Canada Welcomes Our King And Queen

Ontario Towns And Cities Will See Their Majesties

Addresses And Bouquets Will Be Presented 13 Stops Following Western Trip—Mayor, Councils and Local Officials In Each Case Will Welcome King George And Queen Elizabeth.

The inter-departmental committee arranging for the Royal visit has announced the official program for the King and Queen's tour of 13 Ontario cities and three days prior to crossing to the United States at Niagara Falls, Ont., for the trip to Washington.

Returning from the west coast and the Prairies, the Royal train will arrive at Sioux Lookout, Ont., from Melville, Sask., at 7.55 p.m., C.S.T., on Sunday, June 4, and will stay at the northwest Ontario town for ten minutes with the Prime Minister presenting the Mayor of Sioux Lookout and Mrs. Moran to Their Majesties.

On Monday, June 6, at 6.30 p.m., E.S.T., the Royal party is scheduled to arrive at Sudbury Junction where the King and Queen will descend to the station platform and the Prime Minister will present the Mayor of Sudbury and his daughter, Mis Laforest, and the Mayor of Copper Cliff. The train will leave Sudbury Junction at 7.20 p.m., E.S.T.

10-Minute Stops Planned

Three 10-minute stops will be made on the afternoon of June 6, at 1.35 p.m. E.S.T., the Royal train will arrive at Guelph, at 2.15 p.m. E.S.T. at Kitchener, and at 3.30 p.m. E.S.T. at Brantford.

At each city the Prime Minister will introduce the Mayor and his wife. The Mayor will present an address of welcome and then will present the members of the City Council, officials and their wives.

The Royal train will visit Windsor at 7.30 p.m. E.S.T. that evening and a 21-gun salute will be fired as Their Majesties leave the train to have the Prime Minister present the Mayor of Windsor and Mrs. Croll. A guard of honor will be inspected by the King and the Mayor will present His Majesty with an address from the people of Windsor. Her Majesty will accept a bouquet.

London, Windsor

On Wednesday, June 7, the Royal train will arrive at the C.N.R. station at London at 10 a.m. E.S.T. and the King and Queen will be met by the Mayor of London and his mother, Mrs. Johnston, who will be presented by the Prime Minister.

At 10.20 a.m. Their Majesties, the Prime Minister, an Ontario member of the Federal Cabinet, the Mayor and his mother, and the lading and gentlemen in waiting will drive through the city.

When passing the municipal offices, The King and Queen will sign the official visitors' book of the city which will be brought to their motor car. At 10.55 a.m. the Royal party returns to the C.N.R. station and at 11 a.m. the train leaves for Ingersoll where a stop will be made from 11.20 a.m. E.S.T. to 11.40 a.m. and the usual procedure regarding presentations at short stops followed.

Sign Visitors' Register

Another 10-minute stop will be made at Woodstock with the train arriving there at noon E.S.T. and the city officials will be presented as they also will be at Brantford where the Royal party arrives at 12.50 p.m., for a 15-minute stop. Besides the usual presentations at Brantford Their Majesties will autograph the Queen Anne Bible of the Six Nations Indians.

The sovereigns arrive at Hamilton at 1.45 p.m. E.S.T. and will meet the city officials. A 21-gun salute will be fired and a guard of honor inspected. Their Majesties, the Prime Minister, an Ontario member of the Federal Cabinet, the Mayor of Hamilton and Mrs. Morrison and the ladies and gentlemen in waiting will drive to the City Hall where the mayor will greet the Royal visitors, hand The King an address from the citizens of Hamilton and invite Their Majesties to sign the visitors' register. The Queen will accept a bouquet.

At Niagara Falls

A guard of honor will be inspected by The King and the train leaves at 3.10 p.m.

The Royal party arrives at St. Catharines at 3.45 p.m. E.S.T. Their Majesties will meet the Mayor and his wife and the city officials and their wives.

To Meet Royalty At U.S. Border

Secretary of State Cordell Hull will greet King George and Queen Elizabeth at the Canadian border when they enter the United States during their trip to America.

Hull will accompany the King and Queen by train to Washington, where President Roosevelt is to meet them at the station.

King Unveils New National War Memorial

Ceremony Highlights Their Majesty's Visit To Ottawa—Cornerstone Of New Supreme Court Building Laid By Queen Elizabeth.

