The Fire at Fairview Place

The fire at the residence of Mrs. C. S. Smith, referred to briefly in last issue, caused considerable damage to the building, while the furniture, carpets and other contents were badly damaged by water, smoke and their hasty removal. When the location of the fire was seen by daylight any one could understand that it was only by energetic and courageous efforts that it was subdued. The bath room, one or two bed rooms, and the dining room were the points of greatest injury. The roof was burned through in a number of places, and the greenhouse suffered severely. The Waterloo Mutual Fire Insurance Company, in which the insurance was held, sent their inspector and valuator down on Monday and in the company with Mr. John Cameron, contractor, the losses to building and contents were estimated at $600.

T. Tecumseh. Many others of similar strain might be produced.

ROCKWOOD

The annual meeting of the Eramosa Agricultural Society was held in the Town Hall last Thursday. The attendance was large. John Duff, President in the chair. The first carnival of the season took place on Friday evening, and it proved most enjoyable and successful. The ice was in good condition for skating, and the races were especially interesting. In the race between Wilson and Gillespie, the former won and Fred Jage was successful in capturing the barrel and egg race, and Tom Garstang captured the one-mile race. A number of prizes were given to those in costume.

The Eramosa Plebiscite Association had a meeting in the Methodist Church, Rockwood, on Monday. The work of the recent campaign was reported on, and a permanent prohibition organization formed, with the same officers as the Plebiscite Association.

We have received a handsomely printed calendar from the office of the Acton FREE PRESS, for which Bro. Moore will please accept our thanks.—Milton Reformer.

LIMEHOUSE

Rev. Wm. Bryers, of Acton, preached in the Methodist Church here on Sunday.

From the minutes of last meeting of Guelph City Council the people there entertain the hope that Messrs. Newton and Son will locate their blanket factory in that city. The report of the finance Committee contained the following clause: "The application of J. Newton & Son in reference to locating their blanket and woollen factory here, we would recommend that the Finance Committee be empowered to rent them the shirt factory lately occupied by the Williams, Green & Rome Co., at a nominal sum as the committee may deem it advisable, and exempt the firm from city taxes for a term of ten years, on condition that the said J. Newton & Son put in plant to the value of $11,000, and employ from 15 to 20 hands to start with, and increase the number of hands yearly, if it so may be agreed upon, and that the By law Committee be authorized to bring in a by law in accordance with the report."

Considerable disappointment is felt here that Mr James Newton failed to receive the appointment of the postmaster of Georgetown. He would have made a good officer.

GEORGETOWN

Division Court Sittings were [illegible] Tuesday.

There is considerable indignation expressed here at the appointment, by the member for the county, of his son to be postmaster at Georgetown. A petition is being circulated and largely signed praying the Post master General to continue Miss Goodenow in the office during the life of her father.

He was for many years a minister of the Presbyterian Church, and was well known in this county. Back in the seventies Mr. Tait was principal of the Georgetown Academy and it was during his term that it enjoyed its palmiest days.

The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.
