Editorial Notes

The law enacted through the exigencies of war abolishing loafing should be made permanent, and the permanent adjournment of the kind of politics which has cursed this country in recent years would be one of the most beneficent by-products of the war.

The Grain Growers' Guide, published at Winnipeg, which has grown to be one of the most important publications on the continent in the farmers' interests, has just celebrated its tenth anniversary by issuing a mammoth edition of 100 pages. It abounds in interesting and timely matter and excellent illustrations. Prominence is given to various articles on the necessity of increased production and conservation at this time of national crisis. The Grain Growers' Guide is to be congratulated on attaining its 10th anniversary and on the splendid edition with which it is able to commemorate it.

The imperative necessity to reduce our consumption of wheat bread is upon every able-bodied person in Canada. In the course of nearly four years of the world war the gaunt hand of starvation has scrawled the names of more individuals on its side of the death ledger than have perished by gunpowder, gas, and steel. Four million seven hundred and fifty thousand persons have died from starvation while about 4,250,000 have been killed by fighting. Hunger gnawed at the vitals of Russia until her morale was so weakened that she collapsed. To the same cause may justly be attributed the crumpling of heroic little Roumania. Now the call has come from England, France, Italy, and Belgium that wheat must be forthcoming, or they cannot assure us that the allied armies or the morale of the sacrificing suffering millions behind the lines in those countries will be maintained. It is inconceivable that America should fail in this crisis. The various strata of our population cannot bear equally this reduction in consumption of wheat bread. To meet the needs abroad and prevent serious suffering at home it is imperative that all whose circumstances permit shall abstain from wheat and wheat products until the next harvest.

CREWSONS CORNERS

Hay cutting will commence here soon. Some of it is rather short this year, but a particularly fine field of clover was noticed on Mr. W. Lamb's farm.

The picnic of the Churchill, Siloam and Crewsons Corners Sunday Schools at Blue Spring Park was well attended. Races, football, baseball, quoits, tug-of-war and other games were participated in and much enjoyed. A war-time lunch was provided. A collection was taken up and after defraying expenses $2.65 was given to Miss E. Dennis to be handed to the Junior Red Cross, Acton.

Mrs. W. A. Murray spent several days with friends in Toronto.

Miss Edyth Dennis, of Conway & McLean's, Acton, spent a week's holiday at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dron and children, Toronto, spent the holiday at Mr. E. Chalve's. Master Harold remained for the summer vacation.

Miss Emily Young, Erin, visited at Mr. W. A. Murray's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Norman, Lenore and Donald, of Guelph, Marie, Doris and Stewart Lantz, Acton, spent the week-end at Mr. James Gamble's.

Miss Flora Crewson is spending a week with friends in Acton.

Miss Beatie Kingsbury is spending a few days with Churchill friends.

Miss Dorothy Cordiner, Acton, is visiting at Mr. T. P. Watkins'.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dennis, Guelph, visited at Mr. Walter Lamb's last week.

ERIN

A farewell gathering was tendered Rev. Melvin Smith and family last week prior to their removal to Port Rowan. An address and purse of money were presented.

Last Sunday the Rev. J. A. Jewitt preached his introductory sermons on the Erin Circuit. Very favorable impressions were formed.

Miss J. M. Rowan, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. G. Wilson, and other Erin friends returned to her home in Cleveland last week.

Mrs. J. P. Bush, who recently went to Guelph Hospital, returned home on Sunday, the operation being a success.

Dr. Reynolds, who recently purchased Dr. McCulloch's property here has moved in and commenced practice.

The cottages at Stanley Park are filling up and Erin's summer visitors are coming in.

Dr. and Mrs. McCullough left on Friday morning last. During their residence here they have made many warm friends who regret their departure.—Advocate.

The ladies of the All Saints' Church, Erin, held a garden party at Stanley Park, Erin, on Tuesday evening.

The coming Twelfth of July Celebration at Erin is expected to be one of the best ever held here and the brethren of the local Lodge are sparing no efforts to make it a big success.

The home of Mrs. George Lorne Tyndall, Oakington Avenue, Toronto, was the scene of a quiet wedding, on Wednesday evening, June 26th, when her daughter, Alice Minnie, became the bride of Mr. Lorne Wyatt Overland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Overland, Erin.

