EDITORIAL NOTES

ALL hotel bars and liquor stores in Manitoba discontinued business last evening. Our own province will follow this lead in September. All Canada will shortly be dry.

THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS has passed the bill to reduce by 15 per cent. the output of beer. The object of the bill is to relieve the room in ships required for importing foreign hops.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT has lately authorized a new Medical Administration Area to be known as the London Area. It is interesting to note that this includes nine large Canadian Hospitals. Among these are the King's Canadian Red Cross Hospital at Bushey Park, the Canadian Red Cross Hospital at Buxton, the Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Taplow and the Ontario Military Hospital at Orpington.

THE GRANDE YOUNG BUTTONS of British North America have gone on record in opposition to any of their members engaging in the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors. Their opposition takes the form of a by-law which provides that any member of the order who is found engaging in the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors will be expelled from his lodge, and will not be re-admitted for membership until he disengages from the practice.

CANADA'S TOTAL TRADE for the month of April reached the remarkable total of $108,585,354, as compared with $85,221,031 for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year. The increases are shown in both exports and imports. Merchandise entered for consumption amounted to $50,147,830, as compared with $28,301,640. These imports show a substantial increase in the free list as well as in dutiable goods, the free imports increasing from $11,776,519 to $21,218,748.

TOTAL DEPOSITS in Canada have increased $117,019,000 during the year ending April 30th, 1916. During the month of April alone total deposits increased $22,085,000. A notable feature of the operations for April was the increase in deposits outside Canada which was $71,862,000. There has been a substantial increase in both kinds of loans during the year, call loans in Canada increasing nearly $14,000,000 and current loans about the same.

MORE AND MORE apparent becomes the significance of Mr. Rowell's latest speech urging the consideration of domestic problems arising from the war and which will become acute when the war is over. Mr. Rowell is still emphatic that as far as action is concerned our energies should be concentrated on the fundamental task of winning the war, but he also recognizes that if the oncoming problems are to be intelligently dealt with, they must receive, as they develop, the most serious attention.

THE BREEDING of horses more largely has become a matter of prime necessity. Before the war prices were low owing to financial stringency and the inroads of motor power. These conditions led to a cessation of breeding. The war came with its demand for certain classes. Many farmers disposed of their mares owing to the somewhat sudden demand. The result to-day is a serious depletion and a scarcity which must be met. If Canadian farmers are to take advantage of the situation they must start now. The wastage of the war has been enormous. Prices for horses of the better breeds will undoubted be high for years to come. It will therefore be desirable to breed to best pure bred sires largely at once.

ON THE TWENTY-FOURTH OF MAY James Somerville, of Dundas, a former well known newspaper man and ex-member of Parliament, died at the age of 82 years. For many years he was a member of the Commons, representing North Brant. When a young man he entered the newspaper profession, editing the Ayr Observer, and afterwards founded the Dundas Banner, which he conducted for 25 years. He was a prominent member of the Canadian Press Association in his active days of journalistic life and was honored with the Presidency of that body. Mr. Somerville was a man of influence in his town and county. He was active, fearless in his advocacy of any public issue he championed, and a newspaper editor of the emphatic personal school so popular thirty or forty years ago. James Somerville was a man of upright character and enjoyed the esteem of all.

OBITUARY

MRS. ORTON WARNER

The death took place last Friday of Mrs. Orton Warner, at the residence of her father, Thomas Matthews, on Edwin Street, Guelph. It was only five days before that her sister, Mrs. Frank Holmes, of Acton, died and was buried from the same home. Both daughters were married about the same time, about two years ago, and had been prominent workers in Woolwich Street Baptist Church.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IN ACTON

Council Co-Operates with Movement to Start Work an Hour Earlier During June, July and August

LONG EVENINGS OF DAYLIGHT THEN

At the completion of the work before the Council as a Court of Revision on Monday evening the members proceeded with the regular business.

The Committee on Finance presented their tenth report and recommended payment of the following accounts:

HYDRO-ELECTRIC ACCOUNTS
Hydro Power Com. supplies.....	$20.00
" " " engineer's fees	3.08
Winter-Joiner, Ltd., supplies	6.60
Mail and Empire, adv. electrician	1.65
The Globe, adv. electrician	1.65
	$32.38
GENERAL ACCOUNTS
H. Cardiner, Repairing damages to Hinkiolo's store	$10.50
Jas. Henderson, wood.....	2.00
do. lumber.....	7.17
Acton Free Press, printing, etc...	9.35
	$29.02

The report was adopted.

Twenty-five applications for the position of electrician were presented and considered.

The Council decided to request personal applications from aspirants. The vacancy must be filled by the 16th June.

