LITTLE LOCAL BRIEFLETS

Which Caught the Eyes or Ears of Free Press Reporters this week.

—Sunday—first of July.

—Saturday completes the first half of 1900.

—School's out and the long summer vacation has commenced.

—Won't the girls and boys have a jolly time for a couple of months.

—The Farmers' Institute was voted $25 at last meeting of the County Council.

—This is the last paper of another volume. Have you renewed your subscription?

—Mr. James Price, Esquesing, was the first man to bring in new potatoes this season.

—The season of the soft shirt and wide hat, the big soft drink and the short sermon, has arrived.

—Percy G. Reid, of Esquesing, has been re-appointed by the County Council student at the O. A. C. Guelph.

—Mr. Thomas Easton is having his house on Mill Street recently damaged by fire put in good repair again.

—Rev. Joseph M. Hager M. A., the new pastor of the Methodist Church will commence his pastorate here next Sunday.

—The present number completes the FREE PRESS' twenty-fifth volume, and its first quarter century of business in Acton.

—The Voters' List for Acton for 1900 has been issued and posted. It is the largest list ever printed for this municipality.

—The FREE PRESS is in receipt of a copy of the Diamond Fields Advertiser, of Kimberley, of May 22nd, from gunner W. J. Moore.

—Wheat is gradually climbing up to a good figure. The prices on Toronto market for best grades the past few days have been about 75 cents.

—Said one old crow unto his mate: "We'll not longer want for grub to eat; to show the world that we are wise, in the FREE PRESS we'll advertise."

—Six babes received the ordinance of Baptism at Knox Church last Sunday morning. Among the number was the little daughter of the pastor.

—The new tan bark sewer from Church St. to the stream below Agnes St. was completed last week and is a very fine outlet to the Main Street sewer.

—Many improvements to the homes in town are in progress. Notably the residence of ex-Reeve Nicklin on Bower Avenue and Mr. Angus Lawson on Agnes Street, have been transformed by the united efforts of carpenter and painter.

—Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Walkerton, late of the Disciples' College at Lexington, Ky., has been engaged as pastor of the Disciples' Church for the present year. He is a good preacher and the people are well pleased with his ministrations. The FREE PRESS welcomes him to Acton.

—Dr. C. I Kelley, who succeeds Dr. F. J. H. Forster, arrived from Hamilton on Tuesday and is now getting settled at his residence on Frederick Street. Dr. Kelly comes highly recommended. He is an honor graduate of McGill University, Montreal, and a licentiate of the Society of Apothecaries of London, Eng. He will no doubt meet with success in the practice of his profession here.

—Those who contemplate purchasing monumental work of any description for their cemetery plots should order direct from the old reliable granite and marble dealer J. H. Hamilton, Guelph, Ont. All expenses allowed to purchasers. All work and material warranted, competition defied.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and every Item Interesting.

The Royal Templars.

Acton Council Royal Templars of Temperance is rolling up a large membership. Nine new members were initiated by the newly-elected officers, assisted by organizer McIntosh, at a special meeting last Wednesday evening, and six more at the regular meeting on Monday evening of this week.

The Farmers' Institute Excursion.

About 2100 farmers, their families and their friends took in the annual excursion to Guelph last Friday. The rain during the day interfered somewhat with the enjoyment out of doors, but the average yeoman was so thankful to see the rain that he accepted it in good part. The authorities at the O. A. C exerted themselves to afford the excursionists a good time.

A Candidate For Detective Rogers.

Early last Monday morning Master Carl Mason, son of Overseer Mason, manager of the Firstbrook fish ponds, was wheeling home from a visit to his grandmother at Aberfoyle, when a mile or two on his way, while passing through a swamp, a tramp jumped from behind a bush, caught the wheel and threw the lad off. He first rifled his pockets and then attempted to wrest the wheel from him, at the same time abusing the boy in a cowardly manner. The lad pluckily hung on to his wheel, and fortunately a pair of colts came trotting along, when the tramp evidently thinking a man accompanied them took alarm threw down the wheel and rushed into the swamp. Carl immediately mounted his wheel and arrived home about nine a. m. His face was badly bruised and swollen by the brutal blows of the tramp, but otherwise he escaped injury.

