THE FREE PRESS CHRISTMAS NUMBER

The Special Christmas Numbers of the FREE PRESS have always been highly attractive and appropriate to the festive season and they have invariably been given a most cordial reception by our citizens and subscribers. The special edition of every Christmas number in the past has been exhausted before the demands were met. We are this year issuing a larger edition still. When the splendid character of the engraving and the latter press are seen there is no doubt every copy will be disposed of before Christmas arrives.

Our Christmas Number this year will be issued with our regular weekly edition on Thursday, 8th December. A copy will be sent gratuitously to all present subscribers and to all new subscribers received while the edition lasts. Extra copies will be sold at ten cents each, wrapped ready for mailing. Already a number who have friends in the old land are ordering copies to be sent forward to reach the home friends before Christmas.

The contents of this splendid holiday number must be seen to be fully appreciated. The first page is devoted to a three-color photo-engraving entitled "Christmas Morning" and is a charming presentation of the joys of that happy day. On the second page there is a series of engravings which are replicas of famous paintings of scriptural scenes, with Christmas editorial matter. The third and fourth pages have a number of the very finest mountain views in the Canadian Rockies with delightful descriptive matter by Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, who succeeded by intrepid effort in scaling the famous Robson Mountain to the summit, an elevation of about 13,000 feet. Following pages give colored engravings of a youthful boy scout and Christmas scenes. Then follows a highly enjoyable Christmas story entitled "Lowrie's Good-will." A full page is devoted to noted cathedrals of England. Excellent engravings of Canterbury, Ely, (where Mr. John Clarke, manager of Acton Tanning Co., was a choir boy in his teens), Worcester, Lichfield, Exeter, Peterborough, York, Salisbury, Lincoln and Carlisle are shown. Some or all of these historic edifices have no doubt been visited by numbers of our citizens. A page is given to portraits of little bright-faced Canadians, all of whom appear to be enjoying the Christmas spirit. As a whole the forthcoming number will surpass any previous Christmas edition which has been sent out by the FREE PRESS.

Orders for extra copies should be handed in at once.

EDITORIAL NOTES

King George has issued a proclamation fixing the date of the coronation as June 22nd, 1911.

Farming is a business which requires access to practical business information. This is supplied in the columns of The Farmer's weekly Sun. The secret of the growing popularity of this paper lies in its unfiring devotion to the interests of the farmer. To be posted a farmer must read The Sun. If you are not a reader of The Sun try it for 1911.

This is the way the leading paper of Littleton, N. H., in its editorial columns put the matter of responsibility of the franchise to the voters: "If you love your family, if you love Littleton, if you have ever uttered that part of the Lord's prayer, 'Deliver us from temptation,' cast your vote for no license." A strenuous "banish the bar" campaign is in progress.

A significant movement and one which proves the constant advancement of civilization is the announcement that the Chinese Government has decided to create an Imperial Chinese Parliament. That the Chinese people want popular government seems evident; they are probably influenced by the Japanese example. The ultimate effect of China's progress in civilization, upon the Western world, is matter for speculation and perhaps for some anxiety.

That widely-circulated weekly, the Toledo, Ohio, Blade, has just made this announcement: "The present week's issue of this paper goes to press without whiskey advertisements. Conspicuous attention is given to this circumstance because it signifies the end of this class of advertising in the pages of the Blade. Its columns are now closed against the exploitation of all distilled liquors. This determination is not of spasmodic origin. It has been contemplated for some time, but there were obstacles in the form of unexpired contracts, in the way. Commercial integrity had to be maintained. These contracts have expired, and their expiration marks the end of liquor advertisements in Blade columns. The elimination is complete."

A Canadian publication about Canadians by Canadians. Printed in Canada on Canadian-made paper. Containing stories written by Canadian authors and illustrated by Canadian artists. Illustrations engraved by Canadians on Canadian copper. Cover and historical plate the work of Canadian artists and reproduced by Canadian lithographers.

Its keynote is Canada. Canada in the summer—by lake and stream and woodland. Canada in the autumn—in the days of its fruitage. Canada in winter—the most joyous season of all. The price is fifty cents each, from your dealer, or sixty cents if mailed direct from The Globe Office, Toronto. Ask your newsdealer about it.

