THANKSGIVING

Monday next has been set apart as a day for national thanksgiving to God for His benefits and blessings of the year.

Naturally it behooves all thoughtful citizens of this favored and prosperous country to pause and meditate upon the reasons we have for giving thanks. First of all, perhaps, that which is uppermost in the minds and hearts of all is gratitude for a bountiful harvest. Crops generally have been good throughout our great Dominion. They have been especially good in our own province of Ontario. The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof, and He hath surely scattered bountifully, for verily "Our barns are filled with plenty, and our presses burst out with new wine."

The people of Canada have further cause for gratitude to Almighty God for the quiet and peace which reign everywhere, for the extension of Christ's Kingdom as shown by the reports from the various church courts during the past few months; for the widespread interest in every province in the banishment of the curse of strong drink through the united effort to close the bar-rooms by the use of legal means provided, and the adherence of our people to the principles which make for righteousness; for the opportunity afforded every honest, industrious, capable man to win a competent portion of the good things of life; for the wonderful development of the country, increase in population and in material wealth.

Let us each be thankful for the happiness and the blessings that surround us.

Home is the natural objective point for every one at the Thanksgiving season. This is why the stranger far from kinsfolk and familiar friends is specially lonely amid general merry-making. Widen the circle so that it may include at your dinner-table your boy's chum who cannot go to his distant home to be with his own people on the happy day. Let your daughter invite one or two of her girl friends to share Thanksgiving with her. With gratitude in our hearts let us all remember this Thanksgiving time the Saviour's words: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The western railroads are still hard at work moving the crop, but it is said many of the farmers are holding the wheat from the market. One of the line elevator companies states that at various points it is holding about 1,000,000 bushels of wheat which is stored with no directions to sell. The farmers are evidently firm in the belief that higher prices will prevail before the next crop is ready.

Trade between Canada and the United States made its highest record last year. It has more than doubled in the last ten years. In no previous year have either reports from imports or exports to that country equalled the record of 1909. Imports from Canada have increased from $35,500,000 in 1899 to approximately $88,000,000 and exports thereto from $80,000,000 to about $190,000,000, these estimates for 1909 being based upon official figures recently presented by the United States Bureau of Statistics. No other important country takes as large a share of its imports from the United States as does Canada.

The Province of Ontario deals lightly with violators of the liquor law. Compare an Ontario sentence of a ten dollar fine on a license holder who sells liquor to a boy, or even a hundred dollar fine on a man who sells without a license, with punishment recorded in the following: Smethport, Pa., October 5th—Judge Bouton in the criminal court sentenced Frank Bottume to pay a fine of $2,000, costs of prosecution and serve three months in the county jail; John Yarnell, $1,000, pay costs and nine months in jail; James Amato, $500, costs and six months. All pleaded guilty to the charge of the illegal sale of liquor.

In a remarkable address at the recent great temperance convention at Knowlton, Que., Archbishop Bruchesi said: "We have joined hands with you Protestant people to fight alcoholism, and to reduce the evil, to approach the civil powers, governments and municipal councils and secure their help. We cannot consent to our children, after being trained in homes of temperance, having to meet schools of intemperance—which the bars and hotels in country and city are, and where selfish men tempt them to drink. Without being a prophet, I foresee that before fifteen years have gone our united efforts will make Canada the most sober country in the world."

The summary manner in which British law is meted out to offenders is a striking contrast to that in vogue in some other countries. A concrete case is seen in that of Dr. Crippen, whose trial for murder occupied the court less than five days last week; the jury was out less than half an hour and returned a verdict of guilty; sentence was pronounced and the criminal is to be hanged on the 8th November. Contrast this with the notorious Thaw case in the United States, which took a week to empannel a jury, weary months over the trial, and then it was allowed to come up a second time. British law is just and it is prompt and devoid of unnecessary technicalities.

HALTON TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The Annual Sessions at Milton Last Thursday and Friday.

G. FITTAL, THE NEW PRESIDENT

Halton County Teachers' Association held one of the most profitable conventions in its history, at Milton, in Knox Church, last Thursday and Friday.

At the Thursday evening meeting an excellent musical program was provided under the chairmanship of President Deacon, the Milton Orchestra furnishing a number of fine selections. Dr. Morgan, of the Hamilton Normal School, delivered an address on "Our National Ideals." He emphasized in turn as characteristic of Canadians, perseverance, love of home life, appreciation of intellectual culture, religiousness, and love of morality, pointing out that these are really the basal virtues in national life.

At Friday morning's session, after religious exercises conducted by Mr. Deacon, Dr. Morgan concluded his series of lectures on civics, working an illustrative treatment of topics on this subject. As a preparation for citizenship the child may first best learn of the source of civic authority in the authority exercised by the teacher, conferred by the trustees to whom the people have delegated power. This will lead to the further question of municipal authority, the principle of direct taxation and the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. He deprecated the usual course of teachers in beginning this subject of civics with the British North America Act and coming down to the school section rather than the correct reverse process.

At the conclusion of this lecture, on motion of J. M. Denyes, B. A., Principal of Oakville High School, and Principal Stewart, of Acton, the convention expressed keen appreciation of Dr. Morgan's service to the association.

"Methods of Promotion" was practically dealt with by Messrs. Stewart and Inman, Miss Hecks and others. Miss Minnie Holmes gave a most interesting report of the last session of the public school section of the O. E. A.