An Enjoyable W. C. T. U. Parlor Meeting

The first parlor gathering of Acton Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at Moorecroft last Wednesday evening, and was a gratifying success. The members of the Union were present in force and they brought with them a number who had been invited to participate. Mrs. C. S. Smith, the president, occupied the chair with the grace and dignity of an experienced officer. The programme comprised the following numbers: An instrumental selection by Miss Jennie Smith; solo "Wandering Child Come Home," by Mr. E. J. Moore; an address explaining the work of the various departments of the Union, by Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. McLachlan; piano and violin duett, by Miss Hells and Mr. J. C. Hill; solo, "Light After Darkness," Miss Allie Laing; address by Mr. H. P. Moore; instrumental duett by Miss and Mr. Hill and selections by Miss Smith. After a few fitting remarks in closing by Mrs. C. S. Smith the company sang the national anthem and then dispersed. The evening was a very enjoyable one, and all present manifested pleasure in the proceedings. Mrs. Moore's hospitality was fully appreciated.

Royalty Welcomed Home.

A very cordial welcome was accorded the members of Company No. 6, of Halton Lorne Rifles, upon their arrival home from the camp of instruction at Niagara last Saturday afternoon. Acton Cornet Band met the boys at the G. T. R. depot and escorted them through the streets to the drill hall in the park. They were under command of Lieut. Ford, owing to the unexpected call of Capt. Langton to Toronto, and marched with the air and precision of old soldiers. Through the the efforts of Mrs. C. S. Smith, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. McLam and Mrs. Secord, ably assisted by a bevy of handsome young ladies a sumptuous repast awaited the soldiers and a number of prominent citizens sat at the tables with them. The dinner was a highly creditable one and was much enjoyed by the volunteers who appreciated very much the marked attention paid them, especially by the young lady waiters. After dinner Col. Allan was made master of ceremonies and in response to his invitation the following gentlemen made brief speeches of congratulations to the members of the Company in which patriotism was a predominate topic: Lieut. Ford, Lieut. Warren, D. Henderson, M. P., H. P. Moore, Rev. J. A. McLachlan, M. A., Rev. H. A. Macpherson and Rev. J. K. Godden, M. A. The proceedings were enlivened by Acton Cornet Band and concluded with the national anthem.

The Old Pupils Re-Union.

The interest grows daily in the coming re-union of the pupils of the late Robert Little. The following old girls and boys have sent subscriptions to the monument fund and all but one or two have signified their intention of being present. The list includes a number who have signified their intention of being present since the list was published last week:

Oliver G. Anderson, President Anderson Furniture Co., Woodstock.
Rev. Chas. A. Cook, pastor First Baptist Church, Bloomfield, N. J.
Mrs. (Rev.) Chas. A. Cook, nee Miss Emma Matthews.

FAREWELL DISCOURSES.

Rev. J. A. McLachlan, M. A., Concludes His Pastorate of the Methodist Church Acton.

Rev. J. A. McLachlan, M. A., preached the closing sermons of his pastorate in Acton last Sunday, large congregations being present. The Rev. gentleman, in his three years' pastorate here has made many friends. He has earned the respect of the citizens by his fearless enunciation of the truth, and his vigorous condemnation of social evils wherever they have existed. His tact in choosing opportune subjects and the earnestness with which he declared his sentiments called forth the appreciation of the congregation. Under his pastorate the church has been well sustained in all departments. In Mr. McLachlan's removal Acton is losing a good citizen.

REV. J. A. MCLACHLAN, M. A.