The four-day panorama of state ceremonial and military pageantry in Ottawa May 20 will provide the King and Queen with a broad cross-section view of the capital's varied population.

Highlight of the visit of the King and Queen to Ottawa is the unveiling of the National War Memorial in Confederation Square, May 18. His Majesty's address to the thousands gathered about the massive granite pile in the city's main square is being broadcast to all Canada and the United States.

Trooping Of The Color

Secondary features of the capital program include laying of the cornerstone of the new Supreme Court building by Her Majesty, trooping of the color by the King, a state dinner, a dinner for members of the Senate and Commons, a birthday garden party for His Majesty and a state ceremony where the King will either give Royal assent to a number of bills or prorogue parliament.

Welcome From Governor-General

Cannon crashing out a Royal salute will herald the arrival of the Royal train from Montreal on May 17, an hour before noon. Prime Minister Mackenzie King will descend from the train with their Majesties, who will be welcomed to the capital by their hosts, Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir.

Also on the special platform beside the railway tracks on the outskirts of the city will be cabinet members, Senators and House of Commons members from the Ottawa area and Speakers of both Houses.

At 4.10 p.m. The King and Queen, the Prime Minister, an Ontario member of the Federal Cabinet, the ladies and gentlemen in waiting will drive to Niagara Falls, arriving at the boundary of the city at six p.m., where they will be met by a mounted escort. The King will receive a Royal salute from the escort and the Royal party will proceed to the administration building at Queen Victoria Park.

The procession will drive to the C.N.R. station at 9.10 p.m. and a guard of honor will be inspected by The King. At 9.20 p.m. the Royal train leaves Niagara Falls for the United States.

Planes To Escort King and Queen

R.C.A.F. Fighting Planes Accompany Their Majesties During Various Stages of Their Tour.

Escorts of fighting planes have been provided for King George VI and Queen Elizabeth by the Royal Canadian Air Force during various stages of their tour of Canada.

The air escort met the battleship Repulse at sea and accompanied it up the St. Lawrence River until the ship docked at Quebec City, May 15. Other planes will accompany the Royal train from Belleville Station, Ontario, to the Royal Canadian Air Force base at Trenton. A squadron will be also provided on the journey between Vancouver and Victoria and return.

Additional escorts will accompany Their Majesties from Cape Tormentine, N.B., to Charlottetown, P.E.I., and thence to Pictou, N.S. When the Empress starts the return journey to England from Halifax a flight will accompany it until beyond sight of Canadian territory.

Semi-Streamlined Engine Pulling It

Royal Train Piloted By 25 C. P. R. Engineers In Turn.

A semi-streamlined engine—No. 2850 of the Canadian Pacific power fleet is hauling the royal train from Quebec to Vancouver, while 25 C. P. R. engineers in turn handle the throttle on the coast-to-coast run.

From the time Engineer Eugene Leclerc took over the 2850 at Quebec City on May 16, until the train bearing King George VI and Queen Elizabeth pulls into Vancouver station May 29, the engine will have completed upward of 2,600 miles. It is believed to be a run not hitherto carried out by a single engine on the North American continent.

Russian ships have taken 1,188,000 tons of freight along the northern sea route between Archangel and the Behring Strait in the last six years.

Queen Brings Two Ladies With Her

Lady Nunburnholme And Lady Katherine Seymour Accompany Her Majesty On Royal Tour—Are Personal Attendants.

The Queen has chosen two ladies-in-waiting, of about her own age from among her friends to accompany her to Canada. They are both women who have known her since the days when they went to children's parties, and both have children who play with the young Princesses.

Lady Nunburnholme, tall, stately, lovely to look at, has fair English coloring and large grey eyes. She is 35, and as the youngest daughter of the Marquis of Bath, was Lady Mary Thynne before her marriage in 1927. Popular with the Royal family—at one time rumor went she was to marry the then Prince of Wales—she was one of the large retinue of bridesmaids at the Queen's wedding in Westminster Abbey and also an attendant when Princess Mary, now the Princess Royal, married Viscount Lascelles, son of a few months. She has three

Both Are Close Friends

Lady Katherine Seymour is the same age as the Queen and a widow of a few months. She has three small children, one son and two daughters, also playmates of the Buckingham Palace children.

