So far—and yet so near!

"I must call John by Long Distance and let him know I got here all right. Then neither of us will be worrying. It's wonderful to be able to visit you like this, and yet keep as close touch with home as if I were there. What must it have been like in the old days, before Long Distance made it possible?"

"I'll place the call for you while you are taking off your wraps."

"That will be fine. Just ask for our number, 124, so I'll get the cheaper Station-to-Station rate. In a couple of days I'll call up again, in the evening, so I can have a few words with the children, too. The Evening Rate after 8.30 is really very low."

A Creed

A little more kindness and a little less creed;
A little more giving and a little less greed;
A little more smile and a little less frown;
A little less knocking a friend when he's down;
A little more "we" and a little less "I";
A little more laugh and a little less cry;
A little more flowers on the pathway of strife;
A little less sent at the end of life.

What's the Matter With Dad?

One of the daily papers gives a synopsis of an interesting plebiscite held in a New England school that gives some of the ambitions of the younger Americans. Some six hundred pupils were asked the question: "Who would you like to be if you were not yourself?" The list of votes cast were as follows: Lindbergh 363, Coolidge 110, Henry Ford 66, Edison 27, General Pershing 14, Tunney 13, Rockefeller 12, Dempsey 11, Babe Ruth 10, Taft 5, Sharkey 4, J. P. Morgan 2, Mussolini 2, and Dad 2. Good old Dad! Is it any wonder he is at the bottom of the list when the young lads of to-day see him doing his daily dozen swinging the axe at the wood pile, carrying the water, crawling out on the cold floor to light the fire, feeding the stock and all the other jobs that help to make life worth living?
