—Feeling reference was made in the churches on Sunday to the death at Pretoria of Bombardier W. J. Moore. The several congregations were manifestly affected.

WELL MERITED.

A case of meritorious success is the immense circulation of that great weekly newspaper, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal; for, in addition to giving the biggest and best family weekly on the continent, they include pictures that alone could not be purchased for double the amount charged for paper and pictures. This season they are giving two most beautiful pictures, that are sure to be appreciated. "Christ In The Temple" is one of them, and certainly it is a beautiful piece of work. "Home From The War" is a picture that at once wins its way to the hearts of Canadians. The Family Herald and Weekly Star for a year, with these two pictures, for one dollar, is marvellous.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and every Item Interesting.

A Parlor Concert.

A parlor concert with an enjoyable programme is on the tapis for a date to be fixed early in December, to be held at Moorecroft under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church. Particulars will be given later.

Flags at Half Mast.

Flags were raised at half mast over the Town Hall and other buildings in town on Saturday in respect to the memory of Bombardier W. J. Moore, the news of whose death at Pretoria of enteric fever on the 9th inst. arrived here that morning.

Not One of Our Musicians.

Mr. Stinson, of Acton, presided at the organ in Chalmers' church yesterday. The music was not altogether harmonious. —Guelph Advocate. Mr. Stinson, who created the discord in Guelph on Sunday, is not a resident of Acton. All is harmony here.

Rev. Mr. Hagar at Georgetown.

The Methodists had successful anniversary services on Sunday last. Both morning and evening the congregations were good and the services edifying and inspiring. The preacher of the day was Rev. J. M. Hagar, who ably took charge of Acton Methodist church, and whose ministrations among the people are meeting with favor. He speaks earnestly and deliberately, and his sermons were duly appreciated by the Methodist congregation and other congregations in town which spent a service with them.—Herald.

Dan Mann at Winnipeg.

A Winnipeg despatch says: Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann will remain here for a few days. "As to the Southeastern road," said Mr. Mann, "there has been completed some 160 miles from this side, and 140 miles from the other end, leaving about 140 miles to be constructed next year. At present the company have about 1,000 men engaged, and may have fully 2,000 men at work next year, although the programme for 1901 has not been fully mapped out." Mr. Mann intends remaining in the city for a couple of days and will then return to Port Arthur.

The Methodist Anniversary.

The congregation of the Methodist Church is looking forward to a day of special interest on the occasion of their fifty-sixth anniversary next Sunday. The President of the Conference, Rev. T. W. Jackson, of Elora, will preach morning and evening. Mr. Jackson is already well and favorably known here and his sermons will no doubt be much enjoyed. The choir has special music under preparation. Liberal thank offerings will be given during the day. The congregation of Knox Church has kindly signified their intention of being present at the evening service.

Mr. John R. Arthurs' Trip West.

Mr. John R. Arthurs, 3rd line, Esquesing, who lately returned home after an extended tour of New Ontario, Manitoba and the North West Territories, in speaking with a FREE PRESS correspondent of his trip, which was a most enjoyable one, says: It would be unfair to pass judgement on Manitoba and the Territories, as the year was an unusually severe one. The rain and cold did much damage to the crops, still in certain parts farmers will have enough and to spare. In New Ontario there are are a number of well-known people settled. Several weeks were spent in and around Dryden, where the highly esteemed family of Mr. Paul Kennedy now intend settling. This district is one of great promise. While it is yet havily timbered, the ground is easily cleared for crops and the soil is of the best, not too heavy and still strong enough to be most productive. There is no doubt but that those who have gone into this new country have splendid prospects. The railway accommodation will shortly be first-class in every respect. No one should go without being prepared to do a fair amount of hard work. But it will be work that will soon tell of progress.

A Few Observations.

