A Bottle of Whiskey Cost $15.00

Last Friday night about ten o'clock Holt Warren and William Catten invested fifty cents in a bottle of whiskey at one of the hotels. About 11.30 when they were both well boiled up, and the business places in town were closed up, they went to Arnold's livery barn on John Street, effected an entrance, took out a horse and cutter and proceeded to a dance at James Bolton's, near Springe. Sometime later Mr. Arnold had taken a trip to the livery barn to see that everything was right for the night, and saw that a horse was missing. He notified Officer Price, and they watched at the barn in the hope that the horse and rig would be returned. About 3.30 the culprits returned. Catten was arrested and placed in the lockup, but Warren took leg bail. Catten was tried before H. P. Moore, J. P., on Saturday afternoon and Warren on Monday night. Both were proven guilty of trespass and fined $5.00 and costs, in all $15.10, which, with the 50 cent bottle of whiskey, cost them $15.60.

Married at Mount Forest.

The wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mount Forest, of Mr. James A. Coleman, of Joseph Coleman, Acton, to Miss Catherine, daughter of Joseph McKeown, Mount Forest. Rev. J. G. Reid performed the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of select friends of the bride and groom. After spending a few days with friends in Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will proceed to their home at Hamiota, Man., where Mr. Coleman has resided for some time. The many friends of the newly-wedded pair in Acton join in hearty congratulations.

Another Acton Boy's Prominence.

From the Halifax Evening Mail we glean particulars of the completion of the Halifax and South Western Railway from Halifax to Yarmouth by Messrs. Mann & McKenzie. After giving a history of the road and its completion four years from the turning of the first sod, the Mail says: "McKenzie and Mann have a greater mileage in Nova Scotia than the Intercolonial." In connection with a banquet tendered Mr. McKenzie at the opening of the road, "Premier Murray said that there was one man in particular who, always on the scene in the construction of the road, had reflected credit on himself and on the company that employed him. His policy had been tactful as his work had been thorough. He hoped and believed that wherever W. H. Grant, to whom he referred, went he would have a record equally brilliant with that which he had made in Nova Scotia. Mr. Grant's reply was expressive of thanks for the kind things that had been spoken and of the pleasantness of the dealings on both sides that had characterized his relations with the government during the period of construction." Mr. Grant is a native of Acton, oldest son of the late Alexander Grant, Esq. He has been with Messrs. Mann & McKenzie for a number of years.

THE LATE DR. LAPPONI.

Death has Removed a Distinguished Physician and a Man of Rare Courage.

In the death of Dr. Lapponi, physician to the Pope, a personage has been removed from life's scenes who was scarcely less known throughout the world than the pontiff's whom he ministered unto. He was a wonderful man as well as a distinguished physician.—Ottawa Free Press.

It may be added that Dr. Lapponi was a man of rare courage. He had no fear of that bugbear known as professional etiquette. When he found something good in a medicine he did not hesitate to say so to the world. He proved this when he wrote the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. strongly endorsing their celebrated Pink Pills for Pale People as a cure for anaemia (bloodlessness) and certain nervous disorders. In the interests of the thousands who suffer from anaemia, nervous disorders and kindred troubles, it is worth while republishing Dr. Lapponi's letters, as follows:

"I certify that I have tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in four cases of the simple anaemia of development. After a few weeks of treatment, the result came fully up to my expectations. For that reason I shall not fail in the future to extend the use of this laudable preparation, not only in the treatment of other morbid forms of the category of anaemia or chlorosis, but also in cases of neurasthenia and the like.

(Signed), Dr. Giuseppe Lapponi,
Via dei Giacchi 332, Rome.

The "simple anaemia of development" referred to by Dr. Lapponi is of course that tired, languid condition of young girls whose development to womanhood is tardy, and whose health, at the period of that development, is so often imperilled. His opinion of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at that time is of the highest scientific authority, and it confirms the many published cases in which anaemia and other diseases of the blood as well as nervous diseases have been cured by these pills, which, it need hardly be mentioned, owe their efficacy to their power of making new blood, and thus acting directly on the digestive and nervous system. In all cases of anaemia, decline, indigestion, and troubles due to bad blood, and all affections of the nerves, as St. Vitus' dance, paralysis and locomotor ataxia, they are commended to the public with all the greater confidence because they had the strong endorsement of the great physician who has so recently passed away.

HUMPHRIES AND PRESENTATION.

Banquet and Handsome Address Tendered the Superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School.

On Friday last, Mr. W. J. Humphries, one of the teachers in the Methodist Sunday School, called on Mr. H. P. Moore, superintendent, at the Free Press office, and requested an appointment with him at eight o'clock p.m. Mr. Moore consented, not knowing the object, and when Mr. Humphries called at that hour he closed the office and prepared to go with him for a walk and chat. Arriving opposite the Church, Mr. Humphries remarked that there were a few persons inside he would like to see and invited him in. On opening the schoolroom door Mr. Moore was astonished to find about forty of the teachers and officers, and other members of the Committee of Management, with husbands and wives assembled. Tables arranged on three sides of a hollow square covered with snowy napery, and set out with appetizing and dainty luncheon, and overhead with decorative garlands and flags, greeted his view. The blackboard displayed in large letters, 40 yards, "Hail, to our Chief," and a round of hearty applause greeted his entrance to the room.

