EDITORIAL NOTES

THE new Immigration bill, providing for the exclusion from the United States of all alien immigrants over 16 years of age who cannot read their own language, has passed in the United States Senate. Canada would profit by the enactment of a similar bill.

DROVERS have been notified by the Department of Agriculture that after April 1st next all cattle for shipment must be dehorned, otherwise $2.00 per head will be deducted from the purchase price. This is owing to the large quantity of bruised meat put on the market.

THE NEWMARKET ERA, one of our most highly prized newspaper friends, celebrated last week its sixty-seventh anniversary, and treated itself to a splendid birthday present in the form of a brand new Linotype type-setting machine. The Era is one of Ontario's most prosperous weekly newspaper.

THE DELEGATES to the fourteenth annual convention of the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions at Toronto last week took a very strong stand in the matter of making the annual fall fairs a "day of agricultural schooling" rather than a day set apart for the fleecing of the pockets of the younger generation by fakirs, and other adventurers. Suggestions were made for the elimination of all questionable midway features.

SIR James Whitney's condition is now regarded as being past the danger line, and his improvement was signal for him to get out of bed and dress himself. Sir George Ross is gradually improving, although he is far from strong. His cheerful temperament stands him in good stead. Altogether the signs attending the two distinguished patients are that they will again take more than an ephemeral interest in life. It is quite likely that Sir James Whitney will go abroad for a prolonged rest when he leaves the hospital.

ALL DOUBT as to President Wilson's position with reference to the Panama Canal tolls controversy has been removed. The President, in response to direct questions said that he favored the repeal of the provisions in the Panama Canal act which granted exemption from the payment of tolls to American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade. The President believes that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations, including the United States, in the matter of tolls, and that the United States is in honour bound to charge American vessels the same tolls it imposes upon those of foreign nations.

THAT smallpox which had been practically wiped out in Ontario is now steadily regaining its grip upon the province is the ominous fact borne out by the returns being made to the Provincial Health authorities. During January more than a score of municipalities had to report smallpox cases and in several centres the spread of the disease assumed the proportions of an epidemic. Many of the municipalities who had to report smallpox were doing so for the first time in many years. It behooves every municipality and individuals generally to be on the alert against allowing this insidious disease to become epidemic anywhere. In Acton we've had our $2,000 experience, which should suffice for a century.

A DESPATCH from Ottawa last week said: "While no decision has yet been reached by the Government as to Senator Cox's successor, it is understood that the choice is likely to lie between Major Beattie, the member for London, and Mr. David Henderson, the veteran member for Halton, if the Government is prepared to risk another bye-election in Ontario." Acton would be glad to have the honor of a resident Senator, and Mr. Henderson has certainly earned the distinctive position of Senator. THE FREE PRESS wrote Mr. Henderson to ascertain if the rumor were correct. He replied: "I did not see the report in the Globe until I received your letter, but you can rest assured there is nothing in it so far as I am concerned, although I think possibly it is quite correct so far as Major Beattie is concerned. I have not asked to be appointed to the position you refer to, nor do I expect to receive the appointment."

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SIXTH LINE

Robert Wright Fatally Injured; Mildred Bessey Sustains Fractured Thigh and Arm

WAS RUN DOWN BY G. T. R. TRAIN

One of the most deplorable railway accidents that has ever taken place in this section occurred at the sixth line, Esquesing, last Friday afternoon during the heavy snow storm which was prevailing.

Robert Wright, one of the best known farmers on the seventh line, Esquesing, whose home is at Ashgrove, was driving home after attending Mr. Arthurs' sale at Limehouse. He reached the school at Henderson's on the seventh line just as the scholars were leaving for home. As he would drive past Mr. Bessey's gate he kindly invited Mildred Bessey aged 15 years, and her sister, Pearl, who is a couple of years younger,—daughters of Mr. John W. Bessey—to ride with him to get home and out of the storm sooner. The girls' brother, Ray, aged 9, and David Masales, who is 10, rode on the back of the buggy.