The afternoon session was opened with a practical class in composition taught as fourth class by Miss Daisy Nicklin, of Acton, which proved an inspiration to the teachers in what is usually a dreaded subject. The final address of the session was made by Inspector J. S. Deacon on "The Value of Travel in Education Work." In a very interesting talk the Inspector made many suggestions as to how easily and advantageously and at the same time cheaply the teacher of the present day may by wise planning, widen his culture and increase his knowledge. The value of travel in its illumination of history, literature and art is inestimable. For beauty of scenery our own land is unsurpassed by any country in the world.

A resolution of sympathy with Principal Mills, of Georgetown, and Miss F. McDonald, late of Lorne School, in their enforced absence from the association through severe illness, was passed, and also an expression of thanks was made to the authorities of Knox Church.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Mr. George Fittal, Esquesing; Vice-President—Mr. R. F. Sauderson, Oakville; Secretary—Miss Minnie Bennett, Acton; Treasurer—Miss Bowes, Milton; Librarian—Mr. Inman, Milton. Delegates to the O. A. C.—Mr. G. C. Dobson and Miss Daisy Nicklin. The 1911 meeting of the association will be held at Acton.

THE CEMENT MERGER

The Average Cost of Cement in 1910 Has Been Lower Than Ever Before

A recent issue of "Construction," a technical paper published in Toronto, has an interesting article on the cement industry. The editorial says in part:

"One year has passed, and it is gratifying to note that the merger has made good its promises and kept faith with both consumer and independent manufacturer alike.

"The consumer will get his cement for 1910 at an average price of $1.25 per barrel at the mill—a price lower than has heretofore prevailed in Canada, with the exception of the short interval during 1900, when cement was being sold below actual cost of production, a condition that could not continue for any length of time.

"The following average price per bbl., for cement during the past five years, according to the report issued by the Department of Mines, is interesting: 1904, $1.41; 1905, $1.42; 1906, $1.49; 1907, $1.53; 1908, $1.39; 1909, $1.32. Thus it may be seen that the present conditions under which cement is sold in Canada, have by no means abnormally raised prices.

"Both the merger and the independent companies (through their sales agent) have launched out into great educational campaigns with the purpose of increasing the consumption of cement by the farming community and the lay public, thus demonstrating that both branches of the industry are proceeding to increase their outputs rather than abnormally raise prices."

MILL STREET BY-LAW CARRIED

Small Vote, but those Favorable were Nineteen to One

PAVEMENT CONTRACTOR IN AT WORK

The election on Monday on the By-law to provide for the expenditure of one thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars in widening that portion of the north side of Mill Street from Main to John Streets, and to authorize for that purpose the issue and sale of debentures of Acton to the amount of one thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars, created very little interest amongst the property owners of the municipality. It was considered to be a foregone conclusion that every loyal citizen was so thoroughly convinced of the wisdom of the step taken by the Council to widen the street at its narrow part, that there would be no opposition at the polls. As a result only about one-fourth of the property owners took the trouble to poll their votes. Eighty-two votes were cast, and of these only four were polled against the by-law and these were in polling sub-division No. 2.

THE DAY'S POLLING

	Town Hall	Speight's Shop	Total
For the By-law	40	38	78
Against the Bylaw	0	4	4

The Council has already received an offer for the debenture at par from a local capitalist.

The Arthurs buildings have been moved back to the street line, and the second building, the only one remaining will be moved in ample time to permit the pavement contractor to complete the walks. Contractor Croft commenced work in filling and grading on Tuesday and will complete his work with the usual promptitude. In about ten days our citizens will have the pleasure of using the new pavement on the widened street line, and Mill Street will present a much more attractive appearance than ever before.

The biological laboratory at the experimental farm has revealed the welcome fact that the disease of rabies has about run its course, no cases having been sent in there for observation within the past couple of months. During the year 1909, and until the end of September of this year, more than 125 animals have been sent in for observation, of which over half showed positive symptoms of rabies.

THE SECOND CHANCE

By Nellie McClung, Author of "Sowing Seeds in Danny".

Mrs. McClung has in this new volume written a further account of Pearlie Watson. And she is the same comical, honest, motherly, warm-hearted, unexpected, effective, and altogether delightful little Irish girl that made one's heart grow warm and brought the smiles to one's face every few minutes. Her experiences as she grows to young womanhood, and the way in which she makes the numerous Watsons transform that run-down farm, "The Second Chance," are worth your while—and we know if you read this book you'll want to pass it on. Stylish Millinery at Ryan's

One Important Reason why we can always please you in Millinery is because our stock of imported trimmings is so vast. It represents almost everything you can ask for.

We examine model hats in Paris, London and New York, and we purchase model hats in Paris. With this adequate purchasing system we see every good idea as soon as it is shown and embody it in our millinery.

Our millinery is not purchased in accordance with what we think—but WHAT WE KNOW. We do not have to use our imagination because we see what is correct.

Under these circumstances it is to be expected and is a fact that we have an enormous millinery business.

WE ARE IN THE MILLINERY BUSINESS IN THE RIGHT WAY. This is reflected in the style and quality of our hats, the class of women who wear them, and the increased millinery business we do from season to season.

Whether you want a hat at $3.00 or $30.00 it makes no difference to the services you receive here. We give everyone the same care and attention, regardless of what you wish to pay.

We think we can prove to you that we offer most style and value for your money.