Youngest daughter of the Duke of Abercorn, she was appointed to the present Royal household as lady-of-the-bedchamber on the same day as Lady Nunburnholme, March 1, 1937, when preparations for the Coronation were under way, and the Queen asked the help of her close friends.

Majesties Will Receive Quints

Presentation Will Be Made In Toronto May 22

King George VI has given his approval to the proposal that the Dionne quintuplets be presented to His Majesty and the Queen in Toronto, May 22.

Annette, Marie, Cecile, Emilie and Yvonne will meet the royal couple just six days before their fifth birthday on May 23. They are to be taken to Toronto in a special train under arrangements made by the Ontario Government.

Royal Train's Post Office

Philatelists will be able to obtain the special postmark of the Royal Train Post Office by sending to the Philatelic Division (Royal Train Covers,) Financial Branch, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Such Canadian postage stamps as are required to be cancelled with the special postmark, or a remittance sufficient to cover the value of stamps, should be sent in with the covers. Requirements may be stated in a brief, enclosed letter.

This special post office will be operated for the convenience of the Royal party and the officials accredited to the Royal Tour.

Royal Train Is Blue And Gold

Silver Panels Between The Windows; 12 Cars Included In Equipment For The King's Use.

The Royal Train which bears the King and Queen on their Canadian tour has 12 cars the same as the pilot train that will precede it, carrying the press officials.

Color scheme of the Royal Train is royal blue with silver panels between the windows and horizontal gold stripes above and below the window line for the length of cars. The two private cars of the Governor-General, which are being used to carry the King and Queen, carry the Royal coat of arms. Other cars bear the royal cypher and crown.

The Canadian National Railways prepared four locomotives and the Canadian Pacific, two.

Personnel

Cooks, waiters and porters on the Royal train were under close medical surveillance for 72 hours before they began the Canadian tour with King George and Queen Elizabeth. All food served to Their Majesties is carefully supervised for purity and all drinking water served is from a bottled supply of tested water.

There are 18 Canadian National Railways employees classified as food handlers and three or four Negro porters of the Canadian Pacific Railway sleeping car service assigned to the care of the Royal retinue.

Commemorative Medallions To Be Distributed

In Canadian-Mined Silver And In Bronze They Will Be Mementoes Of Royal Visit—School Children Receive Them Free.

Official commemorative medallions, in Canadian-mined silver and in bronze made from Canadian copper will be available as a small charge to the public through the Post Office, as mementoes of the Royal Visit of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth.

To further emphasize this epochal occasion, the Prime Minister, Right Honourable W. L. Mackenzie King has approved distribution of 2,500,000 similar Medallions to the school children of Canada. These are now being despatched to distributing centres. They all bear the likenesses of the King and Queen, and on the reverse side a special commemorative design. The Silver Medallions are over 1¼ inches in diameter—a little larger than a Canadian 50-cent piece and those of bronze are slightly smaller.

Obtainable At Post Offices

The Honourable N. A. McLarty, K.C., M.P., Postmaster General has arranged that the Medallions will be obtainable by the public at all post offices (including sub-post offices) or from the letter carriers at city offices.

The Silver Medallions will sell at 50 cents each, and those of bronze at 10 cents each.

Every effort will be made to supply the public demand.

The obverse (face side) of the official commemorative Medallions, display, facing left, the conjoint likenesses of Their Majesties wearing their crowns and robes of State, being modelled from a portrait taken at the time of Their Coronation. The likenesses were modelled by Mr. Percy Metcalf at special sittings graciously given him by the King and Queen. Mr. Metcalf is a noted English artist who has designed for the Royal Mint, London.

To prepare for an anticipated 10 per cent. increase in winter visitors, Miami, Fla., last year spent $21,500,000 for buildings, according to official statistics. Included in the total are 11 new hotels, 2,000 private homes and 46 apartment houses.

Dress Not Set For Royal Trip

Those Who Will Meet The King Can Suit Selves About Attire

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the royal visit, says that no instructions on the matter of dress have been issued.

"There's no sense in telling people they'll have to buy a complete new outfit because they'll be presented for 10 seconds to the King and Queen," he said. "We're issuing no instructions whatever on the matter of dress. People can wear what they like on any occasion."

Queen's Wardrobe Arouses Interest

Her Dresses Worn On North American Tour Will Revive Fashions For One - Color Schemes — Blues Predominate.