Owing to the driving snow storm Mr. Wright had the top of the buggy raised and the sides on. As they approached the G. T. R. crossing he told the children to look to see that no train was approaching. Unfortunately the high wind and heavy snow storm deadened the sound of the train rushing down from the west—the passenger due at Acton at 3.30 o'clock, until they were almost on the crossing. Mr. Wright pulled up the horse and the noise of the locomotive evidently frightened it, and it bolted straight ahead and in front of the train.

The result was that the horse was killed instantly, and the occupants of the buggy, with the exception of the two boys behind who had jumped off, were thrown a considerable distance. Mr. Wright's back was fractured; Mildred Bessey had her right thigh fractured, her left arm broken, and other injuries, while Pearl escaped with a painful bruise on her knee.

The train was stopped as quickly as possible after the engineer had seen that he had run into something and the passengers and train crew assisted the injured ones into the rear coach of the train and conveyed them to Georgetown. The coach was uncoupled, and was attached to the westbound train due at Georgetown about five o'clock and taken to Guelph. While waiting at Georgetown, Miss Clara E. Bessey, a trained nurse, and an aunt of the injured girls, who was engaged on a case in Georgetown, was summoned and she accompanied the injured ones to the General Hospital Guelph, Mr. and Mrs. Bessey following by next train.

Just after the train had pulled into the Guelph station, and as they were about to remove him to the ambulance, one of the physicians discovered that Mr. Wright had passed away. He was alive when the train arrived. It was later discovered that his back was broken, and he was otherwise seriously injured. His remains were taken to the hospital, where they were taken charge of by Dr. Savage, coroner, who ordered an inquest to be held at 1.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Wright was twenty-seven years of age, and was married a year ago last June. His bereaved wife has the sympathy of all. Mr. Wright was a cousin of Mrs. Palmer Martin, of Acton.

The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was one of the largest ever held at Ashgrove.

Miss Bessey is making fair progress toward recovery. She was unconscious for the first few hours, but on Saturday morning revived and has has since been quite bright and cheerful.

An inquest was held Saturday afternoon to inquire into the death of Mr. Wright. The only evidence taken was that of Dr. McAndrew, of Georgetown, and Roy Bessey, one of the boys who had jumped out of the back of the buggy and escaped injury. The little fellow claimed that the engine did not whistle and did not ring the bell until after the accident had happened.

The inquest, over which Coroner Dr. Savage presided, was adjourned until Monday, the 16th, to allow of the train crew and other witnesses being present.

CREWSONS CORNERS

Mr. Philip Dingman whose illness was noted last week, died on Wednesday evening. Mr. Dingman moved here from Erin about four years ago. He was a quiet, unassuming man and well liked in the community. He is survived by three sons and three daughters, his wife having predeceased him several years ago. The funeral on Saturday was largely attended considering the stormy weather. Interment was made at Everton Cemetery.

Mrs. M. Crewson was in Milton last week attending the funeral of Mr. Stevenson, Sr., who died very suddenly on Wednesday.

Mr. Orrie Lamb was seized with a very severe attack of appendicitis last Sunday and was operated on by Drs. McCullough, Rockwood, and Stuart, Guelph, on Wednesday. He is doing as well as can be expected, and his many friends, especially among the young people, hope he may soon be restored to his usual health.

CANADA'S NEW PARCEL POST

Went Into Operation Throughout Canada on Tuesday Morning

IS LIMITED YET IN ITS SCOPE

Canada's new parcel post went into operation on Tuesday and is now being taken advantage of throughout the Dominion.

During the first three months the limit weight of parcels will be six pounds after which it will be increased to eleven pounds. During these months there will be no insurance but parcels may be registered.

The parcels most affected by the new regulations will be those delivered within a 20 mile radius of each post office. The postal rates will be:

1 pound	5c
2 pounds	6c
3 pounds	7c
4 pounds	8c
5 pounds	10c
6 pounds	12c
After three months—
7 pounds	14c
8 pounds	16c
9 pounds	18c
10 pounds	20c
11 pounds	22c

The express rate is ordinarily 30c. for parcels up to ten pounds, with a minimum rate of 25c. for parcels weighing one pound or less.

