8:30-9:30 p.m.

Saturday, March 29

The Town of Halton Hills will once again join communities in Canada and throughout the world to participate in Earth Hour by turning off unnecessary lights, reducing energy use and taking action to help address climate change on Saturday, March 29, 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Earth Hour participation is voluntary, fun and informative.

The objective of Earth Hour is a symbolic action to bring awareness to climate change and practical actions which we can all take.

Participating in Earth Hour links millions of people globally that are willing to show they care about reducing their impact on the environment and the future health of our planet.

Even though people switch off lighting and reduce their energy use for one hour the impact of Earth Hour is long-lasting. This symbolic event promotes year-round energy conservation.
