THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and Every Item Interesting.

Another Old Resident Gone.

Mrs. Jane Sharp who passed away on Sunday morning at the residence of her son, James, after a long and painful illness was one of our oldest residents. She was born at Smithville in 1811, and subsequently removed to Erin township, near Ballinafad. In the year 1831 she was married to John Sharp, and in 1850 they removed to the farm above Acton, at present owned by Mr. H. H. Worden. About twenty years ago they retired from farming and came to Acton, but were only here three or four years when Mr Sharp met with an accident through a runaway which cost him his life in a few hours. They had a family of three sons and one daughter: William who lives in Iowa, Wilson who lived in Michigan, but died there a few weeks ago; James who resides in Acton and Mrs. Baker, of Michigan. Mrs. Sharp was a member of the Methodist Church. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, the remains being interred in the family plot at Ballinafad.

Two Well-known Ministers Called Home

Sorrow is felt on all sides at the news of the death of Rev. Lachlan Cameron, of Thamesford, for many years pastor of Knox Church, Acton. He died at Thamesford on Monday night from an attack of pneumonia. Mr Cameron was 68 years of age. He had been pastor of the Thamesford Congregation since removing from Acton about twenty years ago. He was a most successful pastor and singularly outspoken in his utterances on all moral questions. He was beloved by his people and no pastor ever left Acton over whose farewell there was more genuine manifestations of regret. The intimation of the death on Tuesday of Rev. W. J. Maxwell, Toronto, was also learned with sincere regret by numbers of our citizens. He had never been a pastor here but during his pastorate at Guelph he was frequently in Acton attending services in the Methodist Church and made many warm friends. The deceased was one of the most loved and respected clergymen in Canada. His death was preceded by a serious loss not only to the Methodist Church but to the Christian cause of Canada. He was born in the county of Lambton in 1846.

News of the Churches.

Evening Lenten services are being conducted this week in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. C. Speer Tasmile preached on Monday, taking as his subject, "Amputation or Restoration." On Tuesday afternoon a children's service was held. In the evening Mr Speer preached on "The Secret of Christ's Success." Wednesday afternoon "A Man who was not Saved" was his subject and in the evening "The Grave of Christ and afterwards." To-night Rev. E. E. Scott Parkdale will be present. He will also speak to mothers after on Friday evening. The attendance has been very good at each service. Rev. P. J. Marend, of Milton, preached in St. Anne's Church last Thursday evening, taking for his subject "Humanity." The subject of Rev. S. B. Stephens' sermon in the Disciples' Church next Sunday morning will be "What to seek After." Rev. Dr. Potts, Secretary of Education and Rev. Dr. John Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria College, preached the annual sermons in aid of the Educational Society of the Methodist Church in Guelph on Sunday. Rev. A. Findlay, Superintendent of Missions in Algoma and Northern Muskoka addressed the congregation of Knox Church on Monday evening in behalf of these fields. A memorial service relating to the death of the Rev. Lachlan Cameron will be held in Knox Church next Sunday morning.

Laid At Rest In Acton

During the Christmas holidays Mr. W. J. Cook of Toronto spent a few days in Acton with her sister Mrs Rod Mills, Sr. and other relatives here. Shortly after returning home she was stricken with paralysis which complications set in and she died last Friday. Mr and Mrs Cook were frequent visitors to Acton and on several occasions they visited Fairview Cemetery, were pleased with its well kept appearance and decided to make it their last resting place. Accordingly the remains of Mrs Cook were brought to Acton on Monday and the funeral took place from the home of Mr Wm Gurney on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. G. B. Cooke and Rev. Dr. Eby officiated. Mrs Cook was born in County Cavan, Ireland and came to Canada in early life, settling in Quebec. In 1868 she was married to Mr W. J. Cook, for nearly four years she was a resident of Toronto, since then she resided in Chicago. Her husband predeceased her about two years ago. Deceased was a member of the Church of Christ. A personality and kindness to strangers was her most marked characteristic. Her death was the result of a cold contracted while visiting her sister in Acton. Her husband died in Chicago, and her remains were brought to Acton for interment. In connection with Mrs Cook's death was the fact that one of her sons, Mr Hudson Cook, W. Bolton, Michigan, died on the same day, but Mrs Cook died not knowing of her son's death. He had been in poor health for some time. Upon receiving intimation of his death a telegram was sent to her home, but her husband thought it best not to inform her of her son's death. The funeral was held from the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, on Friday afternoon, the remains being interred in the family plot at Acton. The sympathy of all who knew them is extended to the bereaved husband.