The rate within the province, yet outside the 20-mile limit, gives a considerable advantage to some points, but the contrast is not so striking. The postal rates are:

1 pound	10c
2 pounds	14c
3 pounds	18c
4 pounds	22c
5 pounds	26c
6 pounds	30c
After three months—
6 pounds	30c
7 pounds	34c
8 pounds	38c
9 pounds	42c
10 pounds	46c
11 pounds	50c

To any post office in Quebec or Manitoba: Ten cents for the first pound and six cents for each additional one.

To any post office in Saskatchewan or Maritime Provinces: Twelve cents for the first pound and an additional eight cents a pound for each succeeding one.

To Alberta: Twelve cents for the first pound, 24 cents for two pounds, and 16 cents a pound for more.

British Columbia: Twelve cents a pound.

FALSE RETURNS IN WELLAND VOTE

Coulthurst, the Bridgeburg Returning Officer, Now Charged with Forgery

SCRUTINY OF BALLOTS ON 17th

Widespread interest has been manifested in the alleged irregularities in connection with the ballots in the Canada Temperance Act election at Welland.

When the preliminary hearing into the charge against E. Coulthurst, Deputy Returning Officer, of making a false return in the recent election on the Canada Temperance Act was resumed before Magistrate House on Saturday the original charge was amended to that of forgery and of uttering a forgery. The question of making a false return is involved in the allegation of forgery, as it now stands, the amendment being made at the suggestion of Mr. W. E. Raney, K. C., who appeared along with Crown Attorney Cowper for the prosecution.

No progress was made with the case, the Crown Attorney asking for a week's remand, which was granted by the Magistrate, bail being renewed in the sum of $3,000.

Judge Livingstone granted on Saturday the application of the temperance people for a scrutiny of the ballots passed in the election and the date set for the scrutiny is Tuesday, February 17. The petitioner was Andrew C. Murdoch, Secretary of the County Temperance and Moral Reform League, who appeared with W. E. Raney, K. C., Toronto, J. F. Gross, O. H. Garner, F. N. McConnell, Chas. Steele and Mrs. Munro while the liquor forces were represented by L. B. Spencer and F. W. Kilgour.

There are between seven and eight thousand ballots to count and the scrutiny will occupy several days, as in addition to counting the ballots the scrutiny gives the temperance people authority to investigate all conditions at the polls at the day of voting and call all witnesses necessary for this purpose.

THE HIGH SCHOOL LIT. SOCIETY

J. C. Wilson, B. A., to Deliver an Address To-Morrow Afternoon

The Literary Society of Acton High School held the regular meeting on Friday afternoon. The programme included:

Current Events given by Misses A. O'Brien, L. Scott, N. Anderson and Mr. Lloyd Cooper.

A debate on "Resolved that western Canada offers greater opportunities to a young man than eastern Canada," was an interesting feature. The affirmative was upheld by Miss Lorna Kennedy and Mr. Gordon McLeod and the negative by Miss Clara Brown and Mr. Percy Ault. The negative side won by four points.

The contents of the Gazette were read by the editor.

The society extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the meeting on Friday, February 13th. Rev. Mr. Wilson will deliver an address.

THAT $10,000 SLANDER SUIT

The Burlington Hotelmen Not Only Withdrew their Suit but Paid Mr. Cleaver His Costs

IT WAS BUT AN ELECTION DODGE

The last of the notorious ten thousand dollar slander suit brought by the Burlington hotelmen against Mr. E. H. Cleaver, during the Local Option election in Burlington, is noteworthy.

In the middle of December last, a writ was issued by the two hotelmen of Burlington against E. H. Cleaver, claiming $10,000 for slander.

Mr. Cleaver promptly put in a defence and requested that the action should be heard and disposed of before the Local Option election, which the hotelmen could have done, but did not choose to do.

Upon the Local Option contest being over the hotelmen discontinued the action. They have since been called upon to pay all costs including those of Mr. Cleaver, which they have now done.

