GLT-YC recreates Roaring '20s in Semi-Monde

By ROXANNE THORTON

Georgetown Little Theatre Youth Company will present a delightfully 'dishonest comedy' by Noel Coward this coming week. His Semi-Monde oozes the opulence and excess of the 1920s as Coward explores the questionable morals and hilarious monotony of the lives of the upper class elite.

GLT-YC gives Georgetown the rare glimpse at this delightful work, of which strict Victorian censors forbid Coward to produce during his lifetime. Directed by Sam Hancock, Semi-Monde will be presented evenings at 7:30 p.m. May 1, 2, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 2 p.m. May 3, 4, 10 at the Georgetown Studio, 33 Stewarttown Rd.

The play spans several years in the mid-1920s and is set in the lobby, restaurant and bars of the Ritz Hotel in Paris. Although it follows the lives of French, English, Russian and American socialites—that is the bitching, coupling, flirting and seductive affairs. It is said to be the "most autobiographical" treatment of homosexuality ever written in its time. It is disarmingly frank but charming and witty all the same. The costumes, and mannerisms are sure to transport all to a magical time where one can sit back and just enjoy the love of the journey. Coward's witty banter is sure to keep one transfixed upon this gossipy fast paced comedy of manners and social masks. Be transported back in time to a day where life was just a game. Come and enjoy.

Tickets are $10, reserved seating, so please call GLT Studio 905-877-3422 to reserve.