Rome and the Holy Land

In Knox Church was well filled last Wednesday night to hear such an authority as Father Lacher, the Very Rev. Father Superior of Hamilton relate his trip to Rome and the Holy Land. The visit was made about a year ago in company with the Right Rev. Bishop Dowling. Many points of interest were touched on by the lecturer, who is an accomplished orator and linguist. The Coliseum, the Forum and the Catacombs were visited and where Paul was imprisoned and St. Peter was crucified, where the Roman tyrants were born and where they died, Pisa with its leaning tower and cattle fair, Florence, its lovely gardens, palaces and churches, the birthplace of Galileo, the great astronomer and philosopher tortured, where he died, Venice, Leo XIII's birthplace, Milan, Genoa, Naples, the home of Tasso, Alexandria and Egypt, Cairo and numerous points of Holy Land were visited, many incidents connected therewith were described in a most entertaining manner. A description of the many places visited was given in detail and all of which came to those who listened with much more force and intelligence than could possibly be realized in a description of the most elaborate description from a book. The lecture was illustrated and the lecturer exhibited pictures and some instruments here and there with scenes of the sacred page, pictures of Rome and other places. Father Lacher's lecture was interspersed with excellent music, which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The Rev. Father Lacher's lecture was illustrated with excellent effect. The chairman by the choir gave evidence of careful practice.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN

James McDonald, a Nassagaweya Farmer, Dies from Injuries Received.

On Thursday afternoon last as the afternoon express from the east, which leaves Acton at 2.22, was approaching and within a few yards of the crossing at Crewson's Corners, one of the residents of the place observed a team of horses at the crossing and the driver standing up in the sleigh, which was on the track, apparently vainly trying to urge the horses to greater speed, for almost immediately afterward the engine struck the hinder part of the sleigh and the team was thrown out and upward about as high as the smoke stack. A neighbor who also saw a wait, that something was wrong, ran and arriving at the railway found beside the rail on the north side in an unconscious condition Mr James McDonald, a farmer who lived on the next line west in Nassagaweya about two and a half or three miles from the Corners. In the meantime the train had been stopped and backed down to the crossing when it is believed nearly every man who was on the train got off and assisted the unfortunate affair some of them to the extent of helping to have the injured man carried away.

He was taken to the home of Postmaster Anderson and although surgical skill was speedily obtained and diligently used all was futile as he died on Monday morning having been unconscious all the intervening time.

As to how the affair occurred at one of the best crossings in the county, as far as view of an approaching train is concerned, the theory is held that as the deceased was a very quiet apparently self absorbed man, often meeting people on the road and not seeming to notice them that he had his head observed his approach to the track. It is reported that the whistle was not blown until the train was within a few yards of the crossing and the deceased, having no particular warning but his own senses had thus been placed in the awful position.

Deceased was an unmarried man, aged about 40 years, with, it is believed, no relatives in this country. Mrs Jessamond, the widow of a former partner in business, has lived with him since the death of Mr. Jessamond.

The horses were unhurt, but the harness was wrecked, one of the horses having only the collar and bridle left. The sleigh was smashed and part of it carried a considerable distance.

The neighbors took turns in watching by the bedside of the injured man and endeavored to alleviate his distress, but to no avail.

The funeral was held yesterday morning to Lairview Cemetery, Acton.

Dr. Savage, Coroner, under instructions from County Crown Attorney Peterson, held an inquest at Crewson's Corners.

The evidence adduced was corroborative of the above report. It was adjourned to secure the presence of the train hands.
