Acton Drunks in Guelph Cells

An Incident of Grand Valley Fair

At the Grand Valley fall fair last month George Swalt, a hotelkeeper, struck Samuel Still over the head with a beer bottle, inflicting serious injuries. The case was to have been tried at Orangeville on Saturday, but the parties had a conference and a settlement was arrived at. The hotelkeeper paid the injured man $150 and assumed all costs. Still is a well-to-do farmer in Mono, and has recovered from his injuries.

Purchased a Fine Farm

Mr. Robert Johnston, Jr., who had the misfortune to lose his barn on lot 1, con. 2, Erin, by lightning a few weeks ago, has purchased the fine farm belonging to the estate of the late David Shultis, at Rockwood. This is one of the best farms of this section. It has a splendid stone house and bank barn and is in all respects a first-class property. His other farm has been sold to Messrs. Fred Johnston and Smith Nellis who will use it for pasturage.

Left One Dollar of His Wife

"I give to my wife, Maggie P. Taylor, the sum of one dollar." That is a sentence from the will of J. F. Taylor, harnessmaker, of Toronto, and for some years a resident of Acton, who died on July 24th. His will was filed for probate last week. He left $150 cash in the Bank of Commerce, a $400 policy in the Canada Life Insurance Company, and a $2,000 policy in the A. O. U. W. His daughters are more liberally provided for. Mrs. Annie Bossey, of Georgetown, gets the $2,000 A. O. U. W. policy; Ethel May Taylor gets the $400 policy and the residue of the estate, $664 in all.

Work on Pavement Discontinued

Contractor Croft completed the new pavement on Mill Street as far as Main Street the middle of last week, and had done the filling in and curbing for the walk to Park Avenue, and commenced laying the concrete. The heavy frosts on Thursday and Friday nights, however, put a stop to further operations for the present. It was found impossible to handle the grout and the Council considered the danger from frost to any cement walks laid now to be too great to run any further risks. The completed walks appear to be quite satisfactory. It is probable the Contractor will have a number of new pavement contracts to carry out here next spring.

Death of John Morris in England

Particulars of the death of John Morris from blood-poisoning at his old home at Clayton, Eng., were received by his brother, Mr. Tom Morris, Main Street, last week. After spending a year or two in Acton Mr. Morris left here about three years ago. After residing for a few months in Galt he went to British Columbia and took a position on the C. P. R. steamers running between Vancouver and Seattle, and made his home in Victoria. About a year ago he had his foot crushed by a door closing upon it with force, and went to the hospital at Victoria for treatment, remaining there for nearly a year. On the fifth of August last he left for his home in England arriving there the last of the month. After his arrival his wounded foot grew worse and blood-poisoning set in. He died on the 16th October. Mr. Morris was a Christian young man and during his stay in Acton made many friends. His untimely death is much regretted. He was buried in the family plot beside his father and mother in the cemetery at Muston, Eng.

An Interesting Institute Meeting

A meeting of unusual interest was held by Acton Woman's Institute in the Council Chamber last Friday afternoon. The President, Mrs. H. P. Moore, presided, and the programme was of a very practical character. Mrs. John Stephenson gave an address on "Early Shopping." She advocated that all shopping be done earlier in the day, and gave experiences and observations of the benefits accruing. If this plan were adopted generally, the errand boys would be through with their work before dark and the merchants would be enabled to close their stores earlier and have their evenings with their families. Mrs. E. S. Rice and Mrs. George Soper spoke earnest words out of their personal experiences. Miss Clara E. Moore gave many suggestive hints in her address on "Waste in Small Things." Numerous instances were given, showing how saving may be made in any household by attention to little details so often neglected. Mrs. W. H. Stewart also spoke in a similar strain and emphasized the saving that may be made in time, in fuel and in worry by planning work thoughtfully. Mrs. James Moore read a paper entitled "Some Comments," recommended care in dress and personal appearance, generally, and suggested that every wife should aim to look her best when her husband was in the home. The attendance was large and the interest was most gratifying to those in charge of the programme.

Death of Mrs. Robert Pearson

Mr. Robert Pearson, foreman of the machine shops of Acton Tanning Co., suffered a severe bereavement in the death of his wife in Toronto a week ago, after a few days' illness. Three children are rendered motherless. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Pearson by his friends here.

Visit of Ven. Archdeacon Fornerat

Rev. Geo. Fornerat, M. A., Archdeacon, of Hamilton, paid an official visit to St. Alban's Church last Wednesday evening, as representative of His Lordship Bishop Du Moulin. The Archdeacon had a length conference with the rector and congregation of St Alban's relative to matters of interest to the future welfare of the parish.

Pay Dearly for Hallowe'en Fun

On Hallowe'en three hundred students from the O. A. C., Guelph, went to the theatre and raised such a disturbance that two of them, John Fraze and W. H. Robinson, had to appear in the police court. They were released but will have to pay for damages, amounting to some $60. Further damages have been assessed upon the students of a similar sum for other damage committed.

