EDITORIAL NOTES

The candidates in the recent provincial election evidently have very similar convictions of the value of printers' ink. According to the official statements just published Mr. Warren's expenditures for printing was $72.00, and Dr. Nixon's $72.85.

It is said that the Liberal Ministry in Britain will, if their temperaded legislation is obstructed in the Lords, reduce the number of licenses by increasing the fee. That would be the best method of reduction, for it would give the increased value acquired by the remaining licenses to the public treasury, and not to the favored survivors.

Mayor Newstead, of Guelph, has been nominated by the Conservative convention at Guelph, a candidate for the Commons. The other names placed before the convention were Messrs. C. Kloepfer, J. J. Drew, Thos. Ingram and J. R. Howitt. All withdrew, making the nomination unanimous. There were about one hundred present. Mr. Hugh Guthrie, M. P., will no doubt be his opponent.

The convention of the Liberal association of the county will be held at Milton to-morrow. It looks very much as if Dr. Harrison, Controller of Toronto City Council, would be the choice of the convention. The Globe on Saturday morning said: "Controller Harrison, a Milton old boy, has been asked to allow his name to go before the Halton Liberal convention to be held next week. He has accepted the invitation of the executive to become the candidate for the Dominion House. Some time ago Mr. J. D. McGregor, a prominent farmer of the constituency and a patron candidate in the early nineties, was nominated. He has since told the executive that he will not accept. Dr. Harrison's family have lived around Milton for nearly one hundred years, and he himself was born on a farm in the vicinity. If nominated he will not at once resign from the Board of Control, but will devote the mornings to city business and attend to the riding in the afternoons and evenings. The constituency has always been considered close. The present member is Mr. David Henderson, Conservative, whose majority in 1904 was 110."

The last issue of Onward quotes the following from the Philadelphia Ledger: "All contracts for whiskey advertisements in the Ledger have expired, and from this date no whiskey advertisements will appear in these columns at any price. If liquor people desire to expatiate on the merits of any peculiar brand of their damnation, they can look elsewhere for a medium through which to extol their virtues. The Ledger makes no claim to sanctification, but when a liquor dealer tells us that a six-dollar advertisement in the Ledger has sold for him twelve hundred dollars' worth of whiskey, it makes us feel that we have been, in a small measure, responsible for the damage done, and we promise to sin no more."—The Onward further comments: "This has been the policy of the Montreal Witness for fifty years. It has lost tens of thousands of dollars by rejecting liquor and tobacco advertisements. We commend to the Star, Globe, Mail and Empire, and other leading papers similar self-denial. It is simply shameful, the way lying liquor advertisements were displayed in big type during the late Local Option campaign." For more than twenty-five years no liquor or tobacco advertising has appeared in the columns of the FREE PRESS.

ACTON WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Brampton Lost Here on Saturday—Disputed Umpire's Decision

A VERY FINE GAME OF BALL

Somewhat of a disappointment was the baseball match between Brampton and Acton in the Park here on Saturday last. True it was a good variety of ball that was served up for the approval of a large and interesting throng of spectators and rooters, but Brampton questioned a decision of Umpire Gould's in the sixth innings, and left the field in a body—with the exception of their captain, who endeavored to get the players back to work again.

At the end of the fifth innings the score was 2 to 0 in favor of the visitors, but Carroll, the Brampton pitcher, showed signs of distress. The trouble began in the sixth. N. Ryder drove a liner to right field, Taylor sacrificed and E. Ryder followed with a long drive to left field, which should have been an easy out for Oulette, the Brampton left fielder. He caught the ball in fair territory, but was unable to recover himself and fell, the ball leaving his mit, and then rolled into foul grounds. In the meantime, N. Ryder had crossed the plate, closely followed by E. Ryder. Oulette recovered the ball, and in an endeavor to cut the runner at the counting sack, threw wild to McGunnigal, and the score was tied, two all.

The Bramptonites claimed that the ball was caught in foul ground, and upon being informed by the umpire that the ball was fair by a yard, broke up the game, and marched to their hotel. Umpire Gould then gave the game to Acton, by the usual score under such circumstances of 9 to 0.

The writer is creditably informed that the unsportsmanlike tactics of the Brampton Club is the result of a letter received by them from the manager of the Georgetown team, who is feeling sore because of his inability to land a victory over Acton during the entire season of 1908.

It is sincerely regretted in Acton that this unpleasantness should arise at the close of a most enjoyable season of well played amateur ball in the Halton-Peel League.

Acton will go to Brampton on Saturday to play the last game of the schedule. Milton defaulted to Georgetown last week.