Now that the Queen has arrived in North America a revival is expected here of fashions for one-color schemes and ensembles in shaded tones of the same color, with white fur favored for trimming. Similar fur trims many of her evening wraps.

Blues predominate in the Queen's daytime clothes although there are blue shades and greys. One pastel blue day ensemble has a lavish white fox fur collar. Grey and navy have been banned as colors the Queen regards as unsuitable for her.

Beautiful Evening Gowns

Tulles and satins, mostly white, make up the Queen's crinolines. Some are richly embroidered in gold, others in silver. All her skirts for evening wear just sweep the ground.

On more formal occasions the Queen will wear a diamond circlet — the base of her crown — but otherwise she has not decided on evening headdress.

Those who have been able to see the script prepared by the CBC for the Empire Day Broadcast at which His Majesty will make his principal speech during his tour of Canada, declare it to be very impressive piece of writing. Simplicity is its keynote.

Each participant, typical citizens from all walks of life scattered throughout the Empire, has submitted his little speech in which he talks about himself and his work. There will be no frills and no pompous ceremonial.

Have You Heard ?

Tigers had been ravaging a village and the terror-stricken natives sent for the nearest white man to assist them.

This man was a crack shot and had never been known to miss. His method was to tie a goat to the foot of a tree at dusk, climb the tree, and when the tigers came for the goat, fire at the flash of their eyes. In the morning they would be found dead, shot straight between the eyes.

He followed his usual procedure the first night, but although he fired several shots, when day dawned the goat had gone and there were no dead tigers.

This happened on two succeeding nights. Perturbed, he took a huge torch with him on the fourth night and instead of firing at the flashing eyes, switched on his big torch, and saw, to his amazement, six tigers advancing in pairs each with one eyes shut!

"I suppose you carry a memento of some sort in that locket?" said one woman to another.

"Yes, a lock of my husband's hair."

"But your husband is alive."

"Sure; but his hair is gone."

"Would you like anything else with your dinner, sir?"

"Yes, that little blonde sitting in the corner over there."

Three slightly deaf men were motoring from the north to London in an old noisy car, and hearing was difficult.

As they were nearing London, one asked: "Is this Wembly?"

"No," replied the second, "this is Thursday."

"So am I," put in the third. "So let's stop and have one."

What Science is Doing

TREE RINGS IDEA UPSET

It is learned from the Forest Service of the Dominion of Canada that the rings is like trying to tell a woman's age by her looks.

The method usually rests one of man's oldest beliefs that trees put on one ring each year. They are visible when the trunk of a tree is sawed in two.

Trees were discovered in Texas that put on four rings. Hardly any were found that failed to add at least two anually.

TO SOBER UP DRUNKS

To sober up quickly when dead drunk, take an intravenous injection of insulin and of glucose. Discovery that these two "shots" will quickly reduce the alcohol in the blood was reported by Walter Goldfarb, Karl M. Bowman and Samuel Parker, of Bellevue and Kings County Hospitals, New York City.

They tried it on drunks brought to the hospital. The shots convert the alcohol into water and carbon dioxide.

WOULD BANISH ALL PAIN

Medical research workers have discovered a new anaesthetic which they believe will abolish pain all over the body.

The theory is that when body cells are injured they release a powerful substance known as histamine. This substance, it is thought, activates the endings of the nerves which carry pain sensations to and from the brain. The new anaesthetic called thymoxyethyldiethylamine, neutralizes the histamine and so no pain messages are sent to the brain.

GARDENING

CULTIVATION

Aside from the planning and planting, no early job compares with cultivation. Authorities do not agree as to how often one should cultivate. Some say once in June and once in July. Some say once a week all Summer, far from it. But they do request that the garden be dug once thoroughly first thing in the Spring, then cultivated once or twice afterwards. With proper tools this work need be no more than a healthy exercise. For the purpose, there is nothing better than a little three or five fingered cultivator or a Dutch hoe. Either of these implements will make short work of a vegetable or flower garden. Cultivation serves a double purpose, it keeps down weeds and it conserves moisture.

STONE WALKS

Particularly in the smaller garden where visitors and children soon wear grass thin along the edges of flower beds or between the house and the swing or arbor, regular paths are of very practical value. With a little care they will add beauty to the rest of the garden, too. Most pleasing material of all for this purpose is flagstones. These are broad, flat, thin slabs of any soft stone, usually found in abundance around certain river beds.