A deputation composed of Messrs. C. C. Henderson, Torrance Beardmore and D. C. Russell waited upon the Council to present a largely-signed petition praying that action be taken to facilitate the adoption of the Daylight Saving plan.

The prayer of the petition was as follows:

The undersigned, believing that it will be beneficial in many ways to the village of Acton to move the clock one hour ahead for the summer months of June, July and August, respectfully request that a deputation of business men and manufacturers wait upon the Municipal Council to request their co-operation in this movement.

Mr. C. C Henderson urged strongly that the Council take action so that the clocks of the community may be turned on an hour during the summer months and thus give the working people and those whose business confines them indoors during the day the advantage of a good long evening for recreation, work in the garden or outside employments. It would be of special value to those who quit work at five on Saturday. The plan proposed would give four clear hours of daylight after quitting work. He was quite sure the government would co-operate and permit the Post Office and Customs House to be operated on the same schedule and to have the clock on the Government building changed to the earlier hour. The schools and manufactories could readily be arranged with. The only serious difficulty he saw was that of the railway time tables, but people would have to remember them. He requested the Council to give official recognition to the scheme and thought it would be desirable to send out circulars to all citizens and to residents contiguous to Acton informing them of the adoption of the Daylight Saving plan and requesting the observance of it.

When interrogated by a member of the Council as to whether other Ontario towns of Acton's status were taking similar action, Mr. Henderson replied that they were not as yet. "But," he said, "Let us take the lead in the matter. Other towns are sure to follow. All through the northwest the scheme is being adopted."

Mr. Beardmore said that personally the matter did not affect him, but the workmen of the tanneries are very much in favor of it, as well as other workmen in town, and he felt they should have the opportunities the plan would give them.

Mr. Russell thought the movement a very good one for the people who work stated hours, and he was in favor of putting the plan into effect.

The following resolution was then presented:

Moved by W. H. Smith, seconded by C. A. Bailey, that whereas a petition having been presented to the Reeve and Council of Acton by the business men and citizens generally, asking for the adoption within the municipality of the Daylight Saving Plan, whereby the time will be advanced one hour on a certain date in June, and to be effective up to and including September 30th, 1916, be it resolved by the Council that the request of the petitioners be granted, and the Reeve is hereby authorized to arrange for a suitable date and hour early in June to put the plan in operation.

The motion was not unanimously carried. Councillors Bell and Henderson could not see the advantages promised and were not in favor of it. The Reeve, however, gave the casting vote and remarked: "We'll give it a trial, anyway."

BATTALION AUXILIARY CONCERT

A Successful and Enjoyable Entertainment; a Credit to the Entertainers

The concert given in the town hall on Monday evening, under the auspices of the 164th Battalion Auxiliary, proved an immense success in every way.

The welcome to the soldiers was most hearty, and everyone enjoyed having them once more among us and seeing their drills. It is questionable if anything better in that line can be done by any other Battalion.

The next popular numbers were the trios and solos given by the three young ladies from Fergus, the Misses Beatie Steele, Laura Mennie, and Millicent McGowan. These clever young ladies possess voices of unusual sweetness and power, and will be well assured a good house should they ever return to Acton. Miss Steele scored a decided success in her number, "Who's for This Flag?" and echo answers "Who's for This Flag?" Miss McGowan sang with wonderful expression, "A Little Bit of Heaven."

The Misses Mason again afforded all a treat in their different selections. These young ladies are musicians of unusual ability. Mr. L. C. Price excelled himself in his number "The Garden of My Heart." He has a voice of splendid quality and the public will be glad to hear more from him. His able substitute for his second number was Mr. Cockburn.

The two duetts by Mesdames Smith and Whitman were most spirited and attractive.

The presiding officer for the evening was Major Wright and he proved himself well adapted for the post of chairman. Other officers were present testifying their deep interest in what we are doing for our platoon.

The receipts of the evening amounted to $52.03.

GUELPH DISTRICT MEETING

Annual Reports Presented at the Meeting at Guelph were Very Gratifying

MEMBERSHIP 3,892; FOR MISSIONS $7,637.00

The reports presented at the annual District Meeting of the Methodist Church at Guelph last week were very satisfactory and showed general increase.

The membership of the District is 3892, an increase for the year of 106; missionary income $7,637, an increase of $504; educational fund $778.70, this was also an increase over the previous year of $206.70.

Rev. J. A. Evans, of Eramosa, will be received into full connection and ordained at the Conference session at Simcoe.

Rev. Arthur Hampson, U. D. Taylor and George McDonald enlisted from this district during the year.

