thomas Gillespie, of Shelburne, was to have appeared in court last week on the charge of selling liquor in a local option municipality. He put in a plea of guilty without going through the formality of a trial and was fined $100 and costs.

During the electrical storm Sunday afternoon lightning struck the north end of Flynn & Sons smaller granaries at the C.P.R., knocking a board off near the peak and ploughing along several boards on the end of the building like high power rifle bullets.—Economist.

DURHAM

Among the lost of the Empress of Ireland is the name of Henry Hall, well known in and around Durham, who was on his way to visit a sister in England. He once lived on the well known H. Parker farm at Morden's corners, now owned by Robt. Milburn. He was well-known as a local preacher and often preached at Zion.

For participating in, or being present at the charivari at Mr. J. Pilkey's residence Tuesday of last week, about twenty boys and young men of the town received summons to appear in court Monday night. Three or four of the number had evidence to prove their names were entered by mistake, not being present, while of the remain-
