NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The temperance people all over the Province are organizing for the plebiscite on prohibition. One of the best authorities on the temperance side estimates that a total vote throughout Ontario of 300,000 will be given, of which 175,000 will be for prohibition, 125,000 against, giving a majority for prohibition of 50,000.

According to the estimates of 1893-4 the German navy numbers, inclusive of midshipmen and cadets, 1,231 officers and 18,249 men, or a total of 19,480. The floating material consists of nineteen ironclads, eighteen armoured vessels, two cruiser frigates, nine cruiser corvettes, eight cruisers, three gun-boats, nine despatch vessels eleven training ships, and twelve other vessels, making a total, exclusive of torpedo boats, of ninety one vessels of all sorts.

The last issue of the Canada Gazette contains notice of the cancellation of the registry of the Dominion Provident Benevolent and Endowment Association, of Stratford, and the refusal of the application for incorporation of the Provincial Council of the Order of Chosen Friends. There will be less loosely conducted fraternal insurance and fewer fake endowment schemes now that a system of inspection and registration has been organized.

The final stage of the fourteen days debate on the silver question was entered upon by Congress on Monday. The general debate continued until yesterday, and throughout the last three days of the week the debate will be conducted under the five minute rule. It will close by limitation of agreement, unless the House sooner adjourns, at 12 o'clock midnight Saturday. Next Monday the vote will be taken. It is improbable that anything will be done in the Senate. The outlook for the week is one of much talk but little achievement.

The Hay Trade Journal notes a weaker tendency in its review of the hay market. The foreign demand has greatly decreased, and cables just received show that the percentage there is lower than here, when transportation expense is considered. Speculating in hay on the prospect of a foreign demand is dangerous at the moment. J. J. Keeble, hay merchant, of London, Eng., states that hay shipments to Europe are abating, owing to the favorable second crop abroad. Hay freights from Canada he considers somewhat excessive, and till they are reduced, or until local prices drop, he does not think exports will be very extensive.

Military men all over the country have taken interest in the visit of the British troops to Toronto this week. The soldiers are a fine looking lot of fellows and were the observed of all observers at the World's Fair, where they made the cracks of the American regiments feel that the art of soldiering is not thoroughly understood in the States. The exhibition has given our volunteers and their admirers a chance to see how their cousins in the motherland do things. What with the crowds and the music, the brilliant uniforms and glittering trappings, the tournaments were most interesting and memorable.

The currency of Canada is based upon gold, and yet it is a remarkable fact that we should have for our gold coins the money of a foreign nation and the inharmonious sterling coinage of the mother country. With a gold coin of our own, in which our Dominion notes would invariably be redeemed, there would be no basis for complaint. The cost would not be great, while the advantages would be many. It is time that our monetary system should be completed. We have a banking system to be proud of. Our financial system requires but the corner stone of a Canadian gold coinage, which we would like to see made as soon as possible. As long as it was not made legal tender in the United States, it would remain with us as satisfactorily as our present sovereigns and eagles. Montreal True Witness.

The Sunday Street Car agitation will come to a conclusion on Saturday next when the vote will be taken. Readers of Toronto newspapers have been very much interested in the heated arguments and reports of meetings pro and con for a month past. No local question has ever stirred the people as the Sunday Car agitation has done. It has been the means of holding more public meetings and has perhaps engendered more excitement than a general election. In fact the question is felt to have provincial significance and thousands of people throughout Ontario are as anxious as to the result of Saturday's voting as the citizens of Toronto. It is devoutly hoped by the Christian people of Toronto generally as well as by their friends outside the city, that the Sunday car advocates will be defeated by a majority so decisive that the question will never again be mooted.

LITERARY NOTES

The September Harper's Magazine which will be published next Tuesday (August 22) will contain a brilliant account of "A General Election in England," by Richard Harding Davis, illustrated by W. Hatherell; "An Albany Dutch Town," a description of Rensselaerwyck, by Elizabeth Robins Pennell, with twelve illustrations by Joseph Pennell; "Tess," a narrative of stirring events in the State's history, and a description of its resources, by ex Senator Samuel Bell Maxey; "The Letters of James Russell Lowell," by Charles Eliot Norton; "Down Love Lane," in Old New York, by Thomas A. Janvier; "The Diplomacy and Law of the Isthmian Canals," by Sidney Webster, and Edward Everson Barnard the director of Lick Observatory, by S. W. Burnham. The fiction of the Number is agreeably varied. Wm Black's "The Handsome Humes" reaches its climax, and Miss Woolson's "Horace Chase" approaches an end, which will be reached in the October Magazine. There are two short stories, "Gabriel, and the Lost Millions of Peroto," by Maurice Kingsley, and "The General's Sword," by Robert C. V. Meyers, while "A Gentleman of the Royal Guard," by William McLennan, tells a tale as romantic as any in fiction, that of the life of Daniel de Cresseliou, Sieur du Lhut, the hero of Dr. A. Conan Doyle's novel The Refugees.