Rev. T. L. Kerruish, of Fergus, was elected to the Stationing Committee with Rev. George W. Barker, Guelph, as alternate. Mr. Barker is Secretary of Conference. Rev. W. Gaetz and R. E. Nelson were elected to the Missionary Committee.

The following lay delegates were elected to attend Conference at Simcoe: John Crowe, Robert Hall, James Bowman, R. E. Nelson, W. G. Howell, Sam Carter, M. P. P., John Adbett, H. Ham, John Woods, T. E. Bissell, Nelson F. Moore, Thomas Fines, Jas. Marshall, W. T. Laker, J. A. Henderson, L. R. Guild, R. J. Kerr.

The following resolution was passed unanimously: "That this District Meeting desires to place upon record its appreciation of the great advance in temperance legislation made during the past year in our province, the making illegal of the retail sale of intoxicating liquor in Ontario, and we are thankful to Almighty God that this baneful traffic is no longer to have government sanction. The province is under great obligation to the Premier for his stand against this traffic, and for the courageous and statesmanlike utterances in his address to parliament, and also to the leader of the opposition for his hearty endorsation of the government's prohibition policy, and the members of both political parties for the unanimous support accorded the measure."

The fact that the Methodist Church in Belwood, in the Guelph District, has given two pastors to the army is the capacity of privates was brought out at the meeting. Rev. U. D. Taylor, the pastor of the Belwood Church, enlisted some time ago as a private. To take up the work there the Conference arranged for George McDonald, a probationer from Hamilton, to become the pastor. It was only a matter of a few months until he also responded to the call of the empire and joined the overseas forces.

BRIEF COURT OF REVISION

Only one Appeal Against Assessor Harvey's Assessment of 1916

Council met on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, as a Court of Revision. Members were all present. Reeve Hynde occupied the Chair.

The only appeal against the assessments of the entire municipality was that of Mrs. E. Huffman, who appealed against her assessment of $2200 for the double cement block dwelling at the corner of Main and Church Streets, on the ground that it was over-valued. Mrs. Huffman requested a reduction of $400. The assessor showed that he had information that Mrs. Huffman had paid $2600 for the property a little over a year ago.

The Court went into the case carefully, comparing assessments of similar properties in town, and finally decided to reduce the assessment to $2,000.

The Assessor reported that Robert Storey, who was assessed for a dog, had disposed of the dog, and requested that it be struck off the roll. He also requested that a female dog be assessed to Thomas Hurd, Young Street.

This having completed the work in connection with the Assessment Roll the Court of Revision adjourned and took as a Council.

MILITARY NOTES

Sapper Fred K. Hill, of Streetsville, was killed in action in France last week.

The soldiers of Acton Platoon were all glad to get home again for a week-end visit, from Saturday till Tuesday. They expect shortly to be mobilized at Camp.

A suggestion to help the Canadian soldiers overseas was made by the Brampton Girls' Club to the public school children. In response to it a soap shower was given on Empire Day, resulting in 1,000 cakes of soap being donated to the soldiers.

H. James Bath, of Oakville, has gone to England to join the Naval Flying Corps. Mrs. Bath, youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. Holder, of Hamilton, will go to England soon. Mr. Bath's brother has been a prisoner in Germany for some time.

The Canadian Red Cross is now shipping 100 cases daily to the port of Boulogne, as a voluntary contribution to the hospitals of our French Allies, and has in the French capital central free accommodation for 4000 cases at a time. The only expense is the salary of one stores man. All the rest of the work is done by French soldiers.

Canadians to a number that exceeds the strength of a complete army division have fallen since the war began. The casualties up to date and including the heavy losses at St. Eloi, reach the aggregate of 23,110. The division is as follows: died of sickness 318, wounded 18,788, killed in action 3,484, died of wounds 1,432.

CHEWSONS CORNERS

The country is seen at its best just now. The dark green of the new leaves and the masses of bloom on fruit trees combine to make a beautiful sight.

Victoria Day passed over very quietly here; not even a fisherman being seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Murray and children visited friends in Rockwood last Sunday.

Thos. Watkins, Miss Isabel, John and Winnie spent Victoria Day with Norval friends.

Pte. G. Lazenby, 134th Battalion, Guelph, visited at Mr. John Bennett's last week.

Mr. W. Cripps left last week for Windsor, where he has secured a situation.

Mr. Wm. Coleman, Acton, spent Victoria Day with friends here.

Mr. Wm. Lambert is very ill. Mr. H. Damper's home is again under quarantine from diphtheria. About two weeks ago his little grandson was taken ill of it and was just recovering when Miss Ethel Damper was taken ill. All her friends hope she may soon be convalescent.

Miss Emma Tompkins, Georgetown, spent Sunday at Mr. Jas. Gamble's.

