THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 3, 1879.

In the McCabe poisoning case at Woodstock, on Saturday, the jury failed to agree.

Neil Livingstone was convicted of manslaughter at the Barrie Assizes on Monday, April 1. Sentence was deferred.

Hanlan, the Champion oarsman of America, is practising every day for his row with Hawdon, which is to come off on the Tyne, on May 5th.

The Reformers of South Wellington will meet in the Town Hall, Guelph, to select a candidate to contest that riding for the local house.

There is a child in Innisfil that has a father and mother, two grandfathers and two grandmothers, two great grandfathers and four great grandmothers.

In all likelihood the elections of the members for the Local Legislature will be held in June next. Both the candidates for Halton County have a card in this issue, and we understand that each is laboring hard to secure his election.

The printers of Toronto are signing petitions to the Government stating that the importation of electrotype plates injures their business; that a duty of 10 per cent. is not high enough, and that at least a duty of 30 per cent. per thousand ought to be levied.

To temper justice with mercy appears to be the policy of King Humbert of Italy, for, while the would-be assassins of King Alphonso and the Emperor William have paid the penalty with their lives, and many of the Russian Nihilists have been visited with the direct punishments, the attempted regicide, Passanvale, has been condemned to imprisonment for life. Of course there will be differences of appreciation of the mercy herein displayed; but it is an excellent sign that the King of Italy should have for this capital offence waived his right to an effusion of blood.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Editor, while willing to open his columns for the free discussion of all matters of public interest, does not hold himself in any way responsible for the opinions of his correspondents. Correspondents are requested to be brief, to write legibly, and on one side of their paper only. All letters must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Explanation.

To the Editor of the Free Press.

DEAR SIR:—I notice in your last issue that you said that some of the members of the Congregational Church had informed you concerning Mr. Breese, and now I take that responsible on myself, as the church had nothing to do with it. You also stated that the statements regarding the character of Mr. Breese were without foundation, but that is not correct. He came to Acton about the first of February and introduced himself as a Congregational minister. He has no proper credentials to show his ever being a Congregational minister, and from the many contradictory statements that he made while he was in Acton, it goes to show that he is not a true man. He stated in our house that he had preached in Milwaukee seven years, and that he had preached two years in Chatham, for the Presbyterians, and he also stated that he preached twenty-five years in another church—I know not where. He also stated that he was only 35 years of age, and according to these statements he must have begun to preach when he was one year old. I am informed that the Congregational ministers will not have anything to do with the said Mr. T. T. Breese. He is, without doubt, a questionable character, and I am prepared to uphold all I have said with regard to him. The North Erin Congregational Church wrote to headquarters in Toronto, in regard to Mr. Breese supplying that church, the reply is "dont want him."

Hoping you will allow space for above in the columns of your valuable paper,

I am

Yours Respectfully,

P. S. ARMSTRONG.

Acton, March 31st, 1879.

[In reference to the above communication from Mr. Armstrong we might say that he was the only member of the church who called and requested us to insert the first article, but other members of the Congregational Church had spoken to us concerning the matter. But last week our printer in setting the article concerning Mr. Breese made it read, "when we inserted the former article we did so by special request of the church members," instead of "by some of the church members." We will say nothing further in connection with this matter kept in our own defence and will not hold ourselves responsible for any opinions advanced by correspondents. —ED. F. P.]

South Africa.

The recent reports from South Africa, in the opinion of the English papers, prove conclusively that both Sir Bartle Frere and Lord Chelmsford are much to blame for the calamitous defeat of the British troops. Sir Bartle Frere is blamed for being too peremptory in his demands, and to precipitate in attempting to enforce them. And Lord Chelmsford certainly allowed himself to be out-generalled by the fierce African chief. Conciliatory measures might have prevented the whole affair. Cetewayo's was at his accession, and continued for years, as friendly as Chaka, his predecessor had been to England. The authorities of the Cape were represented at his installation as sovereign in 1873, and he was described at the time by Sir Theophilus Shepstone as "in every respect far above any native chief I have ever had to deal with." Sir Bartle Frere suddenly added new and severe terms of submission to the stipulations about the land in dispute, demanding, among other things, the disbanding of Cetewayo's army, which virtually forced the Zulu King to fight or completely surrender.

ELECTRICITY? THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL! WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD. Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from different parts of Canada, which, we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical: J. Collard, of Sparta, Ont., writes, "Send me 6 dozen Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, have sold all I had from you, and want more now, its cures are truly wonderful." Wm. McGuire, of Franklin, writes, "I have sold all the agent left, it sets like a charm—it was slow at 6 at, but takes splendidly now." H. Cole, of Iona, writes, "please forward 6 dozen Thomas' Eclectric Oil—I am nearly out, nothing equals it. It is highly recommended by those who have used it." J. Bedford, Thamesville, writes, "Send at once a further supply of Eclectric Oil, I have only one bottle left. I never saw anything sell so well and give such general satisfaction." J. Thompson, Woodford, writes, "Send me some more Eclectric Oil. I have sold entirely out. Nothing takes like it." Miller & Reid, Ulverton, P.O., write, "The Eclectric Oil is getting a great reputation here, and is daily called for. Send us a further supply without delay."

BEWARE OF IMITATION.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of E. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. Sold by G. E. Morrow and all medicine dealers. Price 25cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

IN MEMORIUM.

Lines on the Death of MAGGIE FERGUSON, who died of consumption, March 16th, 1879, aged 18 years.

(For the FREE PRESS.)

Our Maggie is gone from our side,
And we are left mourning below;
Yet, why would we mourn when our dear Saviour died,
And she truly believed this, we know.

The youngest is called from our midst,
An eternal farewell she has given
To earth and its cares, its sorrows and toils,
But we hope that we'll meet her in Heaven.

We'll not think of this body of clay,
Which we in the church yard have lain;
But that bright angel spirit which cannot decay
With the body we've laid with the dead.

Yet, we're laid this poor body down,
Beside the dear departed one,
But the spirit is free in the regions above,
In company with Jesus and God.

Though she may not come back to us,
(And we would not wish it to do,)
Yet we may all meet in that bright world above,
In that land where from sin we are free.

O, may we be able to walk
In that path that our Saviour has trod,
That when we are gone we all may go forth
Joyfully to the presence of God.

And there with that blood-washed throng,
Who have gone to that world before,
We will sing His praises in unbroken song,
And parting be felt never more.

MANHOOD,

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the RADICAL AND PERMANENT CURE, without medicine, of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Extract, in a sealed envelope, only six cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that self-abuse, in its consequences, may be effectually cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

CATARRH

CONSTITUTIONAL Catarrh Remedy

CURES CATARRH

THOUSAND'S APPLAUD ITS WONDERFUL CURES.

HEAR WHAT A REVEREND GENTLEMAN SAYS OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDY.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq.

BROCKVILLE, ONT.

DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkerton in August 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper.

Yours truly,

W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister.