ERNEST SERMONS BY THE NEW PASTOR

Rev. I. M. Moyer, the Minister of the Methodist Church, in His Initial Discourses

Very favorable impressions were formed of Rev. I. M. Moyer, the newly-appointed minister of the Methodist Church last Sunday, as he preached his introductory sermons. His discourses were most appropriate to the commencement of new relations with a congregation. They abounded with gospel truth and earnest desire for Christian service and co-operative effort. The kindly disposition and friendly spirit of the new pastor effectively won the people and it was felt by all that the inception of a successful and God-honoring pastorate was begun under happy conditions. An earnest and faithful pastor and a united and God-fearing people will assure success.

In his opening remarks at the morning service Rev. Mr. Moyer said: In coming to you as your pastor I felt that I am honored. The Methodist Church of Acton has a name in the conference for active and united effort which many churches do not enjoy. I do not come as a stranger among you. I have known some of you for years; have preached here before, have met your young people, and I hope soon to get acquainted with you all so that I can call you by name. We have come into your midst with the earnest prayer that God's richest blessings will be upon us all, and that our united efforts shall be for the good of all and the glory of God.

The sermon at this service had for its setting Eccles. 9: 10, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, for there is no work in the grave, whither thou goest." This is a message especially applicable to the church to-day. When we think of the many who have gone out in response to the call of the empire from positions of service in the church, the Sunday School, the Young People's Society, we realize a responsibility to work with our might to accomplish the duties they left at home. Those who are not fit for service on they are should give service and sacrifice here at home. We should be willing to give our very best service. Returned men who have been through the strenuous experiences at the front wonder as they come back to us that we are still so indifferent to the things of God. What sacrifice are we making for God's cause? We think of all our Lord and Master did for us, in leaving His heavenly home; in suffering on the cross for us. What will He find us doing in return for Him when He comes again? This life to come is a life of reward. There must be, 1st, An earnest life, and faith in the service we give. 2nd, An earnest love; a love which makes self-sacrifice a joy; 3rd, A worthy object, the purity of our personal character. 4th, There must be reliance upon God. Then we shall be fitted to go forth and win those who are in sin for Jesus Christ. As God's children we should place our all upon the altar and do it now.

In the evening Mr. Moyer took his text from John 12: 21, "Sir, we would see Jesus." The little company of Greeks who made this request were much like the people of to-day; they were always asking about things that they might understand them. They had heard of Jesus, and of his great work among the people and they desired to see and know Him. Philip was a friend of Jesus, and they were sent to him. How happy for us, when it is said of one seeking Jesus, "Go to him, he is a friend of Jesus." What blessings would come in our day if more people would seek for Jesus. He is 1st, The Great Teacher. The old philosophers of that day were not of His class. There was an eloquent selfishness about their teaching. Jesus taught love and consideration for all others. 2nd, Jesus is our Redeemer. Sin has baffled all who have aimed to over come in their own strength. Jesus came as our Saviour. He made atonement for our sins. 3rd, Jesus is our Restorer. The psalmist sang: "He restoreth my soul." He is willing to restore us and give us strength for our conflicts. 4th, Jesus is our Captain. He takes the lead of the spiritual forces of the world. We go forth under his banner sure of victory, for we go in His strength. 5th, Jesus is our personal friend. "I call you not servants, but friends." There is wonderful power and comfort in sincere, sympathetic friendship. As we go upon the work and duties of the year may we all find Jesus to be our teacher, our redeemer, our restorer, our captain, our personal friend. May we walk with Him and talk with Him and live in His friendship and strength.

Mr. Moyer also gave a happy address in the Sunday School. A cordial welcome was extended to both him and Mrs. Moyer during the day.

MUCH DISCUSSION AT COUNCIL

With Very Little Definite Action Taken on any of the Matters Brought to Attention

Council met in regular session on Monday evening with all the Councillors present, Reeve occupying the chair.

The Finance Committee presented their fourteenth report and payment of the following accounts was recommended.

HYDRO ACCOUNT

The Acton Tanning Co.	$17.76
GENERAL ACCOUNT
Hydro Electric Dept., town hall	$10.00
Adam Cook, tile, streets and walks	4.50
	$14.50

Moved by W. H. Kenney, seconded by D. A. Henderson that the report be adopted.—Carried.