FARMERS! RAISE MORE HOGS

Prices are at Record Figures and Will Likely Continue High for a Considerable Time

As is well-known, hogs have reached an unprecedentedly high level—$11.65 per cwt. being paid for fed and watered, on the Toronto market. The fact that, even with live hogs at this figure, shipments of bacon are regularly going forward to England, will serve to illustrate very clearly the demand for that product on the British market. Without doubt, Canada stands in a better position to-day to develop a permanent bacon trade with Great Britain than has ever been the case before. To do this, however, there must be a volume of supply. There is very good reason to believe that, although prices cannot be expected to remain at the present high level, the demand for bacon, in the face of the supply that can be obtained, will be such as to hold the market in a very firm condition, both during and for a considerable period following the war.

Great Britain's imports of bacon in 1915 amounted to £26,441,460. From Canada she obtained only £3,324,511. The fact that Canadian bacon has been selling at an advance of from 10 to 15s. per cwt. above American and at not more than 12c. under the nominal quotation for Danish, illustrates very clearly to what extent Canada could increase her export trade, had she a sufficient quantity of hogs to make this possible. The English merchant and the British consumer will buy Canadian bacon to-day, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world, with the possible exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists also for hams, frozen pork and pork cuts of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not likely to prove as constant. The west is producing a great quantity of rough grain this year. As compared with wheat, it will probably be relatively low in price. It should, therefore, be a sound business proposition to breed as many sows this spring as would provide each farm next fall, with such a number of feeding hogs as can be conveniently handled and suitably finished. They should, however, be so selected and mated as to maintain the approved bacon type. Unless this be done, we cannot compete with Ireland and Denmark and will lose status on the British market. The development of our bacon trade is a purely commercial undertaking and we must early recognize that we cannot sell to the British merchant unless we give him what he wants. This granted, thrifty management and good feeding should yield a return this year which will more than compensate for all the labor involved.

—At this time of the year the most careless observer may perceive the signs of a passion for planting and painting, for growth and improvement.

Some men never make good because they spend most of their time trying to convince themselves that luck is against them.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. McCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

A CAREFULLY PROTECTED water supply is one of the first essentials in the home, whether in the country or in the town. In the country and small villages supplies are taken almost altogether from wells. Fortunate indeed is the farmer who has a spring on his farm which will yield enough water to operate a small ram and thus supply him with water as conveniently and as plentifully as if he were in the city.

As a rule no great expense is involved in protecting a well. If the well is properly located the only danger to be anticipated is from matter dropping in from the surface. This danger cannot be too much exaggerated where the farm buildings are grouped and the well is not properly protected by fencing from the stock. Especially is this so when the privy contents are periodically thrown upon the manure pile. It is than possible for the farmer's boots or the feet of the dogs to convey this material to the top of the well. If the top is unprotected, washings from the spout can carry these organisms into the well below. Most of the diseases, microbes producing organisms they are called, can live for a considerable time, probably as long as two weeks, in water, and per-haps drinking the water during this time might very readily contract an infection. Much of the diarrhoea and typhoid fever contracted while at summer resorts is due to some manner of the fact that in sewage from the boarding house premises arrives in the vicinity of the source of water supply be-fore the germs have died, by discharge or by washings of the rain or by surface drainage.

A well safe from surface drainage.

Persons going to some of the more unprotected summer resorts are advised to discover for themselves both the source of the water supply and the method of disposing of sewage, and, where either is found to be defective, should insist that it be corrected at once, under threat of their departure in event of its not being done.

When the pump is located at the well, the top of the well should be solidly cased in and covered over with concrete, the surface being graded so as to allow the water to run off and not accumulate at the pump. It is cheaper with some of the old wells to line them with 24 inch terra cotta pipe rather than attempt to concrete the stone work. The space between the tile pipe and the old wall of the well should be filled in with sand and gravel taken from a place remote from a barnyard or where the cattle have been pasturing.

Many of the more prosperous farmers carry pipes from their wells to the basement of the house where they instal a large galvanized iron tank and a small force pump. The tank is filled from a force pump either by hand, gasoline motor pump, or by electricity, and sometimes by wind-mill. Plumbing can then be laid throughout the house and supplied with water under pressure from the tank. The pressure is derived from air which is compressed in the tanks. It is not advisable as a rule to put elevated tanks in the attic. Such a method is very little cheaper, and any leaks or accidents will entail a much greater expense than the first cost of installing the pressure tank in the basement.

If you have any doubts regarding the quality of your well water, or think that owing to its location, drainage, or seepage from the barn or barnyard is reaching the bottom of the well, you had
