TWO VIEWS OF LIFE

THE PESSIMIST

A waking light in the east,
In the west a crimson flare;
A laugh at the marriage feast,
A sob by the funeral bier.

THE OPTIMIST

A righting of every wrong,
Peace sweetly following strife;
Sorrow the prelude to song,
And Death a passing to Life.

—Louis Victor Coppin.

THE END OF THE WAR!

At the close of the War of nations, when the earth had been shaken with thunder for months and the sun no longer shone for fear its sunlight would be turned to darkness on the rivers of blood a lonely figure, towering above the pygmies who had wrought the murder of people, stood forth in splendid isolation. He was the leader of a nation of free men, by them chosen to guide their fondest hopes, and he had not disappointed them. Now, when the Powers of Europe had fought until each soldier of their armies cried aloud for peace, this lonely leader, this calm, quiet gentleman who knew how silently to bear his own grief, stretched forth his hand to bring aid to that part of humanity that had attempted to destroy civilization. And to him they turned, with a sigh that is born of exhaustion, realizing that he had known their mistake and pitied them. They accepted his proposals for the settlement of their quarrels, as a parched throat is grateful for cool water. And then, looking upon the horror they had brought into being, they chose this lonely leader to be head of a great council of nations which resolved that war should be put behind all men forever. It was because that lonely leader had been adamant against war for his own country that the peoples called him to this new leadership. The great council banished war, and at the top of the first page of proclamation which is addressed to all the earth these words were written: "There shall be no more war. Let us thank God that all the nations now will that this be so, and let us thank God that the United States has led us into the ways of peace, through the artistry and patience of the Man in the White House, a 'gentleman unafraid.'"—O. H. Cooper, Jr.

THE DANGER OF CONCEIT

It is always dangerous to study one's capabilities through magnifying glasses. Conceit is weakness because it gives one false data upon which to base one's estimates. The youth who is persuaded that he is remarkable expects a big place. He is sure he is a misfit in a humble position.

Often conceited people have a partial excuse. Their exaggerated idea of their own remarkable qualities were started perhaps by the foolish admiration of an affectionate family circle. The boy who from the time he was five or six has heard at intervals how very remarkable he is, how much cleverer than his school mates and playmates, is very likely to accept the statement as true. And it is a hard blow when he gets out into the world to find himself surpassed, left far in the rear by those whom he has always regarded as his inferiors.

Sensible young men will not trust too much to what mothers and sisters and fond grandmothers think of their capacity. On the face of it, such opinion is worth very little. If you want to know what you are worth, the way to find out is to compare your achievements with those of other young men of your age. The sooner you rid yourself of that mistaken notion of your inherent superiority, the better for you and your work.

A STRANGE REQUEST

"The flower o'mitten want," said she,
"Some shade-of-hair furse and—let's see,
Some candy-tooth and toasty!
He'll see it's Decoration day.
And please, ma'am," said the tiny elf,
Intent upon her flowery pelf,
"A bash'lor's-button for my self,
To make a button-up bouquet!"

NO POLICE FOR MEN

A negro had been arrested on the charge of beating and cruelly maiming his wife. After hearing the charge against the prisoner, the justice turned to the first witness.

"Madam," he said, "if this man were your husband and had given you a beating, would you call in the police?"

The woman addressed, a veritable Amazon in size and aggressiveness, turned a smiling countenance toward the judge and answered:

"No, judge. If he was mah husban', an' he treated me lak he did 'is wife, Ah wouldn't call no pliceman. No, sah, Ah'd call de undertaker."—Square and Compass.

A RECIPE FOR OLD AGE

Aunt Huldah claimed that she was well past the century mark, though the date of her birth was shrouded in mystery. Whether she was as old as she claimed or not, there could be no doubt that she had lived to a good old age, and one day a bright young newspaper man conceived the idea of interviewing her on the subject of long life.

"Sho!" sniffed Aunt Huldah. "Anybody kin grow to be old. Day ain't no trick fo dat."

"But how?" queried the reporter.

"All you got to do is to watch out and don't let no automobile run over you."

A PRUDENT SCOT

A friend caps the story with another of the prudent Scot, or rather of the prudent Scot's wife. They were at sea together—in the literal sense—and had just left the dinner table. There was sufficient roll to produce internal uneasiness, and the husband was seen to be making progress to the side of the vessel; when his wife intervened. "Remember, John," she said, "you've just had your dinner, and it's paid for." It was not lost.

THE DOCTOR'S HAPPY IDEA

When a lady patient living far away from town had to telephone for her physician, she apologized for asking him to come such a distance.

"Don't speak of it," said the doctor, "I happen to have another patient in that vicinity, and so can kill two birds with one stone."

STRENGTH OF THE WEAKEN

Dr. Lyman Abbott, the anti-suffragist, said at an anti-suffrage tea in New York: "They call woman the weaker sex. Yet I have known more than one woman to bend a man's will during his life and break it after his death."

GRIM HUMOR

"Ah, happy, little boy! How I wish I could change places wit youse!"

