Grey County Checker Men Defeat Dufferin County

The return match between Grey and Dufferin Counties was staged at Shelburne on Friday night, August 22 with 17 men a side.

At a banquet following the match a resolution was passed to take steps to have the Provincial tourney take place in Shelburne next August, and a committee was appointed to arrange for the same. This, however, will prevent the Provincial tourney next January, probably at Hamilton. A match between the combined forces who played at Shelburne Friday and a team from Toronto, perhaps 30 strong, is also being arranged for this fall.

The above match was played in six groups, each group playing two games with each of three players in the opposing team. The personell and score follows:—

Anniversary Services at St. Philip's Church, Walters Falls

Sunday, Aug. 17th, will be a day long to be remembered in the history of St. Philip's Church. The church had been nicely decorated with white and gold flowers in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the building of the church. By eleven o'clock, the hour of the morning service, the church was well filled with a congregation gathered from near and far. Mrs. Rex. Adams of Meaford, a former organist for some years, ably presided as organist assisted by a choir of older people namely, Mrs. J. R. Wickham, Mrs. F. Wickham, Mr. Jno. Coleridge, all of Owen Sound; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Dixon, Mr. Robt. Acheson, Mrs. Jas. Holmes and Mrs. Jno. Laycock. Rev. Canon Appley, who was rector here thirty years ago, preached a very thoughtful, soul-stirring sermon from the text, "Others have labored and ye have entered into their labours", calling to memory the work of the pioneers and their earnest efforts to erect a place of worship and step by step carried his hearers back to those others who laboured in England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland, for the spread of Christianity; to Palestine in the time of our Lord; and still further back to the prophets and judges of Old Testament times. It was a discourse to be long remembered by the simple, homely truths and bearing a direct message to each hearer for a more Christian living.

A celebration of Holy Communion followed, when Canon Appleyard was assisted by Rev. Jones and Parsons and a large number of communicants partaking.

By seven-thirty, the hour of the service, the church was filled to capacity and quite a number was unable to enter. Mrs. Laycock presided at the organ with a choir of younger people to assist. During the offertory Miss Hilda Quinton sang very beautifully "The Old Rugged Cross" accompanied by Mrs. Elmore Walter, the church organist. Canon Appleyard again preached a very fine sermon, a continuation of the morning subject but from a different standpoint, and a different text, taken from Psalm 89, 1; and the last part of Eph. 5,24. Both sermons were very fine and will be long remembered by those fortunate enough to hear them, as a direct appeal for more earnest Christian lives and works.

During the sermons mention was made of Rev. G. Bell who ministered in this parish fifty years ago, and who died in Victoria, B.C., on Aug. 4th, at the age of seventy-seven. Among those present at the services from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien of Victoria, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carney and daughter and two sons of Brampton; Mrs. Thos. Walter and sons of Toronto; Mrs. (Rev.) Jones and sons of Ridgetown; Mrs. Rev. Appleyard of Windsor; Mrs. E. Sims and son of London, also a number from Owen Sound, Bognor, Meaford, Markdale and Holland Centre.

On Monday evening a very fine cold meat supper was served by the ladies of the church in Mr. W. Dixon's building and was well attended by a large number of people who did ample justice to the good things provided.

A softball match was played in Mr. Marshall's field between Goring and the Falls. Goring won the game with a score of 12-2.

In the evening twenty young people put on their minstrel show. Four end men: Sambo, Rev. Parsons; Rastus, Gordon Dixon; Mose, Maurice Laycock, and Bones, Bert Dixon, did their parts very well. Miss Mary Acheson was interluder. The singing and drill of "Dixie Land", "Come away down South" and "I'm the Guy" was accompanied by the Bognor Orchestra of six pieces. During the intermission the orchestra played several numbers. Mr. E. Greenfield played two banjo numbers with vocal solos. Miss Willfred McDougal danced very nicely and sang a solo. A minstrel mouth organ and mandolin orchestra, also played two numbers.

A four story cake with white and gold trimmings was displayed during the intermission, with an introduction by Rev. Mr. Jones and was presided over by Mesdames Rev. Appleyard and Parsons. Rev. W. Gibson, a former rector, made a short address, also Canon Appleyard who had the honor of lighting the first candle. Canon Appleyard was followed in the candle lighting by Mrs. Appleyard, Mrs. Parsons, Rev. and Mrs. Jones, Rev. Gibson and Miss O. Gibson and then Mrs. McQuaker as the oldest church member present. Various church officials followed as Rev. Jones read aloud their names and the fiftieth candle was lighted by little Doris Seabrook. Mrs. McQuaker then put the first knife cut into the cake and the ladies cut it up into small pieces and it was passed throughout the hall that everyone might have a taste of the very beautiful cake.

The minstrel show once more resumed the stage, the girls coming on with a Missouri lullaby, followed by some end men jokes: "Golden Slippers" was sung by Mose. "Mason Dixie line" by Sambo; "The Darktown Strutter's Ball" as a chorus. The end men did a clog dance and an orchestra of mouth organs, mandolin and jew's harp played very well. The closing number was "Good Night" and "God save the King."

Rev. Parsons thanked all those who had helped make the evening so successful.

Fruit Growers Meet in Clarksburg

A goodly number of the fruitgrowers of the district were present Wednesday afternoon at the meeting in the Community Hall, Clarksburg, to hear J. Forsythe Smith, Canadian Trade Commissioner, London, Eng., A. Fulton, Ontario Fruitgrowers' Representative, P. W. Hodgetts, Secy. of the O.F.A., and others, speak for the interests of the industry.

Fruitgrowing is the leading industry of the Beaver Valley, and tireless in the interests of better fruit culture, have been the efforts of two men especially, Messrs. Geo. H. Mitchell of the Georgian Bay Fruitgrowers' Assn., and Claude Running of the Beaver Valley Assn. Interest in the better marketing of their product, has, almost of necessity, become now a vital factor, and in this connection, announcement has been made from Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, that, in order to ensure "intelligent marketing" of Ontario's surplus fruit, the government is prepared to come to the aid of the fruit growers' association by guaranteeing sufficient money to the banks to permit the proper financing of shippers.

A series of commercial experiments will be undertaken by the government with a view to controlling the "apple scald" disease which annually causes tremendous loss to Ontario shippers.

All undertakings are based on the advice of Andrew Fulton, who was appointed last year by the government as their representative in Great Britain.

"The financing of shippers," said Mr. Ferguson, "has been a long-felt need, as it will allow absolute independence in marketing, besides a wider distribution for their product. In the past, exporters, through lack of finance, have been compelled to sell through foreign brokers, who made liberal advances at time of shipment."

A tour of local orchards in the Valley was undertaken after conclusion of the Hall meeting, and orchard problems were again discussed.—The Review-Herald.
