EDITORIAL NOTES

The attention of rural school trustees is directed to the fact that the Government gives a grant of $100 to any section that purchases an acre of land for a school garden and also gives an annual grant of $20 to the trustees and $30 to the teacher where it is carried on.

The Labor Gazette for September reports that general employment is considerably more active throughout Canada than in the previous month, last year. The general industrial outlook has improved, and the continuance of busy conditions during the autumn season was regarded as assured. The tendency of wages is upward, but grain and flour are cheaper.

At a meeting of the County Council last week the County Clerk was instructed to notify all parties going over the highways of the county with traction engines to take the precaution to protect the bridges by laying planks on same. In case any bridge is damaged the owner of the engine will be required to pay all damages.

The Attorney-General's department is calling the attention of magistrates and constables to the fact that a large majority of the foreigners coming into this country carry revolvers and knives. The criminal code forbids the carrying of such weapons and the Attorney-General requests that the provisions of the statue touching the matter be strictly carried out.

It is stated that the Government contemplates taking steps at next session of the Ontario Legislature to round up the "hip pocket artist." The Provincial and local officers of the Liquor License department state that the present law is not wide enough to warrant officers, in local option districts, to search private persons or suspects, which is sometimes a very desirable procedure.

Local Option is evidently prohibiting the sale of liquor vey effectually in the United States. The official figures for the year ending June 30th, 1909, has just been issued and show the comparative Government receipts from spirits and fermented liquors for the past two fiscal years. These figures, as detailed from the Internal Revenue Bureau, show that during the past fiscal year, despite all predictions to the contrary, there was a total drop in the production and sale of fermented and spirituous liquors of $70,050,713.60.

Much that is interesting and instructive is found within the covers of the October issue of Physical Culture. Bernarr Macfadden, who is noted for his original and striking ideas regarding the cause and cure of ill-health, has written a series of articles on "The Natural Treatment of Disease," the first instalment of which appears in this number. His unswerving faith in the methods of which he advocates, and the striking results frequently reported as attending the application of his theories, render his statements worthy of the most thorough consideration.

It is already evident that the western crop movement this year will be earlier than that of last. During last week 1,317 cars of wheat were inspected. During the corresponding week last year inspections totalled 451 cars and later advices show that the movement is rapidly increasing. Reports regarding the quality of the grain are also exceedingly cheerful and it is evident that the crop will grade up to an average as high as that of any former year. It would appear that the estimate of a total yield of a hundred and twenty-five million bushels of wheat was not unduly high. From many districts are coming reports of an average yield of twenty-five to forty bushels to the acre which will more than make up for poor yields in less fortunate districts.

ROCKWOOD

The annual harvest home service in St. John's church last Friday evening was well attended. The church was beautifully decorated with grain, fruit, flowers and vegetables. Rev. R. F. Kelleman, the rector, preached a very appropriate harvest festival sermon. The musical service was splendidly rendered by the united choirs of St. John's and St. Alban's, Acton. At the close of the service the Acton choir and visitors were entertained very hospitably by the Rockwood friends.

Rev. R. F. Kelleman, B. A., preached a special harvest festival sermon in St. John's Church on Sunday.

Last Saturday Mrs. Samuel Coleman, who has been an invalid for the past year or more, was taken to Guelph General Hospital for treatment. Her stay there was, however, of very brief duration, as she died on Monday night. The remains were brought to Rockwood the next morning, and the funeral will take place to Acton at two o'clock this afternoon.

Only successful remedies are ever imitated. It is evident that "D. & L." Menthol Plasters successfully relieve rheumatic pains, backache, pleurisy, &c. "The D. & L." have been so widely imitated. Avoid disappointment. Get the genuine. Made only by the Davis & Lawrence Co.

MR. WATSON'S LETTER RE LOCAL OPTION IN ROBLIN

EDITOR FREE PRESS:

DEAR SIR,—In opening my FREE PRESS this week I was somewhat amused to read a lengthy letter written by Mr. J. F. Watson of Killarney, in which he critizes an article in a previous paper referring to statements made by me when on a visit to Acton recently, regarding local option in Roblin, Man.

I congratulate Mr. Watson, as it is the first article I have ever seen advocating the liquor traffic and signed by a hotelkeeper.

I might say here that I have met Mr. Watson as a fellow citizen and also have sat with him as a brother in the lodge room, and so far as I have known him have found him a gentleman, therefore I hope he will accord me the same privilege as he himself has taken, namely, freedom of thought and freedom of speech.

Mr. Watson and myself view this question from different standpoints. He has given the FREE PRESS readers his view of the subject, and if you will allow me space in your valued paper I will try, not as one who has an axe to grind, but as a citizen of a local option district, to give its readers some interesting facts, which may also be information to Mr. Watson regarding the working of the by-law in Roblin.

As time will not allow me opportunity at present I hope you will grant me the space at a later date. Thanking you in anticipation,

I remain

D. L. MCDOUGAL.

Woman's Institute Topics

The Acton Woman's Institute is issuing a comprehensive and very helpful programme for the year just opening with suggestive topics for the monthly meetings. The following timely subjects will be introduced and discussed: ventilation of the home, suggestions for Hallowe'en parties, demonstration in salad making, inexpensive Christmas gifts, recipes for Christmas cooking, selections from favorite authors, demonstration in dress cutting, preparation of dishes to tempt the appetite, cold dishes for summer, sociability. The meetings of the Institute are held the first Friday afternoon of each month.