Tenders for filling in the culvert at Sinclair's shop were received and upon motion the tender of Robert Wallace for $21.00 for the completion of the required work was accepted.

Complaint was made about the loitering of persons in front of business places and at the corners, but no action was taken by the Council.

Moved by D. A. Henderson, seconded by Geo. Barber that the sum of $10,000 of the debenture account be deposited in the Bank of Nova Scotia, the bank to allow the usual interest on the account. The Council considered that this bank was entitled to a share of the town's business.

The Council spent considerable time in discussing various improvements in drainage and street repairs that are necessary. No definite action was taken, however.

The Fire and Light Committee decided to wait upon Beardmore & Co. regarding the placing of a tank and filling from the flume.

Notice was received from the banks that after July 1st, they cannot handle the collection of electric revenue and municipal taxes. In all probability Clerk Mackinnon will act as collector for the electric light revenue until such time as the banks are able to again look after this business.

MILITARY NEWS

Pte. Fred Williams, of the Toronto Vocational School, was here for a day or so last week.

Sergt. Hector McDonald of the Royal Air Force, visited Acton friends this week.

KIND WORDS BY CONFRERES

Congratulations Upon Completion of Forty Years in the Editorial Chair

Among the many kind references to the Free Press' fortieth anniversary we have room this week only for the following; every one of which is highly appreciated:

ORANGEVILLE BANNER

Mr. Moore has conducted the Free Press on sane and progressive lines and his paper has exerted a wide influence in the discussion of moral issues. Acton is fortunate in having such a newspaper as the Free Press and we hope Mr. Moore may be permitted to guide its destinies for at least another couple of decades.

* * *

MILTON CHAMPION

Last week the Acton Free Press completed its forty-third volume and H. P. Moore forty years as its editor. The Champion offers congratulations to Mr. Moore on his long editorial career and on his standing among the leading newspaper men of Ontario. May he long continue to hold it. This week the Free Press comes out with a complete dress of new type.

* * *

ELORA EXPRESS

Mr. H. P. Moore, of the Acton Free Press, last week completed 40 years control of that journal which has had a career of 43 years. The Free Press is recognized among the newspaper fraternity as a model country weekly. It is pleasing to note, too, that a full measure of financial success has attended Mr. Moore in his business career, and his office is one of the best in the province from the standpoint of equipment and efficiency.

* * *

MITCHELL ADVOCATE

The Free Press, like its guiding head has prospered during those forty years and is to-day among the neatest and newsiest weeklies in the province. Success has not been attained without a good deal of perseverance, and Mr. Moore has to his credit one of the best equipped offices, a magnificent residential property and a McLaughlin car—"luxuries" that few newspaper men enjoy. The Advocate wishes Mr. Moore many more years of prosperity.

* * *

RENFREW MERCURY

Observing last week that that excellent family and local newspaper, the Acton Free Press, was beginning its 43rd year, and the 40th under the personal control of the present publisher, Mr. H. P. Moore, brought to The Mercury's mind that it also had an anniversary to celebrate this week; and it was inclined to think, with all due modesty, that two good papers were practically celebrating together. With this issue The Mercury commences its 48th year.

* * *

BURLINGTON GAZETTE

Last week Mr. H. P. Moore completed forty years as editor and proprietor of the Acton Free Press, and at the same time it marks the completion of the 43rd year of that paper. The Free Press is recognized as one of the best weekly papers in Ontario, and the town is fortunate in having such a paper to serve its interests. The Gazette extends hearty congratulations to Bror. Moore on the completion of his 40 years at the helm of the Free Press, and trusts that he will be spared many more years to wield the pen and his influence in the community in which he resides.

"LANCE-CORPL." OR "SERGT." BACON

A very amusing incident was mentioned at the meeting of the Local Food Control Committee this week. A lady was said to have called in a shop for some bacon. She was shown a piece, but astonished the shop-keeper by remarking "I don't like Lance-Corporal bacon." Asked by the shopman what she meant, he lady promptly remarked that she did not like bacon with only one "stripe." Doubtless, "Sergeant" bacon was more to the lady's tastes and requirements—English Exchange.