"I wish you could, mister! I've been playin' hookey all day, an' I got a peach of a licking coming to me when I get home."

Mrs. Jackson: "Speakin' of your husband, Mrs. Wimple, did he ever convey to you dat he done propose to me befo' he married you?"

Mrs. Wimple: "Deed he didn't! He was so ashamed of some of de things he did dat I never insisted upon a confession."

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—MISS BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 114, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—MISS LAVINA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GUARD YOUR REPUTATION

Every big business house realizes the value of its reputation. If one such had an opportunity to make a large sum of money by selling an invoice of inferior goods, or selling in a questionable deal, motives of policy as well as motives of honor would compel the repudiation of such a chance. Their reputation is worth far more to them than the profit involved in any such transaction.

Every young man should guard his personal reputation as carefully. To be spoken of as "shrewd, but unscrupulous," to allow the impression to get abroad that you will not hesitate to strain a point for the sake of success, is fatal to all high ambition. Next to your character, your reputation is your most valuable possession. Guard it.

THE SPUR OF NECESSITY

Few people are strong enough to dispense with the necessity of toil, strong enough to keep on working and working hard, when the stern "must" is withdrawn. That is why the inhabitants of tropical countries where a well-built shelter is not necessary to protect them from the cold, and where food sufficient to maintain life grows wild, become the most indolent of created beings. And that is why the sons of wealthy fathers, with every advantage on their side, so seldom distinguish themselves in any form of achievement. The chances are that you cannot well do without the spur of necessity, that if it were removed your achievements would become less, your character would retrograde. Instead of grumbling because "must" is writ large over your activities, thank God for it. You need it.

Absence of your wife's relations makes the heart grow fonder.

In one way a bad habit is like a bill collector. It is hard to get away from.

An honest man's the noblest work of God, unless he doesn't belong to your party.

They say it takes two to make a quarrel, but one meddlesome gossip has often done it alone.

The sweetest meat is not always in the largest nut. A great pedigree may contain little virtue.

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure no better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

A drop of ink is black, but it serves to enlighten many.

Many a man who knows what is right lacks the courage to do it.

Experience is a teacher whose lessons should be learned once for all.

One who predicts thunder storms isn't necessarily a lightning calculator.

A genius is a man who does things that lazy people say it is impossible to do.

Keep your secret from your friends and your enemies will never get next to it.

At the glorious feast of knowledge some people never get any farther than the soup.

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Cure.

HE'LL WAIT

Little Johnny had been naughty all day. At last, to cap the climax, he slapped his small sister. When father came home from the office the mother told him of his son's misdeeds. "The next time you tease your sister you go to bed without your dinner," the father said sternly. The kiddie sat in silence for a few moments. Then, all of a sudden, he turned to his father. "The next time I want to hit sister I'll wait until after dinner, he remarked.

THAT TEN MINUTES

Five minutes after time seems to a great many young people almost the same thing as five minutes before, but the fact of the matter is that that difference of ten minutes may make or mar the future of a young man or woman.

If you are regularly at the office where you are employed five minutes before you are required to be there, you are establishing a reputation for punctuality and reliability. If you come five minutes late your associates will begin to connect just the opposite qualities with your name.

Now it takes very little effort to overcome the handicap of that ten minutes. Getting out of bed ten minutes earlier takes no great sacrifice. If you can get to the office at five minutes past eight or past nine, as the case may be, you can get there at five minutes before, and you should do it. It is a pity to prejudice your future all for ten minutes.

WHAT THE PARSON COULDN'T DO

It all happened on a journey from Glasgow to Aberdeen. A well-known benevolent Scots minister stepped into a third-class carriage at the former city, and took his seat opposite a working man, also Scotch. Presently the two got into conversation, and the working man confided in the clergyman that he had been a coupler on the railway for seven years.

"Oh, oh!" laughed the benevolent old gentleman, "I can beat that hollow. I've been a coupler for twenty years."

The workman eyed him a moment with stern disapproval, then—"Aye, aye," said he; "but I can uncouple, and ye canna!"

WHAT HE MEANT

"After the company had gone Mrs. Mason said to her husband, "What on earth did you mean, John, by telling the Flemings that my humor was positive but not negative?"

"I meant," said Mr. Mason, discreetly moving toward the door, "that you could make a joke, but couldn't take one."

THE NEW BABY

One day Tommy heard his father say one could judge people by their hair and teeth.

When Tommy was first allowed to see his new baby brother, he carefully examined the new arrival's head and found it bald. Then he saw the young 'un had no teeth. Turning to his mother, he said, "Dad's been done again—this is an old one!"

Thought She Would Lose Her Little Girl

From Severe Attacks of Summer Complaint

Mrs. Wm. Hirst, 104 Palmerston Avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes us under date of January 23rd, 1914.