—Mr. James Brown, the big shorthorn breeder of Norval has purchased the 200 acre farm belonging to Joseph Leslie, being lot No. 9 in the 9th concession of Esquesing Township. This farm is known as the Paxton farm. Sale was made by J. A. Willoughby.

POLLUTED WATER.

Cheap and Simple Method by Which It May Be Purified.

The best thing to do with polluted water is to keep it out of your mouth and wait until you can get some pure water. Of course a man might starve to death in some places following that advice, so here is the next best thing to do. Disinfect the dangerous water. Here is the way to do it.

Dissolve a teaspoonful of chloride of lime in a cupful of water, making sure that all lumps are thoroughly broken up, then add three more cupfuls of water. Stir the mixture well and allow to stand for a few seconds in order that any solid particles may settle.

This mixture, if kept in a tightly stoppered bottle, may be used for four or five days, when a new solution should be prepared. Add one teaspoonful of this milky looking solution to each two gallons of water to be purified and stir thoroughly in order that the weak chlorine solution will come in contact with all the bacteria which may be present. Allow this to stand for ten minutes. This will give approximately one-half part of free chlorine to 1,000,000 parts of water and will effectually destroy all typhoid and colon bacilli or other disease germs in the water. The water will be without taste or odor, and the trace of free chlorine will rapidly disappear. This method is one which is now recommended in the health literature of the country.

Water so disinfected is not dangerous so far as the chloride of lime is concerned if allowed to stand for ten or fifteen minutes after applying. The chief danger is that not enough disinfectant will be applied to render the water safe in all instances.

HUMAN HEREDITY.

It Is Confined, So It Is Asserted, to a Likeness to Parents.

There are few subjects on which so much "scientific" nonsense is talked and written as on heredity. Not very much is known of it as regards plants, less of animals and almost nothing as regards humanity. To read books on heredity, especially those of the Eugenic society, is to read a mass of suppositions and hazardous inductions where most of the facts are negative and only the exceptions are positive.

The very meaning of "hereditary" is not understood. If any quality is truly hereditary then it is always hereditary. It never occurs except as the result of heredity, and it is constant—that is to say, it invariably follows. But there is no quality of which this can be said. That genius is not hereditary is known. Even talent is not. Nor is any aptitude. A lawyer's son more often wants to be a soldier or an artist than a lawyer, notwithstanding the environment, and it is so with most professions. The exceptions seem to be due to training and influence, not to hereditary transmission.

A superficial likeness to parents seems hereditary, but that is all that we can assert, and that outward likeness by no means infers an inward likeness. There is nothing so flimsy and nothing so fatal as this tendency to attribute to heredity what is due to training or want of training. It excuses supineness in governments and professions.—H. Fielding Hall in Atlantic Monthly.

This Cutting.

When Irvin Cobb, the writer, was on the World he attended a ball game at the Polo grounds. The yard was packed. Just before the game Harry Stevens, who had the refreshment privilege, strolled by the press box and called out to a group of which Cobb was a member:

"Great crowd, eh, boys? I'll bet there's 5,000 more people here than they expected. I guess that means I'll have to go in and prepare about 4,000 more ham sandwiches."

"Well," remarked Cobb, "that will pretty nearly necessitate the cutting of another ham, won't it, Harry?"—Everybody's.

Green Liquid Soap.

Green liquid soap, which is recommended by skin specialists for fine skins or for those which have the pores extended, can be made at home. Take equal parts of glycerin, water, alcohol and green castile soap. Shave the soap into the water and stir over the fire until the mixture is smooth. Add the glycerin and lastly, after the kettle is removed from the fire, the alcohol. Add a tablespoonful of eau de cologne, if perfume is desired.

Antiquity of Leather.

Leather was early known in Egypt and Greece and thongs of manufactured hides were used for ropes, harness and the like by ancient nations. The Gordian knot was made of leather thongs. A leather cannon was made at Edinburgh, fired three times and found useful in 1778.—Kansas City Times.