Lunar Eclipse Next Week

There will be a total eclipse of the moon next Wednesday, 16th. The cause will be owing to the moon getting so nearly in line with the centre of the earth and sun as to pass into the shadows of the earth. The first contact of the moon with the shadow will be at 5.11 p. m., and it will be entirely within at 6.55. At 7.17 it will begin to pass out so that it will be within the shadow for fifty-two minutes, being midway at 7.24.

Carey Brothers Lose their Auto

Carey Bros., well known apple dealers and entertainers, of Millgrove, are bemoaning the loss of a $1,500 automobile, which was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon on the Guelph Road. Near the Glenwood Church, while the brakes were being adjusted, the gasoline in some manner became ignited. Flames shot from all parts of the machine, and in a moment it was a mass of fire. The loss of the auto was partly covered by insurance. —Hamilton Spectator.

Well Constructed Roads

Last week Reeve J. P. Griffin, of Nelson, Chairman of the County Good Roads Committee, and J. G. Wilson, County Roads Superintendent, made a tour of inspection of the good roads built in the northern part of the county this year. Mr. Griffin reports the work all first-class, and expressed himself well pleased with the quality of the roads and the way the ratepayers and the north representatives are taking hold of the scheme.—Burlington Gazette.

Death of T. J. Wheeler, Georgetown

Mr. Thos. J. Wheeler, who had been in the jewellery business in Georgetown for over fifty years, died after a brief illness, on the 28th ult. In politics deceased was a Conservative and an active supporter of that party. He was for many years a faithful member of the Anglican Church, in all departments of which he took a deep, practical interest. In his family he was a man of kindly disposition, and in the community he had many sincere friends who will miss him very much indeed. Mr. Wheeler was the last but one of the Georgetown Company who served in the Fenian Raid. Mr. J. R. Barber is now the only remaining member.—Herald.

W'l' the Sons o' Scotland

The Toronto Telegram in referring to the sixteenth concert of the Sons of Scotland, last Thursday night, says: It wis a braw, braw crodd that met last night at Massey Hall. It's wunnerfu' whit something Scotch can dae in drawin' croods, but it's aye the same whan the Sons o' Scotlan' haud their annual concert. It's aye a' ful' hoose. Whit a grand open'in it wis; an' whit could be mair appropriate than the skirl o' the pipes; and by jing Geordie Murray can blaw. Nae fancy pipin' about Geordie. Just the auld Scotch style, but it's aye the best. Mon, it made yer hert fill, tae hear the auld familiar tunes. It jist made ye fancy, (if ye shut yer een) that ye were back on the banks o' the Clyde; wanderin' on the banks o' the Doon, or peramblin' amongst the heather hills o' dear auld Scotlan'. Mon, it put us in rale guid humor' for the after airt o' the programme. Mon, the dancin' was the thing. We had reels and Highlan fling, and the bit lassies did gey weel. It's thankfu' tae see that, tho' they've come tae Canada, they havena' forgot the way tae dance. They've a' guid Scotch names tae; whit mair could ye wish for than this: —Annie Ross, May Nesbitt, Margery Munro and Hattie Gordon. As I said already, they did gey weel, and they should keep haud o' the steps o' thae auld Scotch dances. It was a rale Scotch concert, and weel worth hearin', and if ye mist it ye mist a trate.

ACTON CHORAL SOCIETY

Organization Monday Evening With Some Sixty Members

PROF. SHILDRICK, OF GUELPH, THE CONDUCTOR

At the invitation of a few citizens musically inclined, and interested in choral singing, about sixty members of the choirs and other young people assembled in Knox Church School Room on Monday evening to discuss the formation of a Choral Society for Acton.

Mr. W. Williams was elected chairman and explained the object of the gathering. He felt that it would be of much benefit to the choirs as well as to the individual singers to embrace the opportunity of a winter's training under a competent choirmaster.

Encouraging words and items of information were also spoken by H. P. Moore, Rev. F. G. Burrell, B. A., and Misses Lauretta Gray and Minnie Holmes. It was then almost unanimously decided to organize a choral society, the name to be decided at a future meeting. The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Rev. Dr. Antliff.
President—Rev. F. G. Burrell, B. A.
Vice-Pres.—Rev. J. C. Wilson, B. A.
Secretary—Miss M. R. Holmes.
Treasurer—Miss Lauretta Gray.
Committee of Management—Miss L. Graham, Mr. F. Coles, Mr. D. M. Henderson, Mr. A. T. Mann, Miss Daisy Nicklin, Mr. W. Williams, Misses F. Chapman and Ada Clarke.

Mr. Ernest M. Shildrick, choirmaster and music teacher, Guelph, has been engaged as conductor. There will be weekly practice on Wednesday evenings. The first practice will be held in Knox Church School Room on Wednesday evening, November, 16th.

It is the intention at the close of the term next March to give a grand choral concert in the town hall.

Over fifty members were enrolled at the meeting and the officers will be pleased to receive the names of any others who desire to join the society.