All hearts are sorely touched by the news on Saturday of a bereavement, doubly or trebly sad on account of the circumstances of time and place. To be so far from home and so near coming home, expected by all, yet called away! Principal and Mrs. Moore and family have the sympathy of all in the death of their son, Gunner Moore, at Pretoria.... While as a community we have much cause for gratitude on account of the general health and low mortality, yet it is a striking fact, on reflection, how many vacancies are being made in our homes. "Friend after friend departs." The list during, say five years past, if now presented would be astonishing, of names and faces, well-known and familiar to many; age and childhood, youth and beauty—passing away..... A fact that seems quite apparent politically, is that people do a good deal of thinking for themselves, and a good many unexpected things happen. Besides the many surprises throughout the country, this fact seemed apparent in both the great meetings in Acton town hall. Several times supposedly strong points were carefully made, with the evident expectation of great applause, which did not come. In many of the instances, probably a good many knew as well or better already than the speakers. ....The boast was made by both parties of wishing to cultivate and perpetuate a broad national spirit free from sectionalism. And yet how the appeals were made to suit the localities, the "race cry," the employment cry, the many a cry of one kind or another. In fact, in one village, as a last appeal, the desirability of securing the honor of having a resident of the village in Parliament was presented. The "nothing for Halton" cry was foolish, inasmuch as the member was for Parliament instead of County Council. Besides, simple facts showed that something had been done through the medium of the member. Truly, "Canada first" is hard both for the politician to teach and also for the voter always to practice.... Poor prohibition! How did it fare? Was it even mentioned in Halton? Certainly not publicly in Acton. Why is this thus? How is it that the professedly large body of prohibitionists were never appealed to? It seems to be a kind of "hot potato" everywhere in politics. "Get it out of the way and give it a decent burial." The fact is, no followers of any party can give much assurance on the matter as far as his party is concerned, nor as far as concerns himself while strictly following the party. Perhaps some day it will come out on top of the heap.—OBSERVER.

Mr. David Dick left last week for Cleveland. He spent a day or two in Buffalo en route.

A death that is much regretted is that of Miss Bertha Thompson, a bright young daughter of Mr. George Thompson of Stewarttown.

Another victim of the all too prevalent typhoid fever, is Miss Maud Kindree, who is at present ill with it.

Rev. Mr. Hagar, of Acton, preached at the afternoon service in the Methodist Church on Sunday of last week. His sermon from the text, "One Thing Thou Lackest," was very earnest and impressive.

John Miller, eighteen years of age, and a son of the late John Miller, of the base line, Esquesing, died at his mother's residence last week from a severe attack of typhoid fever. The deceased had been sick for about a month. About two months ago his brother, Robert, just past twenty-one years, died from the same disease. Within three years Mrs. Miller has been bereaved of her husband and her only children. She has the united sympathy of her many friends in her trials.

BANNOCKBURN.

On Thursday evening of last week the neighbors and friends of Bannockburn School Section, to the number of about forty, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy, con. 5, Esquesing, to bid farewell on the eve of their departure to their new home in the West. As a slight token of the esteem in which they were held, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were made the recipients of two handsome easy chairs and the following address:

Bannockburn, Nov. 15th, 1900.

To Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy.

DEAR FRIENDS: With the knowledge that you are shortly to sever your connection with us, we, your friends and neighbors of Bannockburn School Section, wish, upon this our only opportunity, to assure you of our friendly interest and respect for you and your family, and our hearty good wishes for your success in the future. Now, dear friends, as a reminder of the fraternal feeling and good fellowship which has in the past marked our intercourse, and as a token of our regard and good wishes, we tender for your acceptance these chairs which; though of little pecuniary worth, will in the time to come, serve to call up pleasant memories of days and years that have passed. In saying good-bye we commend you and your family to the care of Him who rules and cares for all and may we all be made His willing subjects, and if not permitted to meet here below may it be ours to meet where parting shall be no more.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends,

JOHN MANN, JOHN SHAW,
J. L. WARREN, A. T. MANN.

After the reading of the address by Mr. A. T. Mann and the presentation of the chairs by Messrs. John Mann and J. L. Warren, Mr. Kennedy, who was completely taken with genuine surprise, replied in a few well-chosen remarks, thanking the friends for the gifts and for the good will manifested toward himself and family.

Short speeches were also made by the Chairman of the evening, J. M. Warren, Capt. John Shaw, Wm. McDonald and J. L. Warren. Refreshments were then provided by the ladies, after which the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse interspersed with music by Messrs. Mann and Arthurs. The evening's proceedings were brought to a fitting close by the company joining in singing "God be with You 'till We Meet Again."

The very best wishes of the entire community go with Mr. Kennedy and his family to their new home in New Ontario. They have been most estimable citizens and kind neighbors and their removal leaves a serious blank here.