Come and see us, or write for catalogue. BROWN BROS. CO., Browns' Nurseries, Welland Co., Ont.

I hope you are not getting tired of my speaking and gone to sleep, because I must keep telling you of what we can do for you every week as long as I am in the business, "lest you forget." This week, because of the mornings getting dark, we are very busy repairing alarm clocks. We have the best system in the world for sharpening the balance pivots which is the first thing that wears. So that we can positively make alarm clocks practically as good as new. In fact, we warrant them to run as well as ever or allow the fifty cents back on a new one.—G. D. CHURCHILL

It was with great cordiality that the congregation of this church welcomed Rev. Joseph Unsworth, of Toronto, to his old pulpit here last Sunday afternoon. The old gentleman, who is in his eighty-third year, is still quite hearty and preached a forty-minute sermon with much of his old-time force and eloquence.

In his introduction Mr. Unsworth remarked that inasmuch as he was that day celebrating the anniversary of his first visit to Churchill, 58 years ago, he would preach from the same text, I Tim. 1:15, "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief." The sermon by the venerable man of God was listened to with much interest. The usual congregation was augmented by the attendance of old friends of Mr. Unsworth of other communions.

During his stay here he was the guest of his life-long friend, Mr. Christopher Swackhamer.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Even Germany is taking steps to rid herself of the liquor curse. The Local Option movement is being introduced in that great country. A first petition to the German Diet is now signed by more than 200,000 persons, and among others two important women's meetings have resolved in favor of the Local Option movement.

The present indications are that the acreage of the west under crop next season will be half as large again as the largest in the history of the country. It has been a favorable fall for plowing and a far larger area than ever before has been plowed under, then in addition in the districts where there were poor crops the farmers have had plenty of time to prepare the land and large areas of it.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Judging by the number of United States farmers who have been coming into the West this fall on prospecting tours, next spring will see the American rush to the last West greater than ever. Land men predict that there will be a big boom in Manitoba farms. In former years the rush has been to Saskatchewan and Alberta and the thousands of rich acres in Manitoba, a great deal within easy distance of Winnipeg, have been passed over.

A scientific agriculturalist who recently made an extensive trip of exploration through New Ontario, Canada's latest mecca of homeseekers, reported that he had found "the soil ideal for the growth of fruits and vegetables." He was also pleasantly surprised to discover that the famous silver-mining district was contiguous to millions of acres of land of excellent crop-bearing possibilities. He had seen no territory more inviting to the settler in the prairie country of the Canadian Northwest nor in the fertile states on this side of the border.—Chicago Canadian-American.

T. P. O'Connor, the well-known member of British Parliament for Ireland, who has been touring in Canada for several months, sailed homeward on Saturday. In his farewell message to the Canadian people he said: "I will always look back on my tour in Canada as one of the most memorable experiences of my life. I had an opportunity of seeing the great West, and all I have read of that wonderful region fell infinitely below what I found there. I bid farewell to Canada with overflowing gratitude for her support to my cause, for kindness to me, and boundless faith in her destinies.

The Publishers of The Canadian Electric News have issued an Hydro-Electric number which is particularly interesting at this time. It contains a forty-page illustrated description of the 110,000 volt Transmission System constructed by The Ontario Government for the purpose of distributing Niagara power to the municipalities throughout South-western Ontario. The history of the project, the agreements between the commission, The Ontario Power Company and the municipalities, and the many interesting features pertaining to the construction of the High Tension Transmission Line and the various distributing stations, are for the first time reviewed at length in one publication. There is also a biographical sketch of the Chief Engineer, Mr. R. W. Sothman, this being the fifth in the series "The Makers of Electrical Canada". Hugh C. McLean, Limited, Toronto, are the publishers.

You may as well borrow a person's money as his time.—Horace Mann.

Many a man has a kick coming because his mule wasn't born an automobile.

Did not Sound his Horn in Time. G. Marshall, Orangeville, Was Killed

ORANGEVILLE, Nov. 8th.—The assizes jury this morning gave a verdict for two thousand dollars in favor of Mrs. Marshall and her children against Dr. Gowan. Marshall (husband of the plaintiff) was leading gravel and was killed when his horse took fright on the approach of the doctor's automobile.

This was the first case decided under the new act of the Ontario Legislature which places the burden of proof on the automobilist to show that there was no neglect on his part.
