The Young Folks.

TELL YOUR LASS YOU LOVE HER.

What's the use of waiting till you're older?
Tell your lass you love her true to day,
She'll not love you less for being bolder
What's the use of waiting till you're gray?

Love has always claimed the summer weather,
Sunny hours and roses are his own,
Love and youth and sunshine go together,
Do not wait till summer time has flown.

The lass you lord may listen to another,
Tipple your proffered love to another,
And her growing love for you should not refuse,
If she never has a chance from you she'll smother
What's the use of love's offering to choose

Who'd expect a poetic lover that is unspoken?
For such tactiful speech a girl to wait
By hiding a true love's heart? And hearts are broken
Who can blame a lover until too late.

That it need a woman, then, for feeling
To know his worth, not take a than a year
Vealing mind, and true love's prompting
Will n[illegible]
Do h[illegible] offend the lady, never fear.
[illegible] wait to write a pretty letter
[illegible] more romantic time to find
Good, plain spoken words are always better
Than any fine effusion of the mind

Only tell your sweetheart that you love her,
And if you must wait, ask her to wait,
Happiness and sunny skies shine over,
Blighted hopes, know a happy fate.

And the years you wait while you are winning
Fortune's smiles to shine upon your life,
Will be happy years. Make a beginning.
Ask your sweetheart, now, to be your wife.

ANNE KINNE.

"HAPPENINGS."

"Don't you wish something would happen?" said a young girl, yawning, to her companion, as I passed her.

My, dear, thought I, rather bless Providence when nothing happens.

However, she had many years yet to see before she could take that adult view of things; the ordeal and butter region was beginning to get mapped, that was all, that passed, she fancied all would be blue sky and roses beyond.

What "happens" to one's neighbor is too apt to be no concern of ours, 'tis true, but one must, walk with closed eyes through the streets of a great city not to see constant "happenings."

Yonder poor woman, followed by a shouting crew of boys, and struggling in the grasp of a policeman, her lips white with fear, what can have "happened" to her?

And so surely as that knot of crape flutters from yonder door, there has "happened" in, over that threshold, a strange, unbidden guest, who would take no denial.

And there is a true woman, her eyes bent earthward with unmerited shame, guiding home the staggering steps of him on whom she should have leaned?

And farther on a house painter sits swinging aloft, brush in hand, humming gayly at his work; a treacherous step, and he lies a mingled heap upon the pavement. Ah, who has courage to tell the busy little wife at home what has "happened" to him?

And at yonder pier they are busy over "a body." That is all they know of him whose blue lips keep their own secret well.

And peering through the bars of that locked cart, jolting over the stones, are eyes that looked innocently into the faces of fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, before this "happened."

And so, thinking of all these things as I listened to that young girl, I said: Blessed is that day, my dear when nothing "happens."

FANNY FERN

A face which is always serene possesses a mysterious and powerful attraction, and hearts come to it as to the sun to warm themselves again.

IT'S RATHER TOO MUCH FOR YOU — the ordinary, bulky pill. Too big to take, and too much disturbance for your poor system. The small, cost, easient to take, and look at Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They leave out all the disturbance, but yet do you more good. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and permanently cured. Prevention is Better

Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acid which causes the disease. You can rely upon Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for rheumatism and catarrh, also for every form of scrofula, salt rheum, boils and other diseases caused by impure blood. It tones and vitalizes the whole system.

Hood's Pills are easy and gentle in effect.

Well Adapted

The effective action on the glandular system and the blood, and the general regulating tonic and purifying of B B B especially adapt it for the bilious, nervous, costive or scrofulous. From three to six bottles will cure all blood diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nervoline, would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nervoline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain. It penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief

The Signs

She is not in love with that man, whom she freely praises and of whom she often not speaks, but if there is one whom she never names, if she starts and blushes when others name him if she can find no voice to answer the most common place question he addresses her, if she avoids him and will have none of him if she pettishly finds fault with him when he is commended to her notice by others look sharp for that is the man. Funny Folks

Prevailing Sickness

The most prevalent complaints at this season are rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, inflammations and congestions. For all these and other painful troubles Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best internal and external remedy

HONORABLE EMPLOYMENT.

Let the young man remember there is nothing derogatory in any employment which ministers to the well being of the race. It is the spirit that is carried into an employment that elevates it or degrades it. The plowman that turns the clod may be a Cincinnatus or a Washington, or he may be brother to the clod he turns. It is every way creditable to handle the yard stick and to measure tape, the only discredit consists in having a soul whose range of thoughts is as short as the stick, and as narrow as the tape

MISTAKES.

The Scientific American not long since published a paragraph entitled "Mistakes of a Life." The mistakes were summed up as follows:

It is a great mistake to set up our standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

To measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in the world.

To endeavor to mould all dispositions alike.

To yield to little trifles.

To look for perfection in our actions.

To worry ourselves and others with that which cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as we can.

Not to make allowance for the infirmities of others.

To consider impossible what you cannot perform.

To expect to be able to understand everything.

AMUSEMENTS TEST QUESTIONS

Do those indulged in rest and strengthen or weary and weaken the body.

Do they rest and strengthen or weary and weaken the brain?

Do they make resistance to temptation easier or harder?

Do they increase or lessen love for virtue purity, temperance and justice?

Do they increase or diminish respect for manhood and womanhood?

Do they draw one nearer to, or remove one farther from Christ? Our Young Folks.

Cure For Ill-Temper.

A sensible woman, the mother of a young family taught her children from the earliest childhood to consider ill humor as a disorder which was to be cured by physic. Accordingly, she had always small doses ready, and the little patients, whenever it was thought needful took rhubarb for the crossness. No punishment was required. Peevishness or ill temper and rhubarb were associated in their minds always as cause and effect.

MACAULAY AND THE BARBER.

Macaulay, it appears, was unhandy to a degree quite unexampled in the experience of all who knew him. After he had sailed for India (says his biographer) there were found in his chambers between fifty and sixty strops hacked into strips and splinters, and razors without beginning or end. About the same period he hurt his hand, and was reduced to send for a barber. After the operation, he asked what was to pay. "Oh, sir, said the man, 'whatever you usually give the person who shaves you.' In that case, said Macaulay, 'I should give you a great pack on each cheek.'"

Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." Dr. J. F. Kincheloe, Conway, Ar.

Castoria. "Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." GERMAN-ENGLISH MANTLES!

We have sought for a term to apply to our Mantles this season, and we have adopted "German-English" as just covering it. Why do we say German-English? Because that is just what they are—English cloth, German make. England guarantees the cloth, Germany the style and fit; and we backed by two of the first nations, hold ourselves responsible for the good conduct of every one of our Mantles.

Not every one can afford to buy a jacket every season, but even to those who can, quality is a very important matter, because a coat that will wear out in one season will become shabby in one week. We are not the only people in Guelph who sell Mantles, but we do claim to give more attention to their qualities. The goods are all chosen by us from the best English cloths and made by the best German manufacturers.