SOME OBSERVATIONS.

Blessings on the memory of the man—or perhaps it was a woman—who invented the Sunday School pic-nic! for let carping critics, and censorious cynics, and crusty curmudgeons of all sorts say what they will, there is good evidence to show that some of the brightest memories, and most pleasant recollections of those who are advanced in life cluster around the old-fashioned Sunday School pic-nic of their childhood. There is also very good evidence that among the few of childhood's joys some of the present day juveniles will treasure in years to come will be the same old institution. It is not time lost, this pic-nic business.

So there was a merry twinkle in the eye of Mr. H. P. Moore as he drew his blind last Friday morning, and looked out on the glorious prospect of a fine day, and thought of the joys in store for the large army of juveniles and others in the Methodist Sunday School, of which he is the Superintendent. For this was the day promised for the "Hay drive," the cognomen given to the form the picnic for this school was to take this year. Not less merry would be the twinkle of the hosts of youngsters concerned, for this was to be somewhat of a new experience, and what "kid" would not revel in contemplation of the mysterious and unknown!

About one o'clock quite a stir commenced in front of the Church—youngsters afraid they would be late; others more cautious not wanting to appear too eager, while before long staid and toil-worn adults were on hand in expectancy. From four-score-and-ten down to ten and less without any score, they were there, a jolly crowd. Capacious hay waggons with the racks full of hay were soon lined up, waiting the word to entrain. Here, there, and everywhere, was the superintendent, brimful of joy at the anticipations of his wards. His fertile resources had produced large banners bearing the name of the school, to be fastened on the harness of the chargers, while flags were fluttering, and Acton Citizens' Band was placed at the head of the ranks. Assistance in marshalling and general arrangements was given by the pastor, superintendent, assistant superintendent and secretary. They were a busy quartette. I had a good vantage ground for observation, and was carefully noting what was going on, for I have a kind of liking for these doings. There was quite a joke at the expense of the assistant superintendent who almost got left behind, but in this case, if not always true, "all's well that ends well."

At the proper time loading commenced and quickly the rackstuff of such unusual freight were ready to move off, backed up by other vehicles containing the commissariat department, and a few who did not care to risk the novelty of a hay ride. A more heterogeneous conglomeration would be hard to find as there was very little choosing of company, except a few anxious swains who could not endure the thought of "the girl I left behind me." So cheering, laughing, talking, waving flags, etc., the jolly crowd crossed "the track" and moved out to the cross-road, startling the harvesters and bringing to the doors of the houses, on route, wondering wives and damsels. "Observer" was privileged to join the crowd, and travelled incognito, so knows pretty well what went on. To add to the ludicrous, at a narrow place in the road, a tire came off the wheel of one of the front waggons, and of course all had to wait. A temporary blacksmith shop was improvised on top of a flat rock, and after much pounding, and wedging and of course puffing and sweating, the wheel was put on, and it was "off agin, on agin, gone agin, Finnegan."

The objective point on the side of the mountain by the banks of the beautiful stream, with the pure spring water and pretty cascades, beyond the 8th line, was soon reached, and here a merry old-fashioned pic-nic was held. It is a lovely place, which with some fixing up might be made a charming quiet retreat for work-wearied brains and muscles, and a good deal easier reached than some other places which are eloquently heralded.

All were loaded up about 6.30 p. m. and about 8 o'clock the yelling, singing, happy-hearted, tired pic-nickers, traversed the principal streets forming a pageant, perhaps as important as any at the recent Quebec tercentenary, and drew up at the church door, unloaded, disbanded, bade good-night, and went home, feeling that after all a Sunday School is something good to have part in.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The report was adopted.

A list of supplies for the power house was requested by the electrician. A motion authorized the order.

The matter of appointment of a collector of taxes was discussed.

Moved by T. Gray, seconded by A. Bell, and resolved that James Carnahan be and is hereby appointed collector of taxes for the corporation for 1908, all collections to be paid over to the treasurer of the municipality as collected each day; the said collector to furnish the sum of $2,000 securities, in two sureties of $1,000 each, to be satisfactory to the Council.—Carried.

The purchase of the section of the Arthurs' property required to widen Mill Street was discussed. Mrs. Arthurs submitted, through Reeve Swackhamer, a verbal proposition for moving the main building back to the proposed new street line. The matter will be investigated.

Dr. Gray inquired if any more information had been received respecting estimates for the cut stone and ornamental iron work for the new entrance to Fairview Cemetery. There had been no new data received. He suggested that Mr. N. Forbes be engaged to proceed to the building of cut stone supports and have the iron work arranged for later.