The morning discourse was especially addressed to the membership of the church and was very timely. It was based upon Rev. 3: 11, "Hold fast that which thou hast that no man take thy crown." He came, he said, with a message of good counsel, for crowns though valuable may be lost. The crown is a symbol of Christian attainment and Godly character. There are many ways of losing the crown, but we may always hold it fast by standing faithfully at the post of duty. In referring to his three years as pastor here he expressed his gratitude to the people for their sympathy and prayers in his work and during the time of affliction in his home. The numerous removals were spoken of, but the fact that the membership remains within seven of what it was three years ago, was considered reason for thankfulness. The liberality of the congregation in financial matters was also referred to. In speaking of the new pastor, Mr. McLachlan said the greatest compliment that could be paid to him would be a kindly welcome to his successor. Encourage him, hold up his hands, attend all the services of the church and withhold your criticism, especially before your family. Don't expect that he will know you all after the first introduction. Stay with your own pastor and your own church. Don't expect him to be perfect, for you are not perfect yourselves. Think more of the message God sends than of the way it is sent. If you expect to be electrified you must come in the spirit of prayer. You will have better sermons from the pulpit when there is better living in the pews. Very tender farewell words were spoken.

The congregation in the evening was awelled by the addition of many of the members of Knox Church, accompanied by their pastor, Rev. H. A. Macpherson, who took part in the service.

The sermon was one of the finest discourses of Mr. McLachlan's pastorate here, and was based upon Prov. 23: 23, "Buy the truth and sell it not." Truth is very precious. Spiritual truth, as well as mental and physical truth must be tested. Truth is tested (1) by induction; (2) by authority; (3) by obedience to Jesus Christ. He that willeth to do my will shall know of the doctrine whether it be of God or whether it be of man. The man who is living in disobedience and sin cannot see the beauties that are revealed in the word of God and His divine will. The able discourse closed with the exhortation: "Brethern and sisters you have purchased the peace of God which passeth all understanding. Sell it not. Who, who knows the Saviour, would part with the consciousness that he is a child of God? It is more precious than gold or silver or the richest gems you could secure."

During the service Mr. McLachlan referred to his associations with the people of the sister churches, especially that of Knox Church, and with citizens generally, and thanked them for the many kindly wishes extended to him and his family. He prayed that God's richest blessing would rest upon them all.

LOCAL BRIEFLETS.

—Sweet peas are in bloom again.

—Dominion Day will be observed as a national holiday on Monday.

—A Sunday School excursion is being talked of for some time during the summer holidays.

—The splendid rains of last Friday were of much value to the hay crop and the spring grains. The small fruits have picked up a great deal since as well.

—A number of the members of Walker Lodge A. F. and A. M. went to Milton on Sunday to celebrate the festival of St. John by attending divine service there.

—A new tank has been put in the boiler room at the power house, above the boiler, to refill the boiler after cleaning. It is an improvement which both the electrician and the fire brigade appreciate.

—Master John Saunders, son of Mr. Sidney Saunders, got his left hand in the cogs of a machine at Grindell's machine shop last Friday and had one of the fingers broken.

—Mr. J. L. Warren, Secretary of Halton Farmers' Institute, handed the FREE PRESS on Monday a fine sample of Success Barley. The straw measured forty-seven inches in length.

The Summer Train Service.

The new G. T. R. time table went into effect on Monday with several changes. The trains going west arrive at Acton at 10.02 a. m., and 2.25, 5.17 and 6.51 p. m. Going east at 6.32 and 10.50 a. m., and 6.19 and 10.03 p. m. This gives an extra train going west for the summer, the 5.17 p. m. being a through train from Toronto to Southampton. It will be a very convenient train.

Entrance Candidates Writing Here.

Owing to the epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever at Georgetown, and the large class of twenty-one candidates in Acton Public School, Inspector Deacon, and the education authorities arranged for the entrance examinations to be written here by the Acton and Limehouse pupils. The examinations commenced yesterday and Mr. Wetherall, of Georgetown High School, is the presiding examiner.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, delivered an address in the interest of the above Society in the Methodist Church last evening.

The Oddfellows' demonstration next Monday will be the biggest event of the kind ever held in the county.

A new metallic flag staff has been erected on the Milton public school buildings.

Entrance examinations are in progress here.

Rev. H. S. Matthews, Toronto, preached anniversary sermons in Knox Church last Sunday to large congregations. The evening service was attended by the Masonic fraternity in a body.

When the County Council met on Tuesday the members were pleased to see a coat of arms decorating the interior of the court room. This is a present to the county from His Honor, Judge Hamilton. The work is very artistic and reflects credit on the artist. The council passed a resolution expressing their thanks to the judge for his gift.