Of special and timely interest is an illustrated article in the Methodist Magazine for September by Rev. Professor Wallace, of Victoria University, on the Free Church Jubilee, recounting the heroic self sacrifices of the fathers and founders of the Free Church of Scotland. Another illustrated article of much interest is one by Mrs Helen Campbell, entitled "Light in Dark Places," giving graphic pictures of Jerry McAuley's Mission rescue work in the slums of New York. A brilliant character study of Thomas Carlyle, with striking portrait, conveys a better impression than many persons have of that great writer. "A Young Heart of Oak" is a brief record by the Editor of the brave young life of Lieutenant Harry Boldero in H. M. Royal Navy. The Editor also describes with full pictorial illustration the famous Nob's Sanctuary, or Mosque of Omar, on the site of the Jewish Temple on Mount Moriah, one of the most sacred spots on earth. "City Charities," by Rev. Dr. Harrison, is a careful study in Christian sociology. A strong paper by Joseph Cook describes Anglo-Saxon Federation, a dream which seems nearer fulfillment than ever before. The brilliant illustrated papers on British India, by W. S. Caine, M. P., approach completion. Toronto: Wm. Briggs. Price $2.00 a year, $1.00 for six months.

A HORRIBLE DEATH

The Awful Fate of a Little Boy in the Chair Factory at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Aug. 18.—A terrible accident occurred last evening in the North American Chair Factory by which 9 year old Freddie Mitchell lost his life and was mangled in a terrible manner by the circular saw. The boy entered the factory presumably to go his brother who works there. He was not noticed by any of the employees. Henry Hutchinson sawyer for the company had his back turned engaged in turning a log when suddenly he heard a very strange sound at the saw. Wondering what was the matter he was horrified to find young Mitchell caught by the arm in the guide block and the saw tearing through his skull and body. As quickly as possible the machinery was stopped but it was too late, as the whole back portion of the boy's skull was completely severed from his head and the left arm and shoulder torn off. Dr Cameron coroner was called to the scene, and after a careful examination decided that no inquest would be necessary as in his opinion no blame attached to any one for the accident.

KNATCHBULL

On Friday morning last week Mr John Anderson threshed for Mr D. Agnew of Knatchbull 300 bushels of oats from one load. He had two men to truck wagon and was drawn by John Parker's team. They were the finest oats Knatchbull truck three men carrying boxes. Anyone doubting this is invited to Mr Agnew's to see for themselves.

Mr Thomas Wood, Nassagaweya, had one of his best aged cows die night last week. It got on its back in a furrow. The sheep was a fine one and took first prize last fall wherever it was shown.

Mrs David Jamieson and her two youngest daughters of Port Huron are visiting relatives and friends in Nassagaweya at present.

Some of the farmers have finished harvest. While others are hurrying along to finish up before annual Harvest Home Festival next Tuesday, which is to be held on Mr Geo. Easterbrook's Lawn. A good time is expected.

The Chapel Carriage Company terminated their labors here with a largely attended mass meeting in the town hall on Sunday evening.

Mr. Alex. Ashinhurst and wife, of Toronto, are celebrating at Mr. Ashinhurst's old home here.

Quite a number from this neighborhood took advantage of the Workmen's excursion to Niagara Falls on Thursday, for a day's pleasure and sight seeing. They report themselves as well pleased with the trip. Some of the young gentlemen who took in the excursion and especially one from a neighboring village to the south, thought they had lived long enough and were with difficulty restrained from throwing themselves into the river.

We are treated to refreshing showers almost daily now, and the grass is getting green again. On Saturday evening we had one of the heaviest showers, that has fallen here for years.

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Silsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I feel it my duty as a clergyman, more than a layman, to tell what I believe he speaks, should help to keep up

Article of Merit

and really, from what I see of his family have been signally benefited and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their comfortes. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe for which she found little help. She has tried many things, but pronounced well but performs little. I had told a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what that bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing it as serviceable."

ACTIVITY

The intense heat coupled with the exodus from city to country, makes business continued to be dull. The inclination is not with greater activity than usual. The finest goods in the store are caught in the bargain current, and everything belonging to warm weather is selling for little indeed. Our determination to turn goods into money would be better appreciated could you see the car loads of merchandise already on their way from Europe for the coming season's trade.

We shall keep busy all summer long. There's too much ahead to warrant our being idle a minute.

While we are actively engaged disposing of stock on hand our buyer is also busy in the Old World, selecting fine after fine of the goods which we shall presently show you as our Fall Importations. After buying largely in Berlin, he went to Paris and London, and is at present in the north of England, visiting one manufacturer after another. Firm advices just received from him, we feel justified in promising you a stock for Fall that shall fully equal if not excel anything we have shown you in former years.