They are sunk flush with the ground so that the lawnmower will run over them, and at least an inch and a half of grass left between edges. Sometimes a little sand is placed under the stone for drainage.

Other walk materials are sand, cinder or brick.

WHEN TRANSPLANTING

Experts point out that the secret of successful transplanting is plenty of water, when the job is done and for a week or so afterwards. Of next importance will be shade and stimulant. Moving a plant is something like an operation for a human being, and the larger the specimen the more necessary the attention. With shrubbery and trees often main roots are cut and the shock is severe.

Eskimos Thrive Without Worry

Because they don't worry about rent, war scares and "age phychology, Eskimos rarely suffer heart disease, blood pressure or cancer," Dr. Victor E. Levine, professor of biological chemistry and nutrition of Creighton University Medical School, Omaha, Neb., said in an interview last week.

Dr. Levine compared Eskimos who keep track of their ages and never celebrate birthdays—"That's why they are young till they die."

1. When a young man has been introduced to a girl, and likes her very much, is it all right for him to ask permission to call on her?

2. Isn't it a friendly gesture to hold a person's hand, or place a hand on his arm, while talking with him?

3. What would be a good toast for a host to offer to a guest?

4. Should a business letter always be signed personally by some member of the firm, or is a typewritten signature sufficient?

5. Is it correct to refer to draperies as "drapes"?

6. When a man takes a woman to dinner, should he offer her his right arm or his left?

Answers

1. Yes, after he has been in her company for a reasonable time, but not within the first twenty or thirty minutes. 2. It may be a friendly gesture, but it is very annoying to some people and should be avoided. 3. "To our guest, and our only request is that he be our guest often." 4. Every letter should be signed with pen and ink. 5. No; say "draperies." One might as well refer to curtains as "curts." 6. He should offer his right arm.

Moisture Delays Western Seeding

North Areas Worst in Saskatchewan; Wheat Planting Varies Widely By Districts

Approximately 30 to 35 per cent of Saskatchewan wheat acreage had been sown by the first week in May according to reports received by the statistics branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Advanced In South

There is a wide variation in the amount completed in different districts. Southeastern, Regina-Weyburn and south central areas are the furthest advanced with an average of about 50 per cent completed. In the northern, and eastern portion of Central Saskatchewan moist condition of the soil caused delay and little seeding has been done. In other parts of the central district fair progress has been made and taking the area as a whole about 20 per cent has been completed.

In west central Saskatchewan about 10 per cent of the wheat has been sown.

How Can I?

BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make a good soap substitute for washing ribbons, and also delicate woollen goods?

A.—Some people claim that two or three potatoes grated into a pan of water will give even better results than soap for this purpose.

Q.—How can I prevent eggs from breaking or sticking to the pan when poaching?

A.—Put a few drops of vinegar into the water. Another method is to grease the pan before putting the water into it.

Q.—What is a good tonic for plants?

A.—The water in which beef has been washed is an excellent tonic treatment for plants, especially for roses and geraniums.

Q.—How can I restore the nap of velvet?

A.—Hold the wrong side of the velvet over a boiling kettle, or rub it across the bottom of a hot flat iron which has been turned upside down.

Q.—How can I soften hard water?

A.—There are several agents that may be used for softening hard water. Among them are lemon juice, borax, or an oatmeal bag.

Q.—How can I increase my weight?

A.—It is said that a wineglass of cream taken after each meal will increase the weight.

SCOUTING

The Boy Scouts of Canada are all ready to play their important part during the visit of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. At the various stopping places of the royal tour they will assist in the care of crowds, and in traffic control. In the larger centres they will maintain medical first aid posts, and will operate lost children bureaus and rest rooms. On incoming highways they will co-operate in the staffing of information booths for the benefit of motorists.

On May 20, the King's official birthday, the Scouts will give the leadership across Canada in the celebration of the day by burning a chain of beacons, accompanied by fireworks, in the evening, as was done so successfully to mark the King's Coronation in 1937.

As a unique international demonstration of Scout neighborliness, during the day, May 20, Canadian and American Scouts will meet at various points along the boundary line, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for a goodwill ceremony, and the planting of "King's Birthday Trees." Notable gatherings are expected on the historic Niagara border, and at Windsor and Detroit.

