EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. W. F. Maclean's bill to amend the Act respecting the sale of railway passenger tickets, otherwise known as the Ticket-scalping Bill, came up in the Railway Committee on Tuesday and was killed.

Alberta Legislature has defeated the bill proposing to legalize Sunday cars. The Legislature divided on Thursday for the first time this session on the issue. The amendment to the railway bill proposing to legalize them was overwhelmingly defeated.

On motion of Town ship Councillors Ford and Savage, the three fifths majority vote on local option was condemned at last meeting of Trafalgar Township council. I agree with the council in their condemnation. It is an injurious piece of legislation.—Raymond's Record.

Canada's foreign trade continues to show steady growth. For the seven months ending with January, reports show an increase of $99,807,517, compared with the same period of the previous year. The total aggregate trade was $329,135,329. Imports increased by $34,071,631 and exports by $42,735,886.

At the nomination convention of the Liberals of the east riding of Huron County on Tuesday W. H. Kerr, editor of the Brussels Post, was unanimously chosen candidate for the Local Legislature. Mr. Kerr is a public man of sterling qualities and if elected will make a very able and useful member of Parliament. He has the best wishes of the FREE PRESS for success.

With regard to the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act in this Province, Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General, on Monday made the following statement: "The law is now a part of the Statutes. As Attorney-General, I will consider it my duty to enforce its provisions." The law was certainly well observed last Sunday as far as the running of freight trains and sale of Sunday papers were concerned.

The death of Dr. Oronhyatekha removes a unique and prominent figure from public life. A pure-blooded Indian with an Oxford University education, he was exceptionally qualified for his high position as well as gifted with the art of persuading men to his views and gaining fast friends, as his connection with the Independent Order of Foresters shows. Indeed, his name and that of the order grew to be almost synonymous, so greatly did his spirit and influence inspire it.

It is gratifying to see an influential publication like the Canadian Magazine continuing to devote a large part of its space to the consideration of art and literature, and particularly to subjects in this connection that are especially interesting to the people of Canada. In the March number of this magazine a well-illustrated article by Margaret E. Henderson deals with the art of basketry as practiced by the Indians of British Columbia. The number is replete with other contributions of a varied and entertaining order.

The United States Postal Department was notified some months ago that the postal arrangement between the two countries in respect to the delivery in Canada of second and third-class matter would be abrogated on May 7th. Canada has been carrying 10,000 tons of newspapers and periodicals from the United States to every 1,000 tons sent from this country, and insists upon a new arrangement upon a more equitable basis. Postmaster-General Cartelyon has instructed Second Assistant Postmaster-General Shallenberger and Mr. H. M. Bacon, of the Third Assistant Postmaster-General's office, to proceed to Ottawa, and confer with the Postal Administration of the Dominion with reference to this and other questions.

In order to start a movement to improve the condition of earth roads in Ontario, "The Farmer's Advocate," in co-operation with the Public Works Department of the Ontario Government, is offering $163 in prizes for the best results from a season's use of the inexpensive implement called the split-log drag. There are two sets of prizes, one for the eastern and one for the western part of the province. The first prize in each case is $25, second prize $15, and third prize $10. There is no fee to enter, and the conditions are very simple. The judging will be done by Mr. A. W. Campbell, Good Roads Commissioner. Fuller particulars may be obtained by dropping a card to "The Farmer's Advocate," London, Ont. We might add that the entries for this exceedingly interesting and practical competition will close on March 27th.

WEAK AND WORN OUT.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Give New Strength to Overworked Women.

The life of a domestic is a hard one. She toils from early morning till late at night; her work is never done. Often she is too busy to get out of doors for a breath of fresh air. Unless her blood is kept rich and pure this confinement wears on her health. Her strength will fail; she may lose her appetite, become pale and dyspeptic. In fact she is in danger of a general breakdown. Such was the condition of Miss Marie Anne Fleury, of Ste. Anne de la Perade, Que., before she used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "For a number of years I have been a servant. Up to a year ago I always enjoyed the best of health, but suddenly I was seized with pains in my side, my appetite left me, I became dyspeptic and lost all strength. I consulted a doctor who told me I was suffering from general debility. I was forced to stop work and for three months I followed the doctor's treatment, but without benefit. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I had often read of the cases they cured, I decided to do so. I only took eight boxes before I was cured and to-day I am stronger than I ever was. My digestion is good and I can now go about my work without fatigue. I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for me and I strongly advise other weak sickly girls to give them a trial."

Miss Fleury's case is one of many that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured after doctor's help had failed. The success of these pills lies in the fact that they strike right at the root of the trouble—the blood. Other medicines simply act on the symptoms of a trouble—and may relieve, but they do not cure. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood—that is why they cure dyspepsia, rheumatism, anaemia, heart palpitation, headache, backache and the ills of women; all these are caused by bad blood—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure them all because they make new blood. For sale at druggists or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SOME OBSERVATIONS.

The relentless tooth of time and march of progress plays havoc with old landmarks and objects of old time recollection, and the removal of the first Mill Street house, must cause a wrench to the feelings of antiquarians like the editor and other old-timers, not necessarily on account of the building itself, but for associations in memory. The old buildings with a history are fast disappearing. The old log house on the Hall farm, north of the G.T.R., the birthplace of all the family of the late Squire Hall, and said to be about the third house erected in the locality, has been torn down. It is said another venerable edifice, on the McLam property on Main Street, is marked for demolition in the spring. But progress is better than sentiment. We cannot live in the past. There is a better present and a more glorious future. Observer recently had to attack an accumulation of books and papers of various kinds, having had a temporary interest and value, but with the advancing time becoming a mere incubus, and in the words a friend, once somewhat similarly situated, had to say: "Here goes sentiment," and into the flames they went. So let the old houses go if it means better conditions. As the colored entertainer said in introducing his programme, "Some things are ornamental, some things are sentimental, some things are detrimental. Ladies will please remove their hats."

* * *

Sentiment, however, is not to be lightly esteemed. It would be too bad if we were to be devoid entirely of those finer feelings which cherish and reverence things of the past, and be callous in respect to the feelings of others. Many a person in advanced age counts among some of their most treasured objects of interest things which those of us who are younger can hardly appreciate. Talmage, in some of his published writings, tells of peering out through a car window, as he rushed across the county in the night, and turning to a companion, pointed out the old house where the foundations of his character and life work were laid, for there was the home of his childhood, the home of his parents. We ought to sympathize with the writer who said, "Woodman, spare that tree, touch not a single bough, in youth it sheltered me, and I'll protect it now."
