School board hosting town hall meetings

The Halton Catholic District School Board will host four town hall meetings across the region in June to gather feedback from the community to guide the board's new strategic planning process.

The board's current multi-year strategic plan, created in June 2010, is entitled Fulfilling the Promise: Strategic Directions for 2010-15.

The board has begun its preliminary review and development for the next multi-year plan, which will outline the board's strategic directions beyond 2015.

"We are currently in the early planning and development stages of our board's next multi-year plan, and thought this would be an opportune moment to gather the feedback of our constituents," Diane Rabenda, chair of the board, said in a press release.

"Parents and ratepayers who attend the town hall meetings will have an opportunity to share their perspective on the issues related to education that are important to them. We want to know how we are doing. Are we meeting the needs of our constituents? What can we do to improve our effectiveness as a school district?"

The four town hall meetings, which all begin at 7 p.m., have been scheduled as follows:

- Monday, June 2, in the cafeteria of St. Ignatius of Loyola Secondary School, 1550 Nottingham Gate, Oakville

- Tuesday, June 10, in the cafeteria/stage area of Notre Dame Secondary School,

2333 Headon Forest Dr., Burlington

- Tuesday, June 10, in the cafeteria of Christ the King Secondary School, 161 Guelph St., Halton Hills

- Tuesday, June 10, in the cafeteria/stage area of Bishop Reding Secondary School, 1120 Main St. E, Milton

Registration is required to attend; to sign up, visit <https://survey.hcdsb.org/TownHallSurvey.aspx>.

For more information about the upcoming town hall meetings, contact your local trustee.
