THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and Every Item Interesting.

The Lassies' Brass Band Concert.

Numbers of our citizens heard a Ladies' Brass Band for the first time last Wednesday evening when the Lassie's Band of the Salvation Army gave a concert in the town hall here. There were nine in the company and they discussed a very fair sample of music. There was a fair attendance and the proceedings were interesting and unique. Capt. Dean and Lieut. Peihet were in command.

An Increased Rate.

At the Council Board on Monday evening, our village fathers computed that for the running of the village for the present year about $5,111 will require to be expended, and as a result therefore, the rate of taxation will be one mill in advance of last year 16 mills. This rise in the rate is necessary from the fact that although considerable work was accomplished by the various committees last year, the council deem it advisable to increase the rate to allow for still greater improvements. With this advance our rate is still very low, when compared with that of other towns.

The Opinion of an Experienced Judge.

The Newmarket Era pays the following compliment, which is the more appreciated because entirely unsolicited: The Acton FREE PRESS entered upon its 21st volume last week—it will soon be of age. The FREE PRESS is one of our most welcome exchanges. Its purity of tone, tidy and attractive appearance, and epitome of local news makes it a welcome visitor to many a home beyond the precincts of its own community. We admire the business principles adopted by the FREE PRESS every subscriber pays in advance and the collection of arrears don's keep the editor awake at nights wondering how he can reach the pocket books of delinquents to meet pressing obligations.

Chimes of the Churches.

Rev John S. Stephens of the Disciple's Church will spend a few weeks at West Torne to recuperate his health. In his absence Evangelist Jonathan G. Scott, of Toronto, will fill his pulpit. Mr Scott has just returned to Canada from a successful evangelical tour in the United States. Last Sunday morning Evangelist Scott conducted an interesting gospel and song service He is a good solo singer and his ability is appreciated by the audiences. Last Thursday evening Miss Bella Hill conducted the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. with much acceptance. To-night Mr. Lewis R. Orr will lead the meeting, and next Thursday evening the evangelist will deliver a lecture on temperance

Happily Wedded.

Mr. T. H. Dunn of this place was married on Tuesday of last week to Miss Cassie Gibbens, third daughter of Mr. P. Gibbens, Esquesing, in St. Joseph's Church by Rev. Father Haley, at 7 30 a. m. Although the hour for the ceremony was very early, the church was well filled. The bride was neatly attired in a fawn colored dress, while the bridesmaid wore one of a little darker shade. No flowers were worn by either, and the bride carried an ivory backed prayer book After the ceremony was performed and mass celebrated, the organist played the wedding march, and the happy couple, after receiving the best wishes of all drove to the bride's home for breakfast They took the eleven train going east on a short wedding tour

The Fact of the Case.

When your neighbor requests the loan of your paper just ask him why he does not subscribe for himself You are generous enough and public spirited enough to take your home paper, while he would cheat the publisher and wrong you by keeping his dollar in his pocket and making you pay for his reading Give him the reply given by a friend of ours a few weeks ago. He was asked for his Globe shortly after receiving it from the post office, and promptly asked the man why he did not subscribe for it "Oh it wouldn't do me any good to take it, was the reply "Then it wouldn't do you any good to read it, and you can't have it, was the prompt rejoinder If all borrowers were treated in like manner publishers would give better value to those who did pay Caseville Crier.

Accidents Attending Barn-raisings

It is usually indicative of better times when building operations become general in a community It shows that economy and thriftiness have been exercised by the farmer, and hence new and improved buildings will necessary follow. But while such may or may not be the case, how lamentable is the fact that scarcely a barn raising takes place nowadays, without an accident accompanying it, by which some person has sustained fractured bones, is maimed for life, or has been killed outright Although the season for raising barns has only just commenced, still within a radius of about twenty-five miles two deaths and four or five serious injuries have occurred already this season In most cases the cause is the direct result of the erring judgment of the victim, but, some times, we believe, through neglect of proper precautions on the part of the owner of the building. The choosing of sides and contesting for the first completion of that part of the structure assigned to each side, is invariably attended by fatal results, and should in our estimation, be done away with, for men become excited on such occasions, and, we fear some are made more so by a little beverage At such times particularly, liquor ought not to be given to the hands, who should be clear and cool headed.

CHURCH CORNER STONE LAYING

FERGUS, July 15 The corner stone of St James' Episcopal Church was laid here at 4 o'clock to-day, by Professor Coady, of Wycliffe College, Toronto, in the presence of a large concourse of people. After the laying of the stone the assemblage adjourned to the town hall Seated on the platform was Rev R A Robinson, pastor of the congregation, and Revs. Prof Coady, Toronto Maloney, Erin, Leake, Drayton, Bullard, Guelph, R. M. Craig and Anderson, Presbyterian, Fergus Professor Coady delivered a most excellent address, after which short congratulatory addresses were delivered by Revs Craig and Jackson

STEAMER CIBOLA BURNED.

LEWISTON, N Y., July 16.—Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning the palace steamer Cibola of the Niagara River Line, while lying at the Lewiston docks, in the rear of the American Hotel, was discovered to be on fire, The fire spread with great rapidity and soon enveloped the steamer and spread to the dock, thence to the large hotel, the American, owned and managed by H. G. Cornell, which it also consumed. The ship's crew, it is said, were all saved except the engineer who was burned to death. The fire for some time was still raging and threatening a number of the surrounding buildings among which are the Angler's Retreat, the New York Central depot and other valuable buildings.

The Council decided that to meet the current expenditures for repairs improvements and other demands upon the municipal exchequer for this year it will be necessary to levy 16 mills on the dollar The increased rate will no doubt be accepted able to a considerable proportion of the taxpayers, considering the increased number of improvements which are being done this year. The town hall is being painted, a portion of the cemetery is being surveyed and the streets have received considerable improvements and are likely to receive more of importance. It was therefore moved by John Williams seconded by Geo Havill that the estimates for the year as now read be adopted and that the rate to be levied for the current year for all purposes be 16 mills Carried The taxes will be payable in two instalments, as in several years past, but the dates have not yet been fixed.

The Council then adjourned

There never was, and never will be a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grevious ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, guaged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market.