As a result of the outstanding success of the recent Toronto Scout Cyclorama—a fair of booths representing over 100 educational features of the Scout training—held in the Canadian National Exhibition Coliseum and adjoining arena, C.N.E. officials discussed the possibility of the Scout show being made a feature of the great fall fair. The Cyclorama was attended by crowds reminding of big days of the "Ex."

One of the features of the Scout Cyclorama was a long street of hobby work by Wolf Cubs and Scouts, displaying literally thousands of items, from art work to airplanes of every known model, and appetizing examples of the culinary efforts of young camp cooks.

Floods Uncover Bones of Ice Age

Bones were found of such extinct animals as giant bisons, wild horses, mastodons, a species of wild pigs and possibly ground sloths.

These animals roamed the Ohio valley at least 50,000 years ago. The skeletons were those of animals trapped in mud and quicksand.

Man Helpless Without Food

Although His Spiritual Life, His Intellectual Life May Be A Void — Cooking Pot Wins His Affections

Man may live without learning he may thrive without culture and his spiritual life may be void. But he cannot live without food and Frank says Erich Ammon, head chef at London, England's Hotel Dorchester.

When I see a lady wasting her time with a lipstick and powder puff I feel inclined to remind her that from the beginning of all time it has been the cooking pot, not the paint pot, that has won the affections of man.

The man who grows food—whether he is a farmer or a coffee planter—and the chef or cook who prepares that food is as important to a nation's well being as any scientist or physician.

Towards Health and Happiness

Of all the needs of humanity the need of food is the most urgent and the most important. Almost all the other urges of the human body, even the desire for sleep, can to a large extent be suppressed. But without food, and indeed, without good food, the human body and the human mind cannot possibly carry out their duties efficiently. That is why of all the people who minister to human health and happiness, the chef can with justice claim to be really the most important, said Chef Aymoz.

Bag of Flour Was Traded for Scalp

Frank Dobbs, formerly of Shoal Lake, Man., has just celebrated his golden wedding at Prince Albert, his bride being Miss Mamie McMillan. He is an ex-Mountie, and in a story in the Winnipeg Free Press he tells this interesting story of his early days:

"I was on patrol along the old Hudson Bay trail one day, when I saw an Indian caravan pass, with a stick protruding from one of their carts, and on the stick a fine Indian scalp floating in the breeze with hair on it over 12 inches long and fragments of feathered headgear adhering to the skin. I traded a bag of flour for the scalp, and later presented it to the Dublin Museum."

1. Will you please give me your opinion on the value of tobacco scrap for manure purposes? The scrap I refer to is the fine dust and broken up leaves which come from the factory. This is being used some in this county as fertilizer for fruit trees, and I would be glad of any information you can give me as to its ten value. "C. G. B., Norfolk County."

Tobacco waste material is quoted as having plantfood composition as follows:

	N	PO.	KO.
Tobacco Leaves	4.00	.50	6.00
Tobacco Stalks	3.70	.65	4.50
Tobacco Stems	2.50	.50	7.00

These figures would show the waste material from the tobacco plant to be of considerable value from the standpoint of Nitrogen and especially Potash.

2. I have nine acres of hay land that was seeded down in 1927 to 5 lbs. Alfalfa, 4 Red Clover, 2 Alsike and 3 of Timothy. Hay was taken off in 1933, then pastured. Could I fertilize this land to advantage this Spring for pasture? What kind of fertilizer and how much to the acre would you advise? "W. E. P., Middlesex Co."

I believe you would obtain excellent results from top-dressing your legume and grass mixture with 0-12-20 or 0-12-15 fertilizers at the rate of 250 lbs. per acre. This mixture has given excellent results in our tests. Legumes use much Potash as well as Phosphate.

Less Than Half Still On Farms

2,672 British Settlers to The Prairies in 1926-28; Got Free Land

Of the 2,627 settlers who came to Canada from 1924 to 1928 under the Empire settlement agreement between the Canadian and United Kingdom governments, 1,105 are still on the farms allotted them, in the Prairie Provinces, William Hayhurst, Social Credit, Vegreville, was told in answer to questions he placed on the Commons order paper.

The agreement between the two governments, negotiated in 1924, provided that the United Kingdom assisted in the passage of settlers and in equipping their farms. Canada's part was to supply the land.

Of the 1,105 remaining, 576 are in Alberta, 366 in Saskatchewan and 163 in Manitoba.
