Students represent youth excellence in schools and community

Students representing each of the Halton District School Board's elementary and secondary schools were honoured at the 30th annual Celebration of Student Excellence on May 8.

Students are recognized for demonstrating outstanding qualities in more than one of the following areas: academic, vocational, athletic, self-improvement, community work, citizenship and student leadership. Each elementary and secondary public school within the Halton District School Board nominates one of their students for this recognition. Students can only receive this honour once in their school career.

"We are recognizing students who have stood out amongst their peers for their extra effort in academics, athletics, school and community services, and leadership," said David Euale, Director of Education for the Halton District School Board. "We know this honour will not be their last, as they will undoubtedly go on to future recognition in their field of education and future careers."

The Halton Catholic District School Board hosted its 26th Annual Student Awards of Excellence on April 28.

"The Student Awards of Excellence Ceremony provides a wonderful opportunity for us to gather as a system to recognize the achievements of our student honourees," said Diane Rabenda, Chair of the Board. "We are delighted to salute and congratulate the student award recipients on their noteworthy accomplishments."

One student representative has been selected from each elementary and secondary school to receive the Student Award of Excellence, and was presented with a medallion and certificate at the ceremony. The student recipients were nominated by their principal for having demonstrated outstanding qualities in: Catholic leadership, family commitment, involvement in school affairs and community activities, as well as dedication to a difficult situation or task. Students may not be selected more than once for this award throughout their school career.

In this special four-page section, The IFP showcases the Halton Hills students selected to represent our local HDSB and HCDSB schools.