Mr. Moore was thoroughly surprised, but being a heartily greeted, recovered his composure, and after a few minutes the president, Rev. G. W. Barker, called those assembled into order, and to his table on the platform, Messrs. J. S. Coleman and A. E. Nicklin, Associate Superintendents, and Mr. W. H. Speight, Secretary. After the singing of the "Glory Song" and prayer by the pastor, the chairman, in a few appropriate remarks, explained to the guest of the evening that his twenty years' service as superintendent, just completed, had led his fellow-workers in the school, to arrange for some mark of appreciation of such service, attended by such excellent results, hence this gathering. The intention up to the very day had been to gather at Mr. Moore's home, but the state of the health of Mrs. Moore had led the family physician to dissuade them from such a course.

"Was that Somebody you?" was sung and Mr. J. S. Coleman being called upon for a few remarks, sketched the rise and progress of the Sunday School movement in carrying out the evident intention of Christ to care for the salvation of "The Child in the Midst," dwelling on the achievements of modern workers in producing first-class surroundings and appliances for successfully achieving the best results. Reference was also made to the place Methodism has taken in the forefront of this as well as every other form of advancing righteousness, her policy being to establish Sunday Schools even in places where Churches could not be maintained. He then dwelt on the Sunday School work here, from the days of the pioneer superintendent, Alex. Brown Sr., through the administrations of W. H. Storey, John Speight, Eli Snyder, W. P. Brown, James Moore, R. E. Nelson, and T. T. Moore. These good workers left their impress on the school, which maintained its place well in the community. He traced the life of the guest of the evening from his childhood, dwelling on his godly parentage, careful training, conversion, yielding of powers to Christ, usefulness in the school in various ways, until twenty years ago, when he was elected superintendent of the school of his childhood and youth.

He referred to the gradual evolution of the school through the introduction of new and tried methods as need arose and circumstances justified. His attendance upon conventions of world-wide import, and contact with advanced workers, had inspired a constant diligence to improve the school, until it now ranks as one of the model schools.

In closing, a generous tribute was paid for the aid given Mr. Moore in this work through the fine qualities of his beloved consort, Mrs. Moore, who, coming herself from one of the pioneer Methodist homes of Acton, brought her keen insight, clear judgment, and good abilities to the aid of her husband in his often perplexing and exacting work.

Mr. A. E. Nicklin made some reference to his boyhood and lifelong association with Mr. Moore, and then asked him to come to the platform when he read to him the following address:

To Mr. H. P. Moore,
Superintendent Methodist Sunday School.

DEAR BROTHER,—We take this opportunity of conveying to you the gratitude that is in our hearts, for the twenty years continuous service you have given us as superintendent of our Sunday School.

Your christian integrity, your intense enthusiasm, your devotedness to our school, combined with your excellent discipline, and your endeavor to keep in touch with the best thought and methods, has brought our school to such a state of perfection that we rank among the model Sunday Schools.

When we look at the life of Jesus Christ we see that the purpose of conversion and consecration is service of His fellowmen. We believe that your christian life is actuated by the principles of service our Master has revealed. Your life and work commands not only our respect but our love, and we recognize the blessing and privilege to all who come under your leadership.

As you enter upon your twenty-first year as superintendent we pray that the Almighty may grant you many years to work in and for the Sunday School and the Church of your childhood, your youth, and your manhood, and that the Holy Spirit may continue to reveal to you the hidden treasures of His Grace.

Signed on behalf of Sunday School Officers and Teachers.

G. W. BARKER, Pastor
JNO. S. COLEMAN Asst. Supt.
A. E. NICKLIN, Asst. Supt.
W. H. SPEIGHT, Secretary.

Acton, December 31st, 1906.

Mr. W. H. Speight had arisen and stood conveniently near, and as the conclusion of the reading of the address, handed Mr. Moore a copy of it beautifully engrossed, illuminated and framed.

Mr. Moore was much affected, but was able in warm and glowing terms to express a deep sense of gratitude for this kindness, and esteem and love for the giver. He traced his connection with the school and esteemed it one of the greatest joys of his life to be its standard bearer. He referred to his keen disappointment at not being able to entertain the friends in his home, now that this totally unexpected event had materialized, and read a kind note just handed him from Mrs. Moore, who had been let into the secret, expressive of the same sentiment.

Others present called on for remarks were W. J. Humphries, Principal Stewart, C. Mason and F. Francis.

The programme being brought to a close, adjournment was made to the banquet tables where a very pleasant social time was spent and the evening further enjoyed.—Com.

Danger in Farming.

"Dollar Wheat" is fine for farmers, but they take long chance with their health in getting the wheat. Bad weather, lifting, straining, stooping back, lay the foundation for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. There is a farmer, out Markham way, who was so busy making money that he did not realize he was making ill-health at the same time. He had headaches; often his back hurt so badly he could hardly stand, often the urine was highly colored and scalding. But he thought he was only "working too hard." One day he caught cold. The next day he had rheumatism. This Markham farmer suffered a year with Rheumatism until chance brought a friend who told him about Bu-Ju. They relieved the excruciating pain, and cured him in three months.

MARKHAM, ONT.

"I had suffered from complicity for years, with Kidney Trouble, and could not work and was unable to stoop to give him ease. After taking the first bottle of Bu-Ju I felt much relieved, and after taking half a bottle was able to do a full day's work. I know of lots of people who have taken Bu-Ju's Pill, and think they are the best pill made."—JOHN ANGUS.