The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs:—"Last summer I had grave anxiety for my little girl, who was just one year old in July last. She had constant and severe attacks of summer complaint, and it seemed to drag on her so long despite the many remedies I tried. My neighbors told me she had grown so weak they thought I would loose her. One night while nursing her an old friend of mine happened to come to see me, and after telling her about my baby's lingering illness she asked me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I sent a little girl to our drug store and bought a bottle, and after having given the baby one dose I noticed a remarkable change, and after giving her three or four doses she was well again, and began to walk, which she had not been able to do prior to her attack. She is now a fine healthy child, and I owe her life to that kindly advice of an old friend. I would advise all mothers to give "Dr. Fowler's" a prominent place in their medicine chest."

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) MRS. WM. HIRST.

When you ask for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry see that you get it.

IT HAS BEEN ON THE MARKET FOR NEARLY SEVENTY YEARS. DON'T ACCEPT A SUBSTITUTE.

The price of the original is 35 cents, and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In a case of emergency it is sometimes advisable to reward the man who helped you to emerge.

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Spare them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, the best remedy of the kind that can be had.

MEN ALIKE

Much to the curious little girl's disgust, her elder sister and her girl friends had quickly closed the door of the back parlor before she could wedge her small self in among them.

She waited unusually for a little while, then she knocked. No response. She knocked again. Still no attention. Her curiosity could be controlled no longer. "Dodo!" she called in staccato tones, as she knocked once again. "Tain't me! It's mamma!"

Are Your Bowels Ever Constipated

If you wish to be well you must keep the bowels open. Any irregularity of the bowels is always dangerous, and should be attended to at once, for if the bowels cease to work properly, all the other organs become deranged.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills work on the bowels gently and naturally, and will cure the worst cases of Constipation.

Mrs. A. Cumming, Manchester, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled with Constipation for over five years, and I feel it my duty to let you know that your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have cured me. I only used three vials and I can faithfully say that they have saved me from a large doctor bill."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are a wonderful remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver or bowels.

Price, 25 cents per vial, or 5 vials for $1.00, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A BRIEF ACCOUNT

The teacher of the class in English told his pupils to write a brief account of a cricket match.

One boy sat through the period seemingly wrapt in thought, while the others worked hard and sent in their narratives. After school the teacher approached the desk of the laggard.

"I'll give you five minutes to write that description," he said; "If it is not done by that time I shall punish you."

The boy concentrated his attention upon the theme. At last, with eagerness, he scratched a line on the paper and handed it to the master. It read:

"Rain—no play."

WAS ALWAYS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND PIMPLES

Could Not Get Rid of Them Until He Used

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

All Blood or Skin Diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure, and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. A. F. Hopp, Kipling, Sask., writes:—"I was always bothered with Boils, and could not get rid of them, and also had all kinds of Pimples on my face, from early in the Spring till late in the Fall. One of my friends told me about your medicine, and that I had to get something to purify my blood. I got two bottles of your Burdock Blood Bitters, and in a short time I was cured, and I have never been troubled with Boils or Pimples since."

Asthma Victims.—The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and prized in every section of this broad land.

PROVIDE MORE FOOD STUFFS

Editor FREE PRESS:

Dear Sir:—The Hon. Jas. S. Duff, Minister of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is very anxious that every thing should be done to encourage an increased production of foodstuffs during the coming year. I take this opportunity of calling to the attention of the farmers of Halton County the changed conditions brought about by the great war now in progress. Great Britain as you know is dependent upon outside sources for a considerable percentage of her food supply and those outside sources include some of the belligerent nations. The withdrawal of so many millions of men from production must result in a decrease and consequently Great Britain will naturally look to her Overseas Dominion to make up any deficiency. The lines of foodstuffs, the channels of which will be chiefly interfered with, are wheat and flour, meat, cheese, butter, poultry and eggs. Halton County should do its part in supplying these needs and I think every farmer within the County will readily respond at this time when the need is so great.

It is pleasing to see the increased acreage in fall wheat this fall and it would be a great asset to the Motherland and the farmers if greater areas were broken up this fall preparatory for spring crops next year. Pasture and hay crops in Halton County amount to 53,000 acres which is about one third of the area of land cleared. A large amount of this could and should be broken up to produce some of the staple crops essential for human life. Farmers will likely have little difficulty in securing an adequate supply of labor and should be willing to respond to this call with enthusiasm, more especially as it is undoubtedly the duty of those who do not go to the front to strengthen the hands of those who do in every way possible, and no way is more practical than securing the supply of foodstuffs.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the use of the FREE PRESS. I am,

Yours sincerely,
H. R. HAMY,
Dist. Representative.

Suffered with Palpitation of the Heart and Nervous Trouble

Mrs. John Dennison, Cobourg, Ont., writes:—"I cannot praise Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too much. For years I suffered with palpitation of the heart and nervous trouble, so that I could not lie down to sleep. I tried almost all other medicines, and got no relief, until I was advised by a friend, who had been benefited by your pills, to try them. I did so, and after taking four boxes I found I was almost cured, and I am going to continue taking them, for I never got anything to do me so much good. I would advise any one troubled with their heart or nerves to do the same as I am doing."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25; at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by