Wedded at St. Alban's

On Saturday morning a quiet wedding was solemized by the Rev. R. F. Kelleman at St. Alban's Church. The contracting parties were Mr. W. Daniels of Acton and Miss E. Cundall, of London, Eng. Miss P. Hildenbrand was bridesmaid and Mr. A. Pettigal supported the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. A. Cundall. In the evening a large party of friends were invited to the wedding supper at Mr. and Mrs. Nutbey's, No. 1, Beardmore Crescent. Twenty-five guests sat down and ample justice was done to the good things before them. The young couple were the recipients of numerous presents from their friends.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT

Did You Pay Your Taxes?

Tax Collector Smith sat at the "Receipt of Custom" last Saturday. The aggregate of tax monies received was somewhat lower than the amount when the first instalment was due last year, but cash is still coming in freely. The collector is obliged to find $10,000 from the ratepayers by the 31st December.

Anniversary Services at Churchill

Next Sunday and Monday will be observed at the Congregational Church, Churchill, with anniversary services of an interesting character. On Sunday afternoon at three o'clock Rev. E. D. Silcox, of Toronto, will preach. On Monday evening there will be a harvest home tea and entertainment. The programme will include addresses by Rev's R. F. Kelleman, Acton, Wm. H. Douglas, Rockwood, and Mr. Claris, Alton. The Methodist Sunday School Orchestra, Acton, will take part. Vocal music will be provided by Miss Atwell, Toronto; Miss Emma Hart, Acton; Rev. E. D. Silcox, Toronto, and Master Joe Swackhamer, Acton. Tea will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock.

A Missionary Pie

A novel and very instructive service was held by the Epworth League on Tuesday evening. It was an evening with the missions of the church. The members of the League were divided into groups and to each group was assigned a section of the mission field. Each member was to give some fact respecting the group to which he or she was assigned and the leader of the group was required to give a five-minute address. The arrangement showed very conclusively that the young people have been studying missions. The several groups were led as follows: China, Miss Hudson; Japan, Miss Clara E. Moore; India, Mr. T. B. Akins; Indian work in Canada, Mr. A. T. Brown; French work in Canada, Mrs. (Dr.) Antliff; Foreign work in British Columbia, Mr. Frank Kennedy. Dr. Antliff was critic. Honors were so even between the groups assigned to China and the Indian work, that the big cocoanut missionary pie was divided between Miss Hudson and Mr. A. T. Brown and their supporters.

The Late Mrs. Samuel Coleman

Many of our readers in Acton and vicinity will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Samuel Coleman of Rockwood, as noted elsewhere. Mrs. Coleman spent the greater part of her life on the Erin and Eramosa townline, near Crewson's Corners, being born in the neighborhood, a daughter of the late Little Campbell, J. P. She married Mr. David Moore, their family being nine in number. Her industry and devotion to her family was intensified by a serious injury to her husband in the woods by a falling tree, which greatly impaired his powers through future life. Mr. Moore died in 1888, and her family having gone, she married in 1896, Mr. Joseph Anderson, Arkell, who, however, deceased about four years afterwards. She married in 1903, Mr. Coleman, living since in Rockwood, their pretty little home being often visited by many old acquaintances who were always sure of a welcome. In recent years heart trouble developed, and slowly but surely, her physician's forecast of the coming end proved true, and the weary wheels of life stood still on Monday night. Surviving members of her family are: Robert Moore, in Acton; Joseph, in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; D. James, in Alberta; Wesley, in Toronto; Howard, in British Columbia; Mrs. N. Forbes, Acton, and Mrs. W. Cripps, Crewson's Corners. Those deceased are: Mrs. Albert Kentner, Ballinafad, and Mrs. J. S. Coleman, Acton. A member of the Methodist Church, she sought to help her children to remember their Creator in the days of their youth. The funeral takes place here this afternoon, meeting at Rockwood at 2 o'clock.

Created a Street Disturbance

Upon a charge laid by Chief Lawson of being drunk and disorderly, William Cutting, Main Street, was arraigned before H. P. Moore, J. P., at 7.30 o'clock Saturday evening, after being in the cells from shortly after noon. He was not in a fit condition for trial and was remanded to the cells until Monday morning at 8 o'clock. Evidence was given by Constables Lawson and Smith and several other witnesses that Cutting acted in a drunken manner, that he abused his wife and one of the children of a neighbor, and that his profanity was disgraceful. In view of the fact that his family need his support and that he had already spent nearly two days in the cells, he was allowed out on suspended sentence during his future good conduct. He agreed to have his name placed on the "Indian List."

An Outing Which All Enjoyed

The office staff of the Canada Glove Works took an enjoyable holiday drive on Saturday afternoon. Stanley Park, Erin, was the rendezvous, and a pic-nic was an attractive feature of the outing. Mr. A. C. Nodier, chief accountant, was master of ceremonies.

Death of Abram Stark

Between two and three weeks ago Abram Stark, of Esquesing, went to the General Hospital, Toronto, where he underwent an operation. It was successful and he was doing well up to a few days ago, when he took a turn for the worse. He has been unconscious for two days and it is said that he has had a paralytic stroke. His many friends will be sorry to hear that his recovery is doubtful. Later—It is reported that Mr. Stark died this morning.—Champion. Mr. Stark resided at lot 8, con. 1, Esquesing, and was one of the county's most prominent farmers. He was a director of the County Fall Fair, and was in Acton a few weeks ago canvassing for special prizes.

Accidents at Guelph Fair

The closing day of the Guelph Central Exhibition was marred by three accidents. Roy Robinson, the 16 year-old son of Thos. Robinson, of the Elora Road, fell from an amusement device known as "The Ocean Wave," and had his leg crushed between the ground and the machine. The leg was broken just below the knee. Solomon Dawson, an elderly man who resides on the Elora road, was sitting on a wooden rail which surrounded the race track, when the rail broke. He fell backward on his head, and was rendered unconscious. Frank Parson, a little boy, was kicked in the back by one of the show horses as it was leaving the prize ring, injuring his spine.
