Kiwanis to host popular Lobsterfest on May 23

By LOIS FRASER
Kiwanis Club

The Georgetown Kiwanis Club is holding its annual Lobsterfest at the Gellert Centre on Friday, May 23 at 7 p.m.

Kiwanis has pledged to raise $10,000 for the Georgetown Hospital expansion project over seven years—a total of $70,000. Lobsterfest is the main fundraiser for this donation, so we hope the community will come and support this fun night out.

Lobsterfest has been going for almost 30 years now and it is always a good time. Besides, we've had a heckuva long winter and the sweet taste of early summer is what many of us are longing for.

Fresh lobster is flown in from the East Coast that very day and is cooked by Kiwanians right on the premises. You should see when the truck arrives and the giant cooker is steaming! Rain or shine, the Kiwanis lobster crew is out there cooking 1,000 pounds of lobster. Landlubbers are welcome too and will enjoy top quality sirloin steak, supplied by Pete's Meats at Preston's Food Mart in Glen Williams. Add in Caesar salad, baked potatoes and goodies for dessert, it is a veritable feast!

Our DJ will rock the night away and help us get rid of all those crustacean calories. Tickets are $75 (all you can eat while supplies last) and can be ordered by calling Lois at 905-877-4411 ext 253 or you can purchase on line at www.georgetownkiwanis.ca.

Come help the Kiwanis make a donation to the Georgetown Hospital and have a good time while you are at it!
